- The Christmas holidays are rapidly approaching and as yet old Santa Claus has made no arrangement for supplying the wants of the little folks hereabouts. At least we judge so from the fact that no one has announced himself through the local papers as agent in this community for the immortal gift-giver. -Joe Weisser will have a shooting-match for turkeys and chickens to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, and on Thanksgiving day another shooting-match for a $65 watch and chain, which will be put up for $40, and also for a lot of turkeys and chickens, will be held under the same suspices, provided, in both cases, that the weather permits. -The cellar apartment at the residence of Messrs. McLaughlin, on High street, was entered on Friday night last, through the back door, which had been inadvertently left open, and a half quarter of beef, several pounds of butter, and a lot of apples, cabbage, etc., carried away. So far as we are aware there is no clue to the thieves or the stolen property.

-The Supreme Court at Pittsburgh on Monday last affirmed the decision of the ago. Court of Common Pleas of this county in the case of the Cambria Iron Co. vs. Francis Christy, deceased-an action in ejectment for two hundred acres of land in Gallitzin township. Messrs Johnston & Scanlat, of this place, and Samuel Calvin, Esq., of Bollidaysburg, were counsel for the successful parties. -- Mrs. R. E. Jones has got home at last, and has brought with her from the city the handsomest, cheapest and most varied assortmeat of hats, flowers, feathers and notions generally that have ever been offered for sale here. All the ladies are respectfully invited to call at their earliest convenience, not forgetting meantime that Mrs. Jones has adopted and will strictly adhere to the cash system. -- A builet or some similar missile thrown from a gum sling crashed through a pane of glass at the residence of Wm. Kittell, Esq., on Wednesday evening last, breaking a hole about the size and shape of a silver quarter and passing in rather uncomfortable prox-imity to the head of Mrs. Kittell. The youthful Goliahs of the present day had better be more careful or some of them will get into trouble.

-A lot of goods stolen from the Pa. R. R. Co. and a couple of shoe shops in Alteona by parties whose arrest is noticed elsewhere. have been found secreted in the shoemaker shop of G. W. Bonsam and at the residences of John Wolf and Mrs. John Fultz, in that city. All the parties thus far arrested, among whom is a female named Mollie Grenada, have been taken to the Hollidaysburg jail for safe keeping. -Mr. John Swegler, one of the oldest and most upright citizens of Johnstown, died on Sunday morning last, aged about 84 years. The deceased was born in Stuttgart, Germany, and eame to this country when not more than twelve years old, the greater part of his life since then having been spent in Johnstown. He was a consistent member a firm bellever in that faith. -Geo, W Bonsum, one of the charged with complicity in the recent plundering of Pa. R. R. cars, and a divorced woman named Mrs. Embick, nee Clara Hock-enberry, were married in the Altoona lock up on Monday evening last, and passed the first night of their wedded life together in one of the cells of that iostitution. Cell-ibacy, we imagine, would be much preferable to such a cell-obration of the marriage tie. -R. B. Brown, E-q., having made his pile in the printing and eil business, has sold the Ciarion Democrat, which he has conducted for fourteen years, to G. F. Krebs, E-q., a legal gentleman of that place, and will henceforth turn his attention to the hoarding of wealth at a more sure and speedy pace. He has our best wishes, as has also his successor in the proprietorship of that staunch and efficient Democratic ioarnal. -Mr. J. H. Norton, saperintendent of the Caldwell Map Publishing Co., paid us a visit the other day on business intent, as will be seen by notice elsewhere of the design of said Company. We found Mr. Norton an affable, intelligent and courteous gentleman. and are sure that he made a good impression, which cannot but redound to the advantage of the enterprise he represents, upon all with whom he held business or social intercourse during his brief stay in our midst. -A Prospect borough lad named Gallagh-er attempted to get on a moving freight train near the Johnstown depot, on Friday even-ing last, but losing his hold he fell in such a way as to bring his right leg in contact with one of the wheels, which cut an ugly gash in the calf and crushed his heet to a jelly The injured lad was taken home and a physician summoned, who proposed amputation, but his parents objected, and at latest ac-counts it was thought that the limb could be saved. -A box of tobacco which had been stolen from a car at the Pa. R. R. depot, Hollidaya-burg, was recovered by night-watchman Houck about one o'clock on Monday moruing last, the two men who had stolen it, and who are citizens of that place, having suddenly discovered upon the approach of Mr. Houck that they had such urgent business elsewhere that they couldn't afford to lose time in lugging the stolen property with them. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the suspected parties. -An opposition clothing house in Altoons has a great deal to say about doing the leading business in Blair county, but as long as Godfrey Wolff continues to take a hand at that game all his rivals there or elsewhere may as well make up their minds to ocenpy a back seat. Wolff has not only loads in the quantity, quality, style and finish of his made up clothing, but he permits no man to undersell him in price or excel him in conrtesy to his customers. Store on Twelfth street, next door to the post-office, Altoona. -Mr. John Lloyd, of the enterprising mercantile firm of Myers & Lloyd, of this ghenies. place, returned yesterday from the east, where he had been purchasing a large lot of dry goods, dress goods, clothing, notions, etc., and in the course of a day or two there will be on exhibition at that cheap cash store one of the largest and finest display of merchandise, seasonable as to quality and reasonable as to price, that has ever been offered for sale in northern Cambria. Look out for an immense stock at lower prices

A ROMANCE OF THE WAR.--The Altoona Globe of Friday last furnished the following particulars of a romance in real life which it declares to be true in every particular : Declares to be true in every particular : and during all that time, we venture to say, he has never failed to supply his customers with honest goods at honest prices—a principle upon which he still continues to act, as any one can learn to his profit and pleas, nee by buying goods at Star Ciothing Hall.
Give him a call and invest in a winter suit. —A princly parlor car costing about $14,-000 has just been turned out of the passenger car shop in Altoona.
—We see it stated that Martin V. Turner, who was tried some time ago in Clearfield and convicted of murder in the first degree, a Mrs. Waples, his alleged paramour, being the victim, will be able to establish an alibi, or absence from the place at the stime a converted from the stime a converted from the alay. nre by buying goods at Star Ciothing Hall. before the Board of Pardons at its next ses-sion. An alibi, or absence from the place at the time a crime was committed, may of course be proven in any criminal case, but having read most of the evidence adduced on Turner's trial, we doubt his ability to do so. Life is sacred, however, and he is entitled to show his innocence if he can. —Samuel A. Wilt, of Shade township, Somerset county, is credited by the Somerset Herald with having resurrected a large earthen vessel containing $2,700 in gold and silver coin, principally Mexican doilars, while engaged one day last week in sinking a post hole. The coing are all old ones, the most modern one of the lot bearing date 1751. How they came to be buried where found is sylvania, but at what point no one seemed to know. She, however, started to hunt him up, and about a month sgo passed through this city, and discovered him at the depot in Huntingdon engaged in conversation with some gentlemen. She recognized him immediately, although years had fied since she had seen him, and mo-tioned for him to come to the car window, but be not noticing her she determined to alight, but in the act of so doing the train pulled out. She immediately wrote to him from Philadelshe immediately wrote to him from Finiadei-phia, where she stopped, and a correspondence was kept up, which resulted in a marriage en-gagement. They will be married in Hunting-don in a couple of weeks, after which they will move to their Southern home. Mr. Snyder si aged 60 years and the lady 35.

on the Revival of Romanism" is the suggestive text of the opening article in the December number of the Catholic World. What the English historian has to say about the, to him, much-dreaded revival of Catholicity and what the Catholic World has to say on the other side, forms an article that could hardly fail to be lively, interesting, and timely. The examination of the doings and sayings of the recent Protestant Episcopal Convention and Congress makes another lively paper. "The German Element in the United States" is an article containing many valuable reflections and suggestions. The paper on recent "Polemics and Irenics in Scholastic Philosophy" will prove of especial value to the more advanced students and readers of the graver kind of literature. It is a grand exposition of free Catholic thought will well repay a perusal by any and Boys' serious-minded man. Quite in contrast to this, is the pleasant article on "Religion on the East Coast of Africa," wherein the writer gives some curions personal reminiscences in a brisk, off-hand style that is very enter-Horse taining. The short article on the "Irish Hedge-Poets" is very gracefully written and to many will open up quite a lost brauch of literature. The few remarks on the recent 'Fortifications of Rome," which look to a contemplated war between Germany and Italy on France, have been confirmed by recent disclosures in the European press .-"Among the Translators" is the second of the graceful articles that take up the English renderings of Virgil and Horace; the present one being devoted chiefly to the Horatians. The two charming stories, "The Little Chapel at Monamullin" and "A Sweet Re-

His escape from a worse fate is certainly to be wondered at, but his close proximity to the log is of course what saved him. Had he been some distance away and within striking range his ife would probably have paid the penalty. -A young man, aged about 19 years, whose name we failed to learn, but who resides at Baker's coal works, in Logan township, Blair county, a short distance beyond the Cambria line, while under the influence of liquor, on Saturday last, drew a revolver and intimated his intention to put an end to his existence, and in fact was in the very act of committing the deed when some of the bystanders interfered to prevent him. A scuffle to gain as well as retain the weapon followed as a matter of course, and during its progress the pistol was discharged, the ball passing in such close proximity to the would be suicide that it cut its way through his clothing, entering in front and passing out behind, slightly grazing and somewhat lacerating his left side in the passage, but fortunately doing no further damage. Price, $1.00. class sensation in that region will probably come to pass in due course of time. -The total Prohibition vote in this State at the late election did not quite reach 3,000 -less than two-thirds of the number polled in 1874. Our townsman, Hon. A. A. Barker candidate for Auditor General on said ticket, received 2,997 votes--one more than Bentley received for Supreme Judge and 170 more than were cast for Cornett for State Treasurer. In Cambria county Mr. Barker received two hundred more votes than either of the other two candidates. This was certain-ly complimentary to Mr. B., and shows that although he is no longer the leader of the Republican party in this portion of the county, he still retains his former personal popularity. Whenever he was a caudidate for Congress he always succeeded in getting some Democratic votes in strong northern districts, which no other Republican would have received. It was simply the payment of a debt of gratitude which northern Cam-bria owes to Mr. Barker's enterprise and many other excellent traits of character as a hard-working, honest man, who has proba-bly done more to develop the latent wealth of this region than any other man who has ever pitched his tent on top of the Alle--Wm. Cushman, an insane passenger on the Fast Line West, leaped from the train case, and we consider it the duty of all near Carney's station, about forty miles this Druggists to recommend it to the peor dying side of Pittsburg, on Sunday night last, while the cars were going at the rate of forty miles an hour, and not only escaped with his life, but received only a few slight bruises. The train was stopped as soon as pos-sible and backed for a distance of nearly a mile, but no trace of the missing man could be discovered, and it was not known what had become of him until he made his appearance soon after at the signal tower near the station, from whence he drove the operator by producing a revolver and threatening to shoot him. The latter then notified the sub-division foreman, who ordered out his force and attempted to capture the insane man. but as he avowed his intention to shoot the first man who entered, they wisely concluded to let him hold the fort, which he did until nearly daylight, when he set fire did until nearly dayignt, when he set he to the structure and jumped from one of the windows, a distance of fully twelve feet, when he was captured, disarmed and se-cured with a rope, in which condition he was taken to Greensburg and lodged in jail to await the arrival of his friends from New York, who were promptly notified. The unfortunate man was well dressed and had a ticket from Boston to Ciucinnati. ----

TITUSVILLE, PA., May 15, 1874 -E. K. THOMPSON :-- It is now ten years since ! was taken with the grave! At one time I was forty-eight hours without passing urine. I got along very well by using the catheter till jast October when I had a fall which af fected my kidney and liver very much, causing me to pass blood and ucine with much pain. The sediment was like brick dust. The Saturday after Christmas my heart began to palpitate so hard it would shake my whole body, and I thought I was going to die. I bought a bottle of E. K. Thompson's Barosma, or Buchu Backache, ward, of the former place. Liver and Kidney Cure. The first bottle quieted my heart beating, and I began to pass brick dust and corrupted matter very freely, and by the time I had used three bottles the pain and scalding had left my back, side and abdomen, and now I am compara-tively well, and think I owe my life to the Barosma, or Buchn Backashe, Liver and Kidney Cure. My Postoffice address is Titusville, Pa., Spring Creek road, near the Newton Gas Well. SILAS C. WHITFORD.
