The influence of the atmosphere-the only remedial agent that either Florida or Colorado can afford the consumptive-is at best only palliative. The cure of consumption depends upon two essential conditions : 1st, the arrest of the abnormal breaking down of the tissues, which prevents emaciation, and 2d, the restoration of healthy nutrition, in order to stop the formation of tuberculous sumption is as carable as fever. To faifill these conditions the required remedy must increase the appetite, favor the assimilation of food, and enrich the blood, thus retarding the development of tubercles. To accomplish this, a more powerful alterative than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has never been discovered. At the same time, it soothes the irritation of the nervous system produced by violent coughing, which in its turn so often leads to more serious results? > A DASTARDLY ATTRMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN. - Just after the "snapper" engine had been uncoupled from the Cincinnati Express west in the Pa. R. R. tunnel at Gallitzin, on Saturday morning last about 5 o'clock, fer the purpose, as is the custom, of running it out of the way of the train and on to one of the side tracks, a red light was swung near the western end of the tunnel as a signal of danger by some person unknown, who doubtless intended thereby to bring on a collision between the train and the uncoupled engine, with the probable hope that a terrible wreck and a chance for wholesale plander would be the result. Fully aware, however, of the danger behind him, and presuming that no worse fate could possibly await him in front, the engineer of the "snapper," choosing what he conceived to be the least of two evils, disregarded the signal given and drove ahead at a more rapid speed than ever, flually coming out on the side track without meeting with the slightest mishap or accident of any kind. Finding that no attention had been paid to his signal by the engineer of the "snapper," the bearer of the red light swung it on the passenger train following and succeeded in bringing it to a halt, after which he put out his light and disappeared as mysteriously as he had come, without any one discovering work of wrecking the train, which is the only theory by which his conduct can be explained, it is fair to presume that with the aid of confederates in waiting plunder and spoliation would quickly have followed in the wake of diabolism and what would

MOLLIE MAGUIRES IN WESTMORELAND [2-8,-1m.] County.-The Pittsburgh Dispatch of Tuesday and a telegram from that city of the same date furnishes the following : The cases of incendiarism, numerous mysterlous accidents, burgiaries, etc., at Irwin, in the past three years, are familiar to the public. It is now stated that ex-Sheriff Guffey, of Westmoreland county, has succeeded in tracing them to a gang of Molly Magnires. He recently obto a gang of Molly Maggires. He recently ob-tained a clue which induced him to seek an in-terview, with one Parfit, a miner. Parfit, it seems, told the whole story. He said the Mollies has had an organization there for three years, their society numbering fifteen persons. They met regularly in a hotel at Shafton. From here they issued numerous "coffin" notices, and devised their execuable work. They led the easily managed winers into all sorts of and devised their execrable work. They led the ensily-managed miners into all sorts of troubles. One Fowler, whom they disliked, they tried to assassinate. They burned numer-ous tipples and check houses, Dougherty's Hotel, Commercial Row, and other fulldings.— During the reign of terror in Pittsburgh they burned the large stack of lay on the Pennsyl-vania Gas Coal Company's farm, and also cut the telegraph wires near Irwin. They killed a the telegraph wires hear frwin. They killed a young man named Carroll, one night, and placed his body on the railroad track before the approaching Fast Line, to decrive the authorities, who discovered the body, mangled by the wheels, at dawn of day.

This was the substance of Parfitt's statement. Mr. Guffey told him if he would get another of the gang to confess they would be paid $1,000 each. On these terms another witness was procured, who fully corroborated Parfit. The cured, who fully corroborated Parfitt. The first witness was detained, and the second was allowed to return to Irwin to make some arrangements for securing the balance of the gang. It seems he repented at the last moment, for no sooner had be reached Irwin than he sounded the ainrin and then left for parts un-known. The others were not long in collowing. Before the people of Irwin knew snything about the affair the parties had all decamped. A great deal of excitement exists now in the community. It was rumored yesterday that some of the parties had been captured, but a telegram from Sheriff Guffey to the Dispatch last night stated that this was not the case. Following are the names of the parties for those arrests warrants have been issued: Harry Davis, who corroborated Parfitt's confess Fat, Dougherty, George Carroll, John Snedden, Harry Devlin, Barney Murray, Peter Glenn, William Lewis, P. Murray, Reddy Gormly, Jack Woods, James Doran and Sandy Snedden. Geo. Parfitt and Rob't Whitelaw are in Jail at Greensburg. The others have fled. Paddy Doyle, formerly the leader, was drowned last summer while crossing the river in a skiff. Sandy Snedden and Paddy Doyle kept tavern at Iwin's Station, and it was at their houses the gang met. Parfitt states that on the night of young Carroll's murder he was detailed to keep the railroad watchman from patrolling the tracks until after the Fast Line had massed over the body which his associates had passed over the body, which his associates had
