THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

Ebensburg, Pa.,

FRIDAY. - - - NOV. 9, 1877.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Here, There, and the Other Place.

—Flow your Horn(e), Gabriel, blow loud and low best; O'Donnell's the champion of Wherritt's gone West.

—Six new "Motor" engines, to be used as "helpers," were put on the Western Division of the Pa. R. R. this week.

—Rt. Rev. Bishop Tuigg will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. John's (Gallitzin) church, Johnstown, on Sunday next.

—There is some talk about boring for oil at Wilmore, but if it don't end in talk it will probably end in another artesian well in that vicinity.

—Gov. Hartranft has issued a proclamation recalling Hayes' motion to recognize Monday, Nov. 29th, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

—A queer looking worm was found the other day in a chunk of ore taken from a depth of one hundred and thirty feet deep near Bedford, Bedford county.

—Dr. Hoffman will be at Wilmore tomorrow (Saturday) and at Carrolltown on Monday of next week, Nov. 15th. Get your teeth ready for inspection.

—Rev. Samuel Blough, of Quemahoning township, Somerset county, was found dead in bed on Friday morning last. He had been in bad health for some time.

—Mr. Matthew Hauser, of Altoona, died suddenly of heart disease while at work in the Penn'a R. R. machine shop about 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning last.

—This is the way the Johnstown Tribune's Uncle Jake Zeigler, of the Blair Patch, talks: "They have had sleighing in Ebensburg, Cambria county. Ugh!"

—A Carroll township pomologist, if you know what that means, is credited by the Johnstown Tribune with having produced the best apples offered for sale in that city this season.

—A eagle measuring seven feet six inches from tip to tip of wings was shot and killed in Jefferson township, Indiana county, a few days ago, while attempting to carry off a lamb.

—Messrs P. M. & J. Brown have about completed the erection of a new saw mill at their work, in place of the one recently destroyed by fire, and expect to have it in operation in the course of a few days.

—It is reported that John Bell, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Assembly in Blair county, intends to contest the election of Hon. Elias King, Esq., his Radical opponent, whose majority is only 66.

—One of the Republican limbs of the law in Allegheny had his right of suffrage Kerrified on Tuesday last in consequence of having moved from the East to the West Ward a few days before the election.

—Doctors are to guard human life and attend to the sick. So does Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It contains nothing injurious and is always reliable. To be had at all druggists in our city. Price 25 cents.

—The River House Dirge ers on Wednesday passed a resolution postponing the payment of steward and physician until first Tuesday of January next, at which time all future appointments will be made.

—A fine new brick hotel at Emlenton, Clearfield county, of which our printer friend, A. Kittell, of this place, is the acting landlord, will be opened to the public with a grand horse-warming some day next week.

—As a prognosticator of the weather the old editor of the Johnstown Tribune is not a rival, and it is would only turn his attention to the construction of an almanac his fortune would be assured beyond a doubt.

—A heifer belonging to Constable P. P. Mills, of Chest township, was stolen from Jerry Rodkey at the Mountain House, in Washington election night, but was subsequently recovered through the interposition of John Kinkead.

—The Hollidaysburg Register, although it is a trifle late of its forty-first birthday, is feeling happy over the result of the election, but there are many more of our exchanges near the line, and that is to be congratulated at least.

—Jim Stroup, a freight brakeman on the Middle Division, Pa. R. R., was horribly and instantly killed by being struck by a train and dragged a considerable distance at Granville station, near Lewistown, on Tuesday last.

—He had not slept a wink for twenty-four nights, coughing all the time. His sister gave him a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at the nearest drug store, gave him a dose and the cough was broken at once and he slept quietly during the night.

—With a spirit of enterprise we have seldom ever seen equalled, the Herald last week announced the death of Senator Morton more than four hours before that sad event had taken place. Great indeed is the mind and Brother James is its prophet.

—And now it is Wilmore that plumes herself on the possession of the largest cabbage ever known to have been produced during the year of grace—a twenty-nine pound head grown in the garden of Mrs. Settlemyer, of that place. That ought to settle the cabbage question.

—Jno. M. Lingenfelter and Thomas Jackson, Esqs., candidates respectively of the county Democracy for Register and Recorder and District Attorney, have both been elected by respectable majorities.—Enough for several days in that radical locality.

—Hugh Thomas, of this place, while "spring" for ducks at Shinkle's dam, near Nanty Glo, on Monday last, had the good fortune to decapitate the windpipe of a large wild goose which he secured after some trouble and—well, you can imagine how he enjoyed the dish.

—We had the pleasure of a call on Friday last from J. George Ripper, Esq., editor of that able German Democratic journal, the Harrisburg Staats Zeitung, whom we found a jolly good fellow in English, and have no doubt that he is a little more so, if possible, in the vernacular. Come again, Mr. "Stovepipe."

—The latest rumor in regard to John S. Lemmons, of Blacklick township, a notice of whose shooting by accident will be found elsewhere, is that it was a rifle ball which struck him and that the frontal bone of his forehead was torn open, exposing the brain to view. His condition is said to be far from encouraging.

—The Johnstown Tribune of Tuesday last mentions at some length about a stone tomahawk recently unearthed in a plowed field in Conemaugh township, Somerset county, and brought to that office for inspection and notice, but fails to tell what effect, if any, the finding of this Indian relic is going to have on the weather.

—An elegant compromise between a late supper and an early breakfast was set up at the Mountain House for some of the expectant and exultant Democrats on the night of the election. It was a sumptuous repast, and did infinite credit to "mine host" Heist of that excellent hostelrie, who has few rivals and no superiors in the business.

—A six-year old son of W. Horace Rose, Esq., of Johnstown, fell from the haymow in his father's stable, on Saturday last, and striking on his head fractured his skull and produced concussion of the brain. A section of the skull was removed by Dr. Lowman, much to the relief of the little one, and the probabilities now are that he will recover.

—Mr. John Brown, of the well known and exceedingly enterprising firm of P. M. & J. Brown, who was recently appointed Pa. R. R. agent at Summerhill station, this county, entered upon the discharge of his duties on the 31 inst. John will make an obliging and attentive officer, and we congratulate him, big whiskers and all, on having secured the "posish."

—John Johnston, 18 years old, whose home was near Sheridan's station, immediately west of Johnstown, fell under the wheels of a freight train he was attempting to board on Wednesday morning last, while on his way to work at the C. I. Co.'s machine shop and had his left leg so shockingly crushed at the knee joint that death ensued in about two hours after.

—The Huntingdod Local News not only endorses our complimentary notice of the Johnstown Tribune, but takes occasion to speak of the FREEMAN as one of the best among the weekly papers of the State. Thanks, Brothers Lindsay and Willoughby. It may be sinful but its awful soothing to take pride in such kindly expressions from to respected a source.

—Our muse is played out and we can scarce tell in rhyme what so oft we have written time after time, and that is that for clothing attractive and neat, and at prices so low that no one can beat, the man to consult, satisfaction to find, is Godfrey Wolff, who, let all bear in mind, can be found in Altoona, next door above the P. O., where all buyers of clothing should invariably go.

—The election is o'er and glad as can be are those who have won with the ballots so free, but the joy that they feel can scarcely compare with the pleasure that's felt by those who repair to Star Clothing Hall, where none fail to find the best stock of clothing of all textures and kind, and get the fullest of value for all they invest with Murphy, the clothier, the cheapest and best. No. 109 Clinton street, Johnstown.

—Cas. Easly, the ever diligent but not always reliable weather prognosticator and local news editor of the Johnstown Tribune, and W. C. Murphey, the veteran Pittsburgh boot and shoe salesman, who seem to have made up since they fell out—of a wagon together and sustained very severe injuries a few months ago—were in town yesterday. Now look out for another Ebensburg snow storm via the Tribune local department.

—Messrs. Philip and Thomas Collins, who need no introduction in this community, have just secured the contract for building one hundred and eighty miles of narrow-guage railroad in Brazil, for which they are to receive $6,000,000, three-fourths of said amount being now in hand ready to meet their demands. We congratulate our quondam townsmen, whose enterprise is boundless, on their good luck in the land of Dom Pedro.

—Mr. Philip Beamer, of Duncansville, Blair county, who recently set out on his third matrimonial voyage at the age of 70, with Mrs. Lucas, of East Conemaugh, this county, aged 67, as chief mate, is said to have realized $400 from sale of the effects of wife No. 1, $400 from those of wife No. 2, and $3,000 by the recent death of one of his grown up sons. He evidently finds marriage and giving in marriage a profitable business—hence, perhaps, his last venture.

—A young man named Frank Hudson was brought to jail here on Friday from Lilly's station, charged with throwing stones through one of the windows of Mrs. Hoelle's hotel, in that place, but was released on bail on Monday last, when he made information before Esq. Kinkead, of this place, charging John H. Kennedy, Wm. McGonigle and another party with assault and battery. A warrant for their arrest was issued, but since then nothing has been heard of the matter.

—Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, seems to be a fair field for incendiaries to operate in without fear of detection, for in addition to the several barns and other buildings already noticed by us as having been burned to the ground over there, we now see it stated that the residence of Mr. Richard Bennett, in that township, was destroyed by an incendiary fire on Saturday night last, during the absence of the family, and we presume that all the household goods shared the same fate.

—A young man whose name we need not mention, the charge against him not having been sustained, was arrested on Friday last at the instigation of Mr. John Coogan, of Clearfield township, who had reason to suspect that he was the party who set fire to his (Coogan's) barn, which was burned to the ground with all its contents on the morning of Sept. 29th, but after a hearing before Esq. Hads, of Chest Springs, the accused was discharged, the evidence against him being deemed insufficient to hold him for trial.

—Among the books kept by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is one which is known as "The Accident Book." This volume contains a record of every person killed or injured on the road, whether employes or otherwise, embracing the nature of the casuality, whether fatal or trifling, even to the crushing of a finger. Reference to the index gives the place of accident, the name of the person injured, the nature of the injury, &c., and the page in the general record book containing all the details. The book runs back to 1879, and is complete in every particular.

—Wm. Metzler or Meintel, of Berkscounty, while on his way on foot to Altoona in search of work, was struck on Thursday morning last, knocked down and dragged a considerable distance by engine No. 237, near the east end of the Gallitzin tunnel, after which his foot caught in a frog and his left leg was torn almost from the socket, sixteen cars finally passing over him and mangling him in a horrible manner. Notwithstanding all this he did not die until two o'clock in the afternoon. His remains were taken to the Blair county poor-house cemetery for interment.

—Lawrence Platt, a young man who was arrested about three months ago on suspicion of having stolen some money and various notes and other valuable papers from Mr. Harry Mellon, of Chest Springs, a notice of which appeared in our columns at the time, but who was released for want of evidence, was rearrested on Saturday last and taken before Esq. Hads, of Chest Springs, when and where proof positive, it is said, was produced to connect him with the crime, and he was thereupon held in $800 bail for his appearance at the coming term of Court to answer the charge preferred against him.

—The young man Platt, whose arrest for stealing money and valuable papers from Harry Mellon, of Chest Springs, is referred to in another item, has got himself into more trouble, the charge this time upon which he was taken into custody on a warrant issued by H. Kinkead, Esq., of this place, being the entering of the store of Cooper & Mellon, of Chest Springs, by means of a false key made by taking a impression of the lock in wax, on the 9th or 10th of June last, and purbonging therefrom some thirty dollars in money. After a hearing before Esq. Hads, of Chest Springs, the accused was released on $400 bail.

—By an oversight we failed last week to notice the death, at the age of 73 years, of our good old friend and patron, Mr. Timothy Cauley, which occurred in Altoona, on Wednesday, Oct. 24th. The deceased was born in county Sligo, Ireland, and came to this country about the year 1833, since when he has resided for the most part in Blair, then Huntingdon, county, though a goodly portion of his life was spent in this county. He was a large, hearty man, strictly honest and faithful to God and man, and having died the death of the just it is sincerely to be hoped that he has received the reward of the righteous. His remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery at St. Augustine this county, on the Friday following his death. May he rest in peace.

—Edward H. Fisher, of Huntingdon, the young scapegrace who on Saturday night week made two ineffectual attempts to commit suicide at a house of ill fame in Harrisburg, was discharged from the hospital in that city on Monday last, only a short time before an officer from Perry county appeared at that institution to arrest him on the charge of forgery. Hearing that a minion of the law was on his track, young Fisher walked into the Mayor's office the same evening and inquired upon what charge he was wanted by the authorities of Perry county, and on learning the nature of the offense imputed to him he surrendered without further ceremony, declaring at the same time that he would have no difficulty in establishing his innocence.

WHEN our friends are in quest of goods cheapest and best, let not one of them rest until their cash they invest and with bargains are blessed, at Myers & Lloyd's great mercantile mart, where they will find nearly everything needful for household and personal use at prices which no other merchant can excel and few compete with for cheapness. For Poor Director, Jacob Kirkpatrick, Dem., received 2,593 votes; Glass, Rep., 1,387; Little, Labor Reformer, 1,055; Baker, Prohibitionist, 136. Kirkpatrick over Glass, 1,469. For Coroner—Moreland, D., 2,779; Strayer, R., 1,995; Heple, L. R., 1,069; Jones, P., 165. Moreland over Strayer, 1,584. (Official table next week.)

WHEN Col. McDermitt, the Republican candidate for Prothonotary, has read and digested the official returns of the election in this county, he will have an undisputed right to exclaim, "Save me from my Republican friends." To confer upon a man a regular nomination for a high county office and then deliberately slaughter him at the ballot-box, is so superlatively mean and contemptible that there can be no excuse or palliation for it. To be sure, it is not our funeral, but nevertheless Col. McDermitt has our most profound sympathy.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An Article that Will Make the Bald and the Gray Headed Rejoice.

Of all the compounds which the chemist's art have given to the world, for hundreds of years, for the purpose of restoring the hair to its natural growth and color, not one has been perfect. Many of the hair dressings of the day are excellent, but the great mass of the stuffs sold for promoting the growth and bringing back the original color, are mere humbugs, while not a few are positively pernicious in their effects upon the scalp and the structure of the hair. All hair dyes are well known to chemists as more or less poisonous, because the change in color is artificial, and does not depend upon a restoration of the functions of the scalp to their natural health and vigor. The falling out of the hair, the accumulations of dandruff, and the premature change in color, are all evidences of a diseased condition of the scalp and the glands which nourish the hair. To arrest these causes the article used must possess medical as well as chemical virtues, and the change must begin under the scalp to be of permanent and lasting benefit. Such an article has been discovered, and like many other wonderful discoveries it is found to consist of elements almost in their natural state. Petroleum oil is the article which is made to work such extraordinary results; but it is after the best refined article has been chemically treated, and completely deodorized, that it is in proper condition for the toilet. It was in far-off Russia that the effects of petroleum upon the hair were first observed; a Government officer having noticed that a partially bald-headed servant of his, when trimming the lamps, had a habit of wiping his oil-besmeared hands in his scanty locks, and the result was, in a few months, a much finer head of black, glossy hair, than he ever had before. The oil was tried on horses and cattle that had lost their hair from the cattle plague, and the results were as rapid as they were marvelous. The manes and even the tails of horses, which had fallen out, were completely restored in a few weeks. These experiments were heralded to the world, but the knowledge was practically useless to the prematurely bald and gray, as no one in the civilized society could tolerate the use of refined petroleum as a dressing for the hair. But the skill of one of our chemists has overcome the difficulty, and by a process known only to himself he has, after very elaborate and costly experiments, succeeded in deodorizing refined petroleum, which renders it susceptible of being handled as daintily as the famous eau de cologne. The experiments with the deodorized liquid, on the human hair, were attended with the most astonishing results. A few applications, where the hair was thin and falling, gave remarkable tone and vigor to the scalp and the hair, and the natural color began to appear almost from the first application. Every particle of dandruff disappears on the first or second dressing, and the liquid, so searching in its nature, seems to penetrate to the roots at once and set up a radical change from the start. It is well known that the most beautiful colors are made from petroleum, and by some mysterious operation of nature the use of this article gradually imparts a beautiful light brown color to the hair which, by continued use, deepens to a black. The color remains permanent for an indefinite length of time, and the change is so gradual that the most intimate friends can scarcely detect its progress. In a word, it is the most wonderful discovery of the age, and fuel calculated to make the prematurely bald and gray rejoice. The name Carboline has been given to the article, and is put up in a neat and attractive manner and sold by all dealers in Drugs and Medicines. Price One Dollar a bottle.

We advise our readers to give it a trial, feeling satisfied that one application will convince them of its wonderful effects.

"A GREAT NEWSPAPER in every sense of the phrase" is the judgment of journalists and the people upon the Philadelphia WEEKLY TIMES. Not yet a year old, this weekly paper has achieved a success in circulation as well as in influence that is without a parallel. It embraces eight pages or fifty-six columns full to overflowing with readable matter gleaned from every part of the wide fields of Politics, Literature, Science and Art. The editorial page abounds in crisp comments on the news of the day, embodying careful and independent judgment fearlessly expressed. The departments relating to Home and Society and the Farm and Garden make it welcome at every fireside, and offer from week to week temptations that are irresistable to the scissors of an editor. Fiction, poetry and tales of travel and adventure find a place in every number. But the great distinctive feature of the Philadelphia WEEKLY TIMES is its current series of chapters on the UNWRITTEN HISTORY OF THE WAR. Every one of these is from the pen of a prominent actor in the late conflict between the States, and describes some phases of the war that came within his own personal observation. No newspaper ever before presented such an array of contributors as appear in this department. Among them are such men as Hon. Carl Schurz, Hon. A. G. Curtin, General Joseph E. Johnston, General Joseph Hooker, General James Longstreet, Hon. John W. Forney, General G. T. Beauregard, General William B. Franklin, Hon. John H. Reagan, Hon. Simon Cameron, General Richard Taylor, General John C. Fremont, and such women as Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, Mrs. E. E. Briggs ("Olivia"), and Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont. The prospectus of the WEEKLY TIMES appears in another column. At this season when people are selecting their newspapers for the next year, no one should fail to send for and examine a specimen copy of this truly remarkable journal.

SHOT IN THE FOREHEAD.—A Narrow Escape from Death.—A young man named J. Sidman Lomerank came near putting an end to his earthly career while out hunting not far from his home in Blacklick township on last Tuesday afternoon, the facts of the case as as we have learned them being that he was in the act of stepping from or setting his gun, butt downward, on a log, when the weapon slipped and the trigger struck against the side of the log with such force as to cause an explosion, the result of which was that the full charge of shot took effect on Mr. L.'s forehead, immediately over the left eye, not only cutting open the flesh clear to the bone, and possibly fracturing the skull but burning and otherwise injuring both of his eyes to such an extent that it is feared his sight has been totally destroyed. The hat upon his head was also completely riddled, though of course this is a matter of little moment and is only mentioned to show the full extent of the damage done. The escape of Mr. L. from instant death was almost miraculous, but if his injuries are so serious as reported and total blindness ensues, which we sincerely hope will not be the case, the life that has been spared him will be little short of a burden for all time to come.

E. K. THOMPSON, Druggist and Chemist —Dear Sir: It is over nine years since I was taken sick with inflammation of the kidneys, and was so lame at times I could not help myself. I was finally persuaded to try the Barosma. Last January my husband bought the first bottle and I continued taking it until the third bottle was used, and I feel now that I am cured of great distress and pain; also of palpitation of the heart, and I wish others to know the value contained in the medicine called Barosma, or Buchu Backache, Liver and Kidney Cure, prepared by E. K. Thompson, Titusville, Pa. Price $1 per bottle, six for $5.

CARBOLINE Sold everywhere.	CARBOLINE Price, one dollar.

CARBOLINE is prepared from the oil as it flows from Nature's great chemical laboratory, by a peculiar process invented by a practical chemist, who was led to experiment upon Petroleum as a hair restorative by reading an interesting account written by Mr. Geo. Horton, resident of the frontier town of Kiachta in Russia. Mr. Horton had tried with extraordinary success the use of Petroleum upon cattle and horses that had lost their hair on being affected with the cattle plague. The idea was suggested to him through a very curious circumstance, namely, he recollected that a former servant at the hotel, prematurely bald, had a singular habit when trimming the lamps, of wiping his petroleum-besmeared hands upon the scanty locks still remaining to him. Three months from his first appearance at the hotel he was the subject of general remark, his head being covered with an abundance of FINE GLOSSY BLACK HAIR. Such a wonderful change in so short a time Mr. Horton deemed of sufficient importance to make public to the world. From practical experiments our chemical friend became convinced that Petroleum if properly prepared and freed from all irritating and illuminating substances had the remarkable property of restoring the hair to its natural state and color; still further experiments were necessary to produce an article combining the medicinal qualities of the oil in an agreeable form and oder, which renders it susceptible of being handled as daintily as the famous Eau de Cologne; he now presents to the public without fear of contradiction as the best restorative and beautifier of the hair the world has ever produced.

BALD HEADS—BALD HEADS—BALD HEADS—BALD HEADS—BALD HEADS

Letter from California.

TURLOCK, Stanislaus Co., Cal., October 31, 1877.

DEAR FREEMAN—As this is Hallow E'en night and as my hand is now better, I write you my experience. We have no cabbage here to pull so we will have to try something else. The weather is cold and dry, and it is now eighteen months since we had any rain worth recording. People have dry-sowed a great deal of wheat. There was no rain last winter to start down the ground, consequently it is like summer
