Mr. Williams claims to have assisted in the capture, many years ago, with the aid of traps, of no less than thirty-five of these blood thirsty varmints, against whom from present appearances, our farmer friends should take care to be on their guard. -- The publication of the Altoona Daily Tribune, which ceased in April, 1875, was resumed on Monday morning last. The former daily was a most excellent paper, but the new Tribune far surpasses it in many respects. It is larger than it was before, and, if possible, presents a neater and more attractive appearance. It furnishes the latest and fullest telegraph news, while its local department contains everything of interest that transnires in and about Altoona. The publication of such a paper is a credit to that city, and if her reading and intelligent citizens fail to extend to it a most liberal and generous support, it will be a deep reproach to them and will prove their inability to appreciate home enterprise and unquestionable merit in a daily newspaper. We invoke for the Tribune the fullest measure of success, which it most certainly deserves. P. S. If we want one or more corners of the Tribune turned down and printed

A GRAND MUSICAL SUCCESS -- When we promised our home readers last week and the week previous that they would be treated to one of the finest entertainments that had ever been given in this place if they would only attend the concert at the Court House on Friday evening last, we knew whereof we wrote ; and all who were present on that occasion will bear witness to the fact that we rather underestimated than overestimated the musical abilities of the young ladies and gents (ten in number) comprising St. John's Chorai Club of Altoona, who, although only amateurs, gave us an entertainment which no professional troupe visiting this place has ever equalled, much less excelled. It was indeed a rich musical and liteary treat, and was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience with a zest that we have certainly never seen surpassed. The programme was all that could be desired while the singing and acting were perfect and pleasing in every respect. The rich voices and graceful movements of the young ludies were an especial source of delight to all in attendance, while the performances of Miss Rocney, young though she is, in solos gratnity must in all cases, however, establish and accompaniments on the piano, to say nothing of her exquisite singing, marked her as an artist of very much more than ordinary culture. All in all, it was the best entertalmment of the kind that Ebensburg has ever been favored with, and while the selections were first class and admirably rendered throughout, the gem of the evening, by common consent, was "Hear me, pretty Swiss," a characteristic song in which the Misses Gorrity sang and acted with a sweetness of voice and gracefulness of action that

AN ALPINE AVALANCHE .- In the summer of 1864, a party of tourists, while visit-ing the Alps, climbed, with great difficulty, to an elevated and snow-covered plateau, in order to obtain a better view of Swiss scenery, and contrast the beauty and richness of midsummer below with the bleakness and sterility of midwinter around and above them. In play they rolled the moist snow into large balls and crowded it over the edge of the plateau. In falling it struck softer soow, which immediately gave way, and soon an avalanche was tearing down the mountain side burying and destroying everything in its course. As the handful of show became the irresistable avalanche, so the hacking cough with sore throat and catarrh, if neglected, speedily develops into that dread destroyer, Consumption. In the early stages, Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy will effect a cure, though if the blood be affected or impoverished it must be purfied and enriched by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Dircovery, and the liver and bowels kept active his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Many who despaired of life and had been given up to die by physicians and friends, owe their restoration to the above remedies.

large for this community, and the amount realized over and above expenses, for the cause it was designed to benefit, reached about fifty dollars for which the Catholic congregation of this place have certainly good reason to be thankful to the performers as well as the public, while for curself we are pleased to know that we had much to do with the coming to our town of St. John's Choral Club, which will never want for a hearty welcome from our people should it ever return either in its own behalf or in ald of an equally worthy cause.

THE SAME OLD STORY .- How a confiding granger from the west was eachred out of thirty dollars in eash by two sharpers working in concert is thus told by the Altoona Mirror of Wednesday evening : On Menday evening a farmer named John W

On Menday evening a farmer named John W. Coy, of Lilinois, got on the Fast Line at Pitts-burgh en route to the east. A gentlemaniy looking sherper named Myers got in the same car and took a seat beside the rural gentleman, and soon got into conversation with him. Be-fore the train started another sharper went fore the train started another sharper went into the car, and, representing himself as a freight agent at Phitsburgh, told Mr. Myers that his freight was in the depot and must be taken out immediately. Mr. Myers overtauled his pockets, but had "no loose change," where-upon he produced a draft for $750, and asked the farmer to give him $30 on it to pay the freight on his goods and that it should be paid had to him a foresphere where he would so back to him at Greensburg, where he would go into the baggage car of the train and get the money out of his trunk. The countryman "bit," and the sharpers got off the train never to return again. The conductor of the train, M., P. F. Hodge, was informed of the swindte granger friend in that vicinity : On Monday one of our rural acquaintances from Logan township received a postal card through the post office, inviting him to the set-tlement of an account with one of our business men. It was the first intricate letter of the kind he had ever seen or received, and the pro-fanity he indulged in in his efforts to open it shall be unrecorded, even if it did cause the bystanders to inhate a sulphurous atmosphere. He tugged away at it until his patience was exhausted, and the postal card sadly demoralized, when he handed the "infernal thing" to one of the clerks to open. He was informed that it was a postal card and that he should read what was a postal card and that he should read what was written on it. He read the defaced missive, and managed to decipher enough to know that it was a "dun" for a bill which, he said, he had just paid. The volleys of blaspheny flew so thick and fast and furious that if Henry Ward Beecher had been present he would no more have doubted the existence of hell than belief in his own existence. It was a most amusing scene to see that rutile man worry himself over the opening of that "darmed letter, the like of which had never before been sent him."

OPENING A POSTAL CARD .- The Altoona Tribune (weekly) of the 24th ult. tells the following good one at the expense of a

----A SKILLFUL PHYSICIAN. -Dr. George H.

Keyser, of this city, is so well-known to the community in which he has been in successful practice for such a long series of years, that it is scarcely necessary to montion the location of his office. For the benefit of the few who may not te familiar with it, however, it may be stated that it is at No. 240 Penn avenue. The doctor, in his special linet of practice, may be said to be almost without a peer in this country. A lengthy experience and years of study have made him most thoroaghly familiar with pulmon-ary complaints, and likewise with all that class of diseases that are to be cured by trusses and appliances of that character. Dr. Keyser is one of the best educated men present. in this locality-particularly so in his profession and in the particular branches of it to which we have referred. His thorough knowledge of diseases of this character and their treatment insure absolute safety, and those who place their reliance on him can rest assured that their faith is firmly grounded. - Pittsburgh Dispatch. Mr. Andrew Wertzberger, a brakeman on the Pittsburgh division, and residing on Fifth aven-Pritsburga division, and restance on Print with a ue, has had quite a curious experience with a piece of iron. Some five years ago, while ham-mering a wedge of iron, a spiwi from the same entered the flesh of one of his arms. Neither the wound nor the foreign substance gave him any inconvenience, and the circumstance was document from his arms. The other day any inconvenience, and the circumstance was dropped from his mem ry. The other day while returning to this city on his train be felt a sharp, pricking sensation in one of his great toes. On reaching his home, he made a careful investigation into the cause of the unusual pain and extracted the identical piece of iron that entered bis arm nearly five years ago. The metaline moderer was about one inch in length metallic wanderer was about one inch in length and of the thickness of a needle. It had about as much trouble and, in proportion, duration, to get out of Wertzberger's body, as the chil-dren of Israel had out of the wilderness.
