

CAMBRIA FREEMAN. Ebensburg, Pa. - OCT. 5, 1877.

Prohibition Reform Party Convention.

At a meeting with a resolution of the Executive Committee of the Prohibition Reform Party of Cambria county, the Prohibition Reform Party will meet at the usual place of holding their annual convention.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

There, and the Other Place. The equinox seems to have struck us. A recent frock for combining tubes, has been granted to J. B. Harkins, of the town of Blair.

The agreement of confirmation was addressed by Bishop Funge at St. Bartholomew's Church, where the services were held on Sunday last.

A child recently born in Clearfield county, was afflicted with a great-grandmother's disease, but we wouldn't like to see the child.

The epidemic which was due to the epidemic between the 20th and 25th of last month, seems to have been postponed to a later date.

No one can develop the grace of mechanics, unless he is diligent. The late Mr. J. H. Brown, writes from Lawrence county, that he has been successful in raising a fine crop of potatoes.

Even fields which had been expected to be a failure, were destroyed by a severe frost. The late Mr. J. H. Brown, writes from Lawrence county, that he has been successful in raising a fine crop of potatoes.

ACCIDENTLY SHOT. - From the Johnstown Tribune of Monday last we glean the following particulars of one of those scarcely excusable accidents which have almost ceased to excite the admiration even a local newspaper reporter.

Thomas Fitzsimmons, of Conemaugh borough, died on Friday last, after a long illness, at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Fitzsimmons, in the town of Johnstown.

When the horrible deed was done, she was in the act of preparing a cup of coffee for the doctor, who had just arrived at the residence.

The condition of the wounded man is quite critical to-day, but there are grounds for hope that he will survive.

A GOOD WORK WELL DONE. - The Mission of the late Rev. J. H. Brown, of Lawrence county, Pa., was completed on Sunday last.

DEATH OF JOHN G. MILES, ESQ. - This old and well known lawyer died at the residence of his son, in Peoria, Illinois, on yesterday.
