Hon. John H. Balley, who was elected a Judge of the Courts of Allegheny county at the November election, was sworn into office on Monday last. Langbein for the office of Register and Recorder, to which he aspires. Mr. L. is an energetic, high-minded civizen of northern Cambria, a sound Democrat, a good peuman, and an intelligent, worthy gentleman, and if called upon to serve he will not be found wanting in any particular.

-This region was favored with a fall of eight or ten inches of snow a few days ago, but as it was of a dry, harsh character, it did not serve very well for sleighing purposes. Wednesday, however, brought a cold rain, which still prevails as we write on Thursday forenoon, and is freezing as fast as it falis, thus rendering the roads admirable for sleighing purposes. P. S. The rain has quit freezing and the snow is rapidly disappear-

-We do this week what we should have done last week, award the meed of praise to Harry Slep, Esq., of the Altoona Mirror, for a good act well done in furnishing a bountiful New Year's dinner for the fourth time in the history of that journal to the carrier boys connected with that establishment. -In answer to several inquiries, we would say that all who pay for the FRREMAN until January 20th, 1879, at the rate of $1.75 per year in the county, or $1.90 oatside of the county, will be furnished with the premium book, which will be ready for delivery in the early part of Pebruary. Parties who have paid for a portion of the coming volume, which begins two weeks hence, will therefore understand that it is necessary to pay in full to the above date before they can re-

ocive the "Home Guide."
-The Johnstown Democrat of last week mentioned the name of our old and esteemed fellow-citizen, John Fenlon, Esq., in connection with the Democratic nominations for Assembly in this county. We have no hesitation in saying that if Mr. Fenlon, who had considerable experience in his younger days in the halls of legislation is chosen as one of the two members of the Legislature from "Little Cambria," he will be found as true, faithful and efficient as any one who has been there since he himself quitted the portals of the State capitol in the year 1849. -Maggie Farrell, a twelve-year-old niece of Rev. John Boyle, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name in this place, died of inflammatory rheumatism at the home of her parents in Pittsburgh, on last Saturday afternoon. The deceased, who spent several months in our town year before last, will be remembered by many of our people as a modest, sweet-faced little girl, who was a universal favorite among her young asso-ciates, to whom, as well as to all who knew her only to appreciate her winning ways, she was greatly endeared. The singing of Miss Moille Davis, the comic song Doc. Thompson, and the music by the band were received with special marks of

The fire was in all probability either the work of an incendiary or caused by the carelessness of some one or more of the tramping fraternity who may have taken lodging for the night in the building. We did not learn the extent of the loss, if indeed it has been estimated, but understand there is an insurance of $450

-Constable Wherley of this place succeeded on Wednesday last, after the employment of a good deal of strategy in arresting a young and powerfully-built man named Wm. McCall, who is charged with committing anndry depredations in the railroad ticket office at Portage station, prominet among which was an assault and battery on the person of the agent at that place. The alleged offences were perpetrated several months ago, and although several efforts were made since then to arrest the guilty party, he managed to elude the vigilance of the officers until our rather diminutive Wherley succeeded by dim of perseverence and a vast amount of ingenuity in laving his hands upon him. The prisoner was brought menced on the first of April and completed, it is expected, during the coming summer. The company is under the control of capitalists in the oil region who are engaged in the production of that article, and is styled. "The Producers' Union." The pipe will be 414 inches in diameter, and will be iaid 214 feet under the surface of the ground. It will have a daily capacity of six thousand barrels, and will be operated during both day and night. The line will be 230 miles long, 40 miles of which will be located in Maryland. It will cross the Carrolltown road about four miles north of this place, and will pass between Chest Springs and St. Augustine.

-The same series of events which have just culminated in the induction of Mr. C. F. O'Donnell into the Prothonotary's office have of course made it imperative upon Mr. Bernard McColgan to retire from that position; and in noting this fact we deem it due to the latter gentleman to say that his entire official career was marked with strict and faithful attention to business and by the most courteous and gentlemanly intercourse with all who had business relations with him. He has our best wishes for his future health and prosperity, and ever gratefully shall we remember that he was not only one of the most prompt-paying officials for whom we did work of any kind, but that he at all times acted on the principle that the Democratic papers of the county were justly and by right of service to the party entitled to the patronage of his office. -A dwelling house on a farm in Barr township owned by Mr. Thomas Griffith, of this place, and just vacated by the family of Mr. Geo. E. Kruge, who had removed to a new house on the same place, but had as vet taken nothing away but stoves, bedding, and a few other articles, caught fire in some mysterious way about 3 o'clock on Friday morning last and was totally destroyed, to-gether with about 80 bushels of corn in the ear, 30 bushels of rye, 8 bushels of wheat, 10 bushels of buckwheat and 10 bushels of barley, besides three sets of good harness and a lot of household furniture, etc. How the fire originated is unknown, although the presumption is that a defective flue had something to do with it. There had been fire in the house the day previous, but care was taken to extinguish every ember before leav-ing the premises. We did not learn the extent of Mr. Kruge's loss, but as he is he is a poor man it is heavy enough to be felt very seriously by him, though his energy and industry will no doubt enable him to overcome the misfortune before a great while.

... AN OUTRAGE THAT IS NOT TO GO UN-PUNISHED. - One of the best citizens of our own-a gentleman who stands high in the communty and has the respect and esteem of all who know him-has just cause for complaint at the insults and indignities heaped upon the members of his very excelent family and their gentleman escort while panied them, will find themselves called to account before long in a way they least expected, but well deserve. The aggrieved gentleman has fully made up his mind to teach the beardless ruffians a lesson that they will not soon forget, and in so doing he will receive the thanks and encouragement of a community that has long been disgraced by the infamous conduct of a certain class of young men unfortunately too well known in our town. He has already obtained the names of several parties implicated in the outrage complained of, and as soon as he completes the list, which he anticipates no trouble in doing, he proposes to make an example of them that cannot fail to strike terror into their hearts and prove to their sorrow that they cannot longer insult respectable people on the public streets or elsewhere with brazen affrontery and without any fear as to the consequence. In this, as we have said, the gentleman in question well deserves said, the gentleman in question well deserves and will receive the approval of every right-minded person in the community, and the punishment he proposes is not only well-merited, but of a character which is abundantly calculated to crush out this great and

A SKILLPUL PHYSICIAN. - Dr. George H. ful practice for such a long series of years, that it is scarcely necessary to mention the location of his office. For the benefit of the few who may not be familiar with it, however, it may be stated that it is at No. 240 Penn avenue. The doctor, in his special lines of practice, may be said to be almost without a peer in this country. A lengthy experience and years of study have made him most thoroughly familiar with pulmontrusses and appliances of that character. Dr. Keyser is one of the best educated men in this locality-particularly so in his pro-fession and in the particular branches of it to which we have referred. ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.-From the Johnstown Tribune of Tuesday last we clip the following:

The facts in a forgery case in which John W. Westbrook, of Souman, is the principal, have been in our possession for some time past, but at the earnest request of a relative of the indi-vidual we have retrained from making note of the same. As the young man has been arrested, nowever, the uffair becomes public property. It seems that in November last John drew a concert at the Court House on Friday evening last, and the young blackguards who bandied his name from mouth to mouth, for the purpose of creating a laugh at the expense of one of his most accomplished daughters and the gentleman who accom-panied them, will find themselves called to the time sufficient funds of N. A NEW VERSION OF AN OLD STORY .-Ben Franklin gave the people of his day a recipe for obtaining health, wealth, and wisdom. The present generation is not sup-posed to be in want of wisdom, and would prefer happiness combined with health and wealth. We cordially recommend our readers to the careful consideration of their advice.

PICKWICK, Jan. 4, 1878,

PICKWICE, Jan. 4, 1878,

RDITOR FREENAN—To those who have visited the counties comprising what is known as the "oil beit" in years gone by, when the soic hope and expectation of that region was lumber, the changes effected since the discovery of oil seem like the work of magic. A barren, unproductive rigion, the labor of the tiller of the soil was but filly repaid, as is evinced by the character of the old farm houses still standing, while the few barns yet remaining bear not the faintest resemblance to the structures in this and the eastern parts of the State. Of course, in a very great many justances, the old this and the eastern parts of the State. Of course, in a very great many justances, the old houses have been replaced by new and more pretentious structures, but they seem to have an uncomfortable look, as though the anyles had not yet worn smooth, or as if they had not been built to fit the families occupying them. However, the houses in the "oil towns," and they were all alike as nearly as I could judge, are not by any means intended for fixtures, but are put up in the cheapest and most expeditious manner possible, helps morely views. tious manner possible, being merely plank frames, with the inside walls papered and the cellings formed with brendths of muslin tacked together. Here and there, indeed, an occasional building puts on style on the strength of be-ing plastered, but such are the exceptions, not the rule. Composed of such imflammable material, it is small wonder indeed that a conflagration sweeps everything before it. A fire occurred in one of these "shingic palaces" recently, by which two children were burned to death, although the mother of the little unforthan five minutes. The country through the oil belt is detred with huge derricks, seventy-five or eighty feet in heighth, scarcely a stone's throw from each other; and as each derrick represents about $4,000, some idea of the amount of capital invested may be obtained. Then, too, whenever a "big strike" is made, the flood of eager, struggling humanity surges that way, and towns rise in almost a night—and in some instances as an idly disappear.

The land not being under cultivation, no fences are to be seen, and roads cross and recross with the most charming disregard of each other; while the steam pipes, by means of which two or three wells are pumped by the same engine, and the oil pipes, which discharge the oil from each well into a common reservoir, run over the surface in every direction. The coude oil is first pumped into the tank connected with the well, and then gauged by an efficial, who gives the owners certificate for the amount of oil. It is then, by means of these connecting places, carried into the common reservoir. ing pipes, carried into the common reservoir, whence it is distributed to the different refineries at Oil City and down the Valley road, as far as Pittsburg.

One peculiarity of the men who most do congregate here, is that they talk nothing but oil, in some one of its various phases. Passing along the streets, you hear nothing but "first, second or third sand," "wild cat." "oil helt," or some other of the phrases which to us are unsome other of the phrases which to us are intelligible, but perfectly understood by those intelligible, but perfectly understood by those intelligible, but perfectly understood by those who "live, move and have their being" in oil. Politics doesn't seem to trouble the souls of the men here in the least.

The streets in some of these towns are paved, or planked rather, but within the crossing of the streets at any but the recognized crossings is a matter of uncertainty. I saw a gentleman only a few days ago, gaze longingly at theother side of the street, then at the sea of mud between, and then at his nicely polished boots— and then he sighed. A little street Arab, who evidently understood the situation, and pitted him, sung out "Mithter, there a crothing down there; you'd better go down." And he went, The mud was deep, but I don't believe it was a thousand foot thousand feet.

The narrow gauge railroad connecting the town of Clarion with the Allegheny Valley Road was recently completed, and, on Mondey, the 24th nit, was formally opened. Invited guests, to the number of several hundred, dined at Ciarion, and finished the day with a supper and dance at Emlenton, the point of Junction with the Valley Road. The supper at Emlenton was given at the large hotel at the depot, and of which a whilom Etensburger, Mr. James A. Kittell, does the honors, and very gracefully too. The road is finished nicely, and is no doubt too. The road is finished nicety, and is no doubt as safe as roads generally are, but it does give one a nervous feeling to watch a train crossing a deep ravine on trestle work that at a short distance looks about as substantial as a spider web. The scenery along the road is highly picturesque, and the effect is hightened by going over it at night, when the burning gas from the oil wells casts an uncartibly glare over the surroundings. In most places where this gas from the wells is abundant, they utilize it by carrying it through pipes into their dwellings, where stoves are heated with it. It answers the purpose admirably, and besides that is perstant. law abiding and church going. Their churches are generally tastefully built, and during the holicays were beautifully decorated with evergreens. The services on Sabbath are well attended, and as there are no trains run on any of the roads in that region on that day, the employes are given a chance to "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it boly."

Wishing you s happy New Year, I am

DEAR FREMAN-Having changed my busi-DEAR FREEMAN—Having changed my business location for a short time is my only apology for failing to correspond with the spicy FREEMAN for some time past. The only excitement in Democratic Chest is the division of the township, which, as you are aware, will be decided by ballot on next Tuesday. The division will be warmly contested for and against, but you may rest assured that the township will be divided; and before you go to press you will no doubt learn the result. The division of Chest will give us two more delegates and also Chest will give us two more Jelegates, and also a larger vote than heretofore, the places of voting being more accessible to many old Demo-cratic residents who have heretofore remained away from the polls on account of the long distance to be travelled.

distance to be travelled.

Mr. Adam Leiden, a worthy and enterprising citizen of this place, was dangerously injured on last Saturday, at Carrolltown, by a kick he received in a vital part of the body, from a vicious horse. Mr. L.'s condition is such that he will have to remain in Carrol Hown for some time before he will be able to reach home. Mr. George Helfrick, an old and peaceable citizen of this township, came to an untimely death on the 22th ult. He had gone to the woods for the purpose of cutting timber, and had patially felled a large tree, when it lodged against another one, and in the effort to disneat and substantial office near his residence can be consulted in regard to all the something over two million feet of hard tim-ber, in time for the Spring drive. Gates Bros. have also contracted with parties to stock in a large amount of timber, and should the Spring season prove a propitious one, the citizens of Cambria county will be greatly benefited through the energy and enterprise of these gentlemen.

We have learned through the columns of the FREMAN the names of a number of aspirants who are anxious to serve the dear people. We have also had several letters and personal visits from good and reliable Democrats who are anxious to secure the delegates at the next county convention. Now we don't wish to say one word against the claims of any Democrat who has announced himself, or any reliable Democrat who may bereafter announce him-self, but we take this liberty (without the consent of the gentleman in question) to remark that Chest and Eder townships will present the name of Mr. Charles Languein for the office of Register and Recorder at the coming conven-tion, and when we urge the claims of Mr. Langbein we only utter the sentiments of all who know him that he is eminently fit for the office, being a practical and thorough business man and largely identified with the best interests of northern Cambria; and we further state, with-out disparagement to other candidates for the same office, that Mr. L. is a ripe English and German scholar, the latter quaiffication being much needed in that as well as in all other business pursuits. Yours, &c., GLENN.
