THIS IS THE COCK THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENSBURC, PA., Friday Morning, - - Nov. 9, 1877.

Tax result of the elections last Taesday outs de of Pennsylvania came fully op to Democratic expectations. In New York the Democratic State ticket is elected by from 15,600 to 25,000 majority, and a fair working majority secured in the Legislature, which will send a Democrat to the U. S. Senate to succed Roscoe Conkling. General McClellan's majority in New Jersey, for Governor, is about 12,000. In Massachusetts, Rice (Republican) is reelected Governor by 16,000 majority. In Wisconsin the Republicans elect their Governor by a small majority, and in Minnesota by about 10,000. In Virginia and Mississippi, Democratic Governors and other State officers were elected without State ticket was of course elected, and in , Maryland the Democrats easily carried the State, electing their candidate for Controller and securing a large majority in the Legislature.

-----WE said more than once before the election, that Nathaniel Horne's sole object when he violated his pledge to the county convention and became an independent candidate for Prothonotary, was the defeat of O'Donnell, and not because he had the least hope of his own election. The vote he received proves the trath of our assertion. His entire vote in the county is about 550 and of this only about 100 was polled for him in the northern Democratic strongholds. While the result effectually disposes of Mr. Horne as a disturber of the peace and harmony of the Democratic party, it is an instructive lesson to others not to imitate his disorganizing experiment in AND KNOCKED ALL THE WIND the future, lest they meet with the same penalty which he himself has suffered. Regular nominations, when fairly made, must be freely supported, and the imaginary Cambria's Majority for the State Ticket, grievances of disappointed aspirants for office regarded as inconsiderate triflesmere sound and fury signifying nothing. Mr. Home may console himself, if Le can, with the reflection that he has been the sole architect of his own political misfortunes. He sowed the wind and has reaped the whirlwind which he intended for Char-Jey O'Donnell.

An Extraordinary Letter from Mr. Justice Strong.

The Hon, William Strong of Pennsylvahis is one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States' He was one of the fifteen members who conwhose action Ratherford B. Hayes was declared to be elected President of the United States. Had Judge Strong, as a member of that Commission, voted the other way, Mr. Hayes would have been excluded Hayes owes his office. The Commission consisted of tifteen, of whom, leaving Judge Strong in doubt, seven were for Mr. Hayes and seven were against him. The grand result depended upon the way Judge Strong should vote. Under these circum- posed of the horses in that way. stances, and with such consequences hanging upon his vote, Judge Strong made up his mind to vote for Mr. Hayes.

It now appears, however-and it appears riving at this conclusion, Judge Strong was governed by a strictly technical rule, and that although he cast the determining vote in favor of Mr. Hayes for President, he does not believe and never did believe that Mr. Hoyes was lawfally elected to that office ! The view taken by Judge Strong was that Congress has no right to inquire into State elections for State electors ; that the Electoral Commission had Louisiana Board !

All this fully appears in a letter addressed by Mr. Justice Strong to an old personal friend of his, the Hon. Geo. W, Jones of Tennessee. This letter, being entirely upon a public question of overshadowing importruce, has been forwarded to us by Mr. Jones for publication, and we print the two letters, which are as follows in full :
