THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

Ebensburg, Pa..

FRIDAY, - - FEB. 8, 1878.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Here, There, and the Other Place.

—What kind of a "val" did you get, and who sent it?

—The Huntingdon Globe thinks it is "oil, hell or China" with the people of Osceola.

—The borough election takes place on Tuesday next, and as yet neither party has named its candidate.

—Many consumptives are now using Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters and Cough Syrup with remarkable success. [12-21.-1y.]

—Sheriff Stiffler, of Blair county, took eleven prisoners to the Western Penitentiary in a special car on Thursday last.

—Mr. John Klink, one of the survivors of the wrecked steamship Metropolis, reached his home in Altoona on Wednesday last.

—Calm has been the weather for several days past, but as we write Thursday morning the indications are that a storm is brewing.

—The best is the cheapest. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is acknowledged to be the safest and most reliable medicine for babies. Price 25 cents.

—The nine ejectment cases of Mrs. Pike, to which reference was made in our last issue have all been continued in the Blair county court.

—A party of fourteen persons left the vicinity of Morrisdale Mines, Clearfield county, a few days ago, for Southern Kansas, where they propose to settle.

—We are always pleased to recommend a good article. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup never fails to cure a Cough or Cold in short time. The price is 25 cents.

—People who go west generally furnish an example to delinquent subscribers which we would be glad to see followed by all who owe us. They settle, you see.

—Stop that terrible cough, and thus avoid a consumptive's grave, by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. As a cough remedy it is unsurpassed. Sold by druggists.

—Argument Court remained in session from Tuesday forenoon until Wednesday evening, but as little or nothing of public interest was transacted, we have not thought it worth while to report proceedings.

—The local option bill was the order of the day in the House at Harrisburg on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, and was finally defeated by a vote of 75 to 78. This disposes of the matter for the present session at least.

—No horse will die of colic, bots, or lung fever if Foutz's celebrated Horse and Cattle Powders are used according to the directions. They will cleanse the intestines, purify and invigorate the system, thus preventing disease.

—Look to your own interests and not the interests of others, and the way to do that is to buy all the goods you need from S. Teitelbaum & Bro., Carrolltown, where you can get more for your money than from any other dealer.

—The Hollidaysburg Standard expresses admiration for the spirit of the good priest, Father Murphy, who has been attempting to hold services in his church for several Sundays past in spite of a lot of Huntingdon ruffianly.

—A large roll of butter was stolen from the wagon of a huckster named Smith, in Altoona, about noon on Monday last. If the huckster's other name is John he is numerous enough not to feel the effects of a thousand such peccadilloes.

—It has been suggested to us that a meeting of the Democrats of Ebensburg should be held at the Court House to morrow (Saturday) evening for the purpose of nominating a borough ticket, and we have no hesitation in seconding the motion.

—The Huntingdon Local News of Monday reports the total disappearance from that place of confluent small-pox and the presence of only one case of small-pox without the confluent and four cases of varioloid at the time that paper was put to press.

—Forty-eight prisoners from this county were received and fifteen discharged from the Western Penitentiary during the year 1877. Still another one was released one day last week, leaving thirty-two as Cambria's present quota in that institution.

—For kindly words pleasantly spoken about the FREEMAN in recognition of the fact that it has recently entered upon its twelfth volume, the Huntingdon Monitor and Altoona Mirror will please accept the thanks of ourself individually and collectively.

—When it comes to buying overcoats and other winter clothing it will be money in the pockets of our readers to call on S. Teitelbaum & Bro., Carrolltown, who are selling off all goods of that kind at less than first cost. Call and convince yourselves as to the truth of this statement.

—By a letter received yesterday from our attentive representative, Hon. J. J. Thomas, we learn that what is known as the store order bill has passed third reading in the House, after having been amended so as to permit the issuing of thirty day cash orders, bearing interest from date.

—The personal effects found with Mr. Wm. D. Manson, recently killed by the cars at Altoona, and reaching in value, to the astonishment of everybody, the enormous sum of $102,733.87, were on Friday last forwarded by express to the family of deceased at Mt. Gilead, Ohio, by Coroner Haines, of Altoona.

—A brief but eloquent tribute to the memory of the great Pontiff, Pius IX., was paid by Father Boyle, at the Church of the Holy Name in this place, on Sunday last, and a grand Requiem High Mass for the repose of the soul of the Holy Father was celebrated at the same church yesterday morning.

—The young ladies of Summitville, or some of them at least, propose to give an entertainment at Linton's Hall, in that place, on next Thursday evening, Feb. 21st, for the benefit of the Catholic church over there, and we have no doubt it will be an enjoyable as we hope it will be a successful affair in every respect.

—The name of Mr. Wm. Dillon, of Altoona, has been mentioned in connection with the position of Clerk to the Council of that city for the ensuing term. It is of course none of our funeral, but if it was, "ask and you shall receive" would be the way we would settle the matter in Mr. Dillon's favor without further ceremony.

—A German residing in the vicinity of St. Louis, who was just returning from a visit to his native land, was seized with delirium while on the cars a few days ago, and was taken off at Johnstown, where he has been raving like a maniac ever since. The attending physician, Dr. Schill, pronounces it a case of ship fever in an aggravated form.

—The Herald man styles us a "model of perfectness," which being as near perfection as neighbor James is able to come on any subject, we have no fault to find with either the allegation or the "allegator"—at least we don't feel angry enough about it to fall "into" the ice and "strain" one of our legs, much less a point, to get even with him.

—On the 16th of last month James Crabb, of Williamsburg, Blair county had the flesh on one of his arms badly torn and lacerated by being caught in a threshing machine, and as he refused to have the arm amputated, lockjaw intervened and death resulted a few days ago. The remains of deceased were forwarded to his former home in New Jersey for interment.

—The crucifix, sanctuary railing, choir loft, and other parts of the Catholic church in this place were tastefully festooned with black paper muslin and white artificial roses yesterday morning, in commemoration of the death of the Supreme Pontiff, Pius IX., for the repose of whose soul a grand Requiem High Mass was celebrated at the same time.

—The Altoona Tribune notes the receipt of a letter in that city from one of the passengers on board the Mercedita, (the first steamship sent out by the Messrs. Collins,) announcing the safe arrival at Buenos Ayres, but as that city is at least a thousand miles south of the Amazon river, up which the Mercedita would have to sail to reach its destination, the only conclusion to be reached is that either the vessel, the writer, or the paper in question have lost their reckoning.

—The attention of Democrats throughout the county is invited to the card of Mr. J. D. Parrish, of this place, offering himself as a candidate for renomination for the office of Commissioner, a place which he now fills with honesty and fidelity, and which we are not aware that anything except the commendable rule of rotation in office can be urged against his filling for another term.

—Mr. Jacob Gates, a soldier of the war of 1812, who was twice wounded and subsequently taken prisoner at the battle of Lundy's Lane, died in Ducansville, Blair county, on Tuesday last, aged nearly 83 years, having been born in Dauphin county on St. Patrick's day, 1795. Deceased was the father of seven sons and five daughters, all of whom, with his aged widow, still survive.

—Mr. James Crabb, whose recent death from lock-jaw at Williamsburg, Blair county is noted elsewhere, was a bar-tender in Johnstown a few years ago but subsequently found employment with Messrs. Jones & King, of that place, as the driver of one of their lightning rod wagons, which business he gave up a couple of years ago and located at Williamsburg, where he met with his shocking death.

—Fearful, perhaps, of turning away an angel unawares, Mr. John Hamilton, of Lilly's station, kindly acceded to the request of one of the tramping fraternity for a night's lodging with the usual accompaniments, and as an almost natural consequence found himself next morning minus a watch, a pair of new boots and a cap, with all which articles the ungrateful scalawag managed to get beyond the reach of the rightful owner.

—The beautiful gold necklace and locket voted for on behalf of the Church of the Holy Name in this place was awarded on Saturday last to Miss Mamie, eldest daughter of Sheriff Ryan, she having had 125 votes, while her several competitors, Miss Maude Glass, Miss Belle O'Neill and Miss Jennie Blair, had each 112, 52 and 40 votes respectively. The amount realized from the enterprise was $83.75, less the price of the necklace.

—While a number of boys were amusing themselves on Friday evening last in the Altoona Rolling Mill at Allegheny Furnace one of the party, a lad named Andrew Diffenbaugh, aged about nine years, who was being playfully pressed at the time by his brother George, tripped and fell against one of the fly wheels with such force as to crush in the top of his head above the eyes, from the effects of which terrible injury he died in less than two hours after.

—Mr. John Yohner, the obliging and attentive agent at Kaylor's station, on the E. & C. R. R., has sent in his resignation, and as no one has yet been found to take his place the position remains without an occupant, the reason therefor being that it is hard work, or at least requires considerable attention, and as it is a commission office, the pay is not at all in proportion to the time and labor expended. Hence it is that no one hankers after the agency.

—It is due to Mr. P. B. Smith, of Munster township, who is charged in the Auditors' report of the county finances with a small deficiency as constable of his own township and a much larger one in Croyle township, to say that he has settled both duplicates in full, and that his name should not appear in the list (printed by us for the last time before we knew of the fact) as one of the constables indebted to the county on account of non-payment of taxes collected by him.

—A thing of beauty is no doubt a joy forever, but when beauty and usefulness are both combined in one article, as is the case with the goods sold at the cheap cash store of Myers & Lloyd, the joy produced is only equalled by the satisfaction experienced by all who deal with that liberal and enterprising firm at whose store may be found in great profusion all kind of dry goods, dress goods, clothing, notions, groceries, etc., at the lowest possible prices. Don't fail to give them a call.

—The Standard denies that Mrs. Pike, the lady who lays claim to considerable real estate in Altoona, now occupied and presumed to be owned by other parties, is a resident of Hollidaysburg, although a native of that place, her present home being in Cincinnati, where she has resided for many years. Nor is she, as the Standard avers, much older than ourself—a fact which we are free to admit since her maiden name (Hammers, not Hammer,) a family we remember very well, has been furnished by that paper.

—The chime of bells on St. Benedict's church, Carrolltown, was tolled for three-quarters of an hour on last Saturday afternoon, and every family in the town possessing a picture of the Holy Father, and scarcely a house there is without one, hung it on the outer wall, draped in mourning, as a mark of respect for the glorious memory of the recently deceased Pontiff, Pope Pius the Ninth, and as a token of their unquestioning faith in the doctrines of the Church of which he was so long the visible head on earth.

—Mr. Wm. Litzinger, of Loretto, has this week added another to the several names on our subscription list for whom he himself invariably pays in advance. He is the kind of a pair-n who in a special manner makes the printer's heart leap with joy, and if we had a few hundred more like him the county treasurership might go to the demijohn bow-wows, where it is sure to go anyhow so far as we are concerned, if our neighbor of the Herald knows anything about it, and where it may possibly go whether he knows anything about it or not.

—Mr. Michael Boland, a very old and much respected citizen of Washington township, died at his home near Summitville, on Saturday last, at the patriarchal age of 96 years, or thereabouts. Having no particulars as to his long and eventful career, the greater portion of which was passed in this county, we cannot give a sketch of Mr. Boland's life, but will be glad to publish such a sketch if some one acquainted with his history will be good enough to furnish us with it. In the meantime we can only hope that his immortal spirit has found eternal rest.

—The many warm personal friends in this vicinity of Dr. E. H. Plank will be interested in learning that he has recently removed from Chester county to Christiana, Lancaster county, where he has purchased a drug store and no doubt hopes to succeed, as we trust he may, in accumulating a fair share of this world's goods in the briefest time possible. By the way, we learn from the Lancaster Intelligencer that the Doctor succeeded a few days ago in extracting a triangular piece of glass from the knee of a seven-year old lad who had been pained (not window paned) with its presence for over a year.

—Messrs. Collins's third steamer, City of Richmond, sailed from Philadelphia yesterday. She had a cargo of 560 tons of railroad iron, 25 tons of spikes, 7 tons of nuts and bolts, 20 tons of fish plates, 150 tons of provisions, and 240 tons of coal. About 500 laborers go out on her including 200 Italians, 70 woodchoppers and quite a list of cabin passengers. A large number of the survivors of the wrecked Metropolis are among the passengers. Mr. Thomas Collins and wife also took passage on the vessel, Mr. C. intending to remain permanently in Brazil to superintend the work. The City of Richmond is a fast sailer and sound and staunch from stem to stern.

—The project to which we referred last week, of annexing Fulton county to this judicial district and electing an additional law judge, seems to have collapsed. The persons who originated it with a view to a certain result arrived at the wise conclusion that the people would have something to say at the election about the man to be made additional judge, and as there might possibly be a difference of opinion between them and the proprietor of the scheme, the latter concluded to abandon the movement. It was simply an effort to accommodate a Republican member of the Huntingdon bar who wanted to be a judge, but who will now have to be given another chance.

—Belmont, the well known summer resort in this place, has been leased by Mr. T. H. Heist, of the Mountain House, and will be opened to visitors on or about the 16th of June next. No house or grounds better calculated for such a purpose, or situated in a more desirable locality, can be found anywhere outside the leading watering places, if indeed there, and the way in which Mr. Heist has conducted the Mountain House since his advent among us is evidence sufficient of his ability to do honor to himself and full justice to his patrons in the wider field of hospitality upon which he will enter as the proprietor of a summer resort so elegant and so inviting as Belmont.

—A wise man don't tell all knows, though he knows all he tells; yet if his wisdom does not prompt him to buy his wearing apparel at Jas. J. Murphy's Star Clothing Hall, 109 Clinton street, Johnstown, it availeth him not in the purchase of the best kind of goods at the lowest possible prices, because that is one of the few places at which an immense stock of clothing of all sizes and qualities is constantly kept on hand and offered at figures which no other man in the business can afford to discount. Overcoats at actual cost.

—G. W. are letters which quite plainly doth seem as worthy a place in all men's esteem, for if they were missing we'd all be compelled to admit that George Washington ne'er could be spelled; and without them it likewise is plain to be seen that Godfrey Wolff could by no means have been the name of the man who is known far and wide as the cleverest of clothiers, and the cheapest beside, and whose store is admitted by all who have been there as the best place to buy what men need to wear. Next door so the post-office, Twelfth street, Altoona.

—The members of a colored church in Altoona held a two nights' discussion last week, the question being, "Ought the colored voters of Altoona support the Democratic party?" After the subject had been ably ventilated in all its bearings, it was decided by a vote of twenty to one that they ought to do so. The colored voters of Altoona are only following the example of their brethern in the Southern States, who now very generally vote the Democratic ticket, and have discovered that they are benefitted thereby. In that way they have gotten rid of the carpet-baggers, who were their worst enemies.

—When you go to Altoona it will pay you to call, and buy, it you need, from S. Blumenthal, who has opened a store on Eleventh avenue and is prepared to supply every kind of a shoe that men wish to wear or in which ladies take pride, as well as all styles for the young folks beside; in addition to which, though not apart from the rest, he has boots by the hundred, the finest and best, among which may be mentioned the "Walker," so stout and firm in the make that they will scarcely wear out. But why multiply words about a stock that's replete and is offered at prices that no one can beat to all who may seek foot coverings so neat at No. 1119, east of Twelfth street.

—Chas. B. McDermott, Republican candidate for councilman in the Eighth ward, Altoona, got himself outside of an inordinate quantity of bad whisky on Monday evening last, and while in that condition made two several attempts to revenge himself on Michael Brennan for having previously made information against him for assault, but in both instances the would-be avenger came out second best, the last venture resulting in several ugly cuts back of the ears, between the eyes and in one of his sides, from the effects of which he fainted while under treatment at a neighboring doctor's office, to which he was carried on a lounge soon after receiving the injuries, which are of course painful but not dangerous.

—The Johnstown Tribune spreads itself promiscuously in nearly a half column diatribe on what it conceives to be a new departure taken by Mr. P. F. Kirby, Mercantile Appraiser, in the matter of assessing and collecting a fee of 50 cents each from the proprietors of the several hotels in this county, and asks, among other things, if any person ever saw a list of taverns advertised along with stores, distilleries, breweries, billiard tables, etc. The custom, which has no doubt the approval of law, is not an old one, but the Tribune is several months behind time in discovering what it imagines to be a "mare's nest," as by reference to the Mercantile Appraiser's list published last May it will see that taverns were then assessed and advertised the same as stores, etc., and that so far at least as Mr. Kirby is concerned it is by no means a new or unheard of innovation.

—We are sorry indeed to learn that Mr. A. N. McGonigle, the amiable if not venerable father of Rev. J. N. McGonigle, late pastor of the Presbyterian church in this place, was crushed to death beneath the wheels of the Cincinnati Express west, at the Pittsburgh depot, about 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning last. The deceased was employed as an assistant to the depot-master in that city, and while intently engaged at the time stated in noting the number of some of the cars attached to the Day Express east, the train first named came upon him unaware and knocked him down, several of the wheels passing over his body and mutilating it in a shocking manner, producing of course instant death. The unfortunate gentleman, who formed the acquaintance and elicited the good will of many of our citizens while visiting Ebensburg on various occasions, was aged about 55 years, and leaves a wife, two sons (the reverend gentleman already named and Mr. Robert McGonigle, Pa. R. R. agent at East Liberty,) and three daughters to mourn his terrible death, which is the first bereavement of the kind in any form that has fallen upon the family. Peace be to his ashes.

—One day last week Constable Wherley, of this borough, went by railroad to Brookville, Jefferson county, and on foot five miles north of that place, where he succeeded in arresting a young man, formerly a resident of Blacklick township, this county, against whom an information had been made some time last fall for fornication and bastardy. Returning with his prisoner to Brookville late in the day, they both occupied the same room during the night, the prisoner meantime being safely handcuffed. In the bar-room next morning before daylight the prisoner was relieved of his bracelets to enable him to put on his coat and boots, and having done so, he made one jump for the door and another for the pavement, and was instantly followed by Mr. Wherley, who in the excitement of the moment started in the race minus one of his boots. It was quite dark, but the constable pursued the fugitive a considerable distance outside the borough limits, where he was forced to give up the chase. Mr. W. says that the prisoner, before going to bed, bent his knees and with his head bowed down gave utterance to a loud, long and most fervent prayer, which possibly had its effect in putting the officer somewhat off his guard in the matter of watchfulness. Be that as it may the young man made good his escape though the warrant for his arrest has been given to the Constable of Brookville, who pledged himself to re-arrest the praying fugitive if he can be found anywhere within his bailiwick.

CRIME AND CRIMINALS.—From a leading editorial in the current issue of the Hollidaysburg Standard on the prevalance of crime and the consequent conviction and recent removal to the penitentiary of no less than ten persons charged with either the commission of thefts or the receiving of stolen goods, we extract the following in regard to a young lad named Harry Hammers, who was born and reared in this county, and who, notwithstanding his tender age, seems to have been a leader among thieves, all of whom in this case were given away through his treachery and cowardice, he alone, although the most deserving of punishment, managing by this means to escape the just rigors of the law. The Standard says:

The conviction of these parties was secured mainly through the testimony of an accomplice named Harry Hammers, a boy not yet seventeen years of age, who, in spite of his youth, has attained to the position of leader of the dangerous classes in Altoona. He was born at Wilmore, Cambria county, and does not seem to have had any acquaintance with city life, save such as he found in Altoona, yet we much question whether his superior can be found in either of the great cities. The story of crime which he told on the witness stand was simply revolting. He seemed to have no sense of shame, and yet his story was told in such a way as to convince the listener that it was the truth. With him it was purely a matter of business. He had heard that one of his companions in crime intended to turn State's evidence and he forestalled him. There was none of that nice sense of honor about him which the "Boys' and Girls' Libraries" of the day ascribe to youthful criminals. Now that he was caught up, and had reason to think one of his "pals" intended to confess, he thought it policy to be the first to expose the secret workings of the criminal league of which he had been an active member. This boy swore on the witness stand that he never did an honest day's work in his life; that he had been engaged in more than twenty robberies; that he made his living by stealing. He would commit a theft, carry his plunder to one of the houses of vice on Ninth avenue, in return for which he was given shelter, or disposed of it to a receiver of stolen goods, receiving therefor a fraction of its real value.

—As a Packer of coffers Hon. Asa Packer, of Mauch Chunk, the richest man in Pennsylvania, is a decided success.

Communication.

TOO MUCH OFFICE—TOO MUCH TAXATION.

MR. EDITOR—The voters of the municipal divisions of Cambria county will soon again be called upon to exercise "the inestimable and heaven-born privileges of free and equal citizenship" (bumcombe) without regard to race, or color, or previous condition of servitude, or party affiliations, (15th amendment and more bumcombe,) always excepting the "poor Injun" and "heathen Chinee," (vide 15th amendment), to select their servants, or rather rulers, until the next periodical change occurs. It therefore behooves the voters aforesaid to act with a little common sense and circumspection, and to apply to this important subject that practical wisdom and forethought which are supposed to underlie the actions and to guide men in the daily avocations of life; and to this end the most trustworthy and intelligent citizens of the communities in which they reside should be chosen to fill the various offices of trust and profit that are to be parcelled out. Men who understand and appreciate the duties devolving upon them, and who will discharge those duties faithfully without fear, partiality or prejudice for any person, not even excepting themselves. There unfortunately appears to be a general and unaccountable "hankering" after petty political offices and the little emoluments attached thereto, and the chief difficulty with electors seems to be in making fitting selections from the host of candidates who from time to time present themselves for official preferment. This condition of things is the Upas growth of the universal elective system which prevails in some, nay in a majority, of the States, where every officer, from the highest to the lowest, is passed upon directly by a vote of the people, the sad results are seen in every land, and are disheartening in the extreme. It is the Pandora's cage from whence spring the foulest evils that afflict a people. Not to soar higher, venal and incompetent assessors of the valuation of property, ignorant, faithless and responsible school boards, in most cases beyond the reach of the judicial departments of the government for whatever malfeasance they may choose to commit, in the supervision of the public roads etc.—in short, in all branches of municipal service. While this goes on "Rome is burning," or, to drop metaphor, the taxes are fast consuming the last vestige of ability of the tax-payer to meet them and to protect himself and property from impending ruin. In some of the districts the taxes levied for State, county, poor, school and road purposes reach the enormous aggregate of nearly 40 mills on the dollar, or about four dollars on the hundred dollars of the assessed valuation, and to this is frequently added what is called a cash tax of several mills, for some specific object. Altogether this is appalling and it is doubtful whether any of the ring and tax fixers, or of the land, with their "Boss" Tweeds and "Boss" Shepperds can show a more startling and damaging record. But is there no remedy for this intolerable evil. Is there no "balm in Gilead, no physician there?" Undoubtedly there are both. The sessions at Harrisburg are the doctors, and the bleeding they can apply with certain effect to the maladies now infecting the body politic is the utter extinction of the present ulcerous school, road and other municipal systems, which are a noisome nuisance, and the substitution of others more simple, practical, equitable and responsible. Instead of vaporing theories and political platitudes and inanities, let these doctors of law give a tax-burdened and sorely afflicted people relief. Pennsylvania might adopt with profit the school and other municipal systems of her sister States. She is not too old, nor so far advanced in political economy, that she may not learn some things yet. The people of Pennsylvania are no doubt willing to support by liberal taxation their public school and other internal systems, but they should at the same time jealously guard their rights and energetically protest against unequal and onerous laws which fail to accomplish the objects designed from abounding imperfections. But while such laws remain upon the statute book remonstrance may be offered to taxpayers by electing to office only the most reliable, intelligent and capable citizens. Let voters look to this at the approaching election.

Yours, &c., REFORM.

BUBOUOCELE, OR RUPTURE.—Over forty years experience in the application of trusses and the treatment of RUPTURE has enabled me to do the best that can be done in any such cases. I make and apply trusses which will always hold in a rupture or breach of any kind, and located in any part of the body. In a large number of cases I can effect a thorough and radical cure. Who is there that will linger through life with this dangerous deformity when such assurances of safety are offered? No one. In cases of children, a cure can always be affected, as well as in the cases of females, although the disease is as one to five in that of the other sex. I likewise treat, successfully, every disease of deformity and weakness needing outward supports, as well as chronic diseases of a difficult and stubborn character. Those who have tried other sources and failed, would serve their interest in calling on or addressing me.

DR. KEYSER, 240 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., opposite Christ's Church. Cut this out for reference. [2-8.-1m.]

E. K. THOMPSON.—Dear Sir: I am a hard laboring man, and have been troubled for two yea s with pain in my chest, hurting me to take a long breath, and feeling tired so that I could not walk far without a good deal of effort; at times dizzy in my head. Thought I should have to stop working. I got a bottle of your Barosma and a box of Dandelion and Mandrake Pills, which have relieved me very much indeed—feel like a new man. Shall continue to take one bottle more, which I think will make me entirely well. C. J. LENGVIST.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.—S. E. BURNS vs. JOHN J. KRISE et al.—In the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria County, No. 189, December Term, 1878, E. D.

And now, February 12, 1878, on motion of Johnston & Scanlan, Esqs., Joseph McDonald, Esq., appointed an Auditor to report distribution of the fund in the hands of the Sheriff, arising from the sale of the real estate of John J. Krise, to and among the parties entitled thereto.

By the Court.

In pursuance of the above appointment, I will sit at the Court House, in Ebensburg, on FRIDAY, MARCH 1ST, 1878, at 1 o'clock, P. M., where and when parties interested can attend if they think proper. JOSEPH McDONALD, Auditor.

Ebensburg, Feb. 12, 1878.-3t.

Communication.

DON'T NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold, when 25 cts. will buy a bottle of Dr. Frazier's Cough Syrup at any drug store. It has wrought a complete change in Cough medicines, is pleasant as honey, and always cures.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

STANDARD STEAM LAUNDRY, Cleveland, O., Oct. 30, '76.

DR. FRAZIER,—Dear Sir: I feel it a duty I owe to suffering humanity to write you. For some time I was sorely afflicted with a cough, raising bad stuff, with every symptom of being a confirmed consumptive. I tried different medicines and cures without finding relief; I also consulted three of our most prominent Cleveland physicians, the last one of whom pronounced my case serious, and informed me that I could not live more than a few months. About this time, hearing of your wonderful success, I commenced taking your Syrup in connection with your Root Bitters, and was at once benefited, and after using the medicine some two months I find myself entirely cured.

TORENCE DUNN.

☞Mr. Dunn again writes, under date of Aug. 4, 1877,—Dr. Frazier, Dear Sir: I can endorse your medicines more strongly than ever from the fact that it is now nearly one year since I was cured. My lungs are to-day strong and sound, having no return of the disease.

☞The above Medicines speak for themselves.

DR. G. W. FRAZIER, Proprietor, Cleveland, O.
