

BIGGEST STATUE IN THE WORLD.

We are now in the heart of Japan. Kioto city was for many centuries the Mikado's capital, and until ten years ago, when the overthrow of the Shogun left the capital of that ruler de facto open, its greater advantages led the Mikado and his Cabinet to occupy it.

We have visited several temples situated on the hillsides, on the east side of the plain on which the city is spread out. The oldest and largest is known as the Chionin, and belongs to the Jodo sect. It is very large, measuring in its front over 200 feet.

We have just returned from a visit to Nara, one of the old capitals of the empire, distant about thirty-six miles. We drove at a brisk trot for an hour before a break occurred in the line of houses, when we crossed a branch of the Uji river, by a bridge about a thousand feet long.

Here was erected, 1,200 years ago, the largest bronze figure the world has ever known. It weighs 450 tons, and the third temple now covers it, without apparent injury to the immense statue.

To-day we rode to Lake Biwa, distant about seven miles, and our route lay along the great Tokaido. The road is about twenty feet wide, well macadamized, with the inevitable walled ditch on either side.

So called by numbers of persons who have returned from Johnstown, Altoona, Ebensburg, and elsewhere, with the dear-bought knowledge that we who were not among the first to open in Carrolltown, but who were the very first in Northern Cambria to sell Goods at such WONDERFUL LOW PRICES, can do

THE BIRDS OF THE SEA.—The birds that belong to the sea are very curious, and their number beyond all calculation. Every naked rock or surmounting cliff that rises over the immeasurable deserts of ocean, is the refuge of myriads of sea-birds; every coast, from the poles to the equator, is covered with their legions, and far from the land their swarms hover over the solitudes of the deep.

ORIGIN OF THE BAYONET.—The bayonet is an arm peculiarly French. It was invented, it is said, at Bayonne, in 1641, and employed in 1670 in the regiment of the King's Fusiliers. It sensibly modified the system of military art in Europe, as it made cavalry less formidable to infantry, and caused the fire of lines of battles to be regarded as the principal means of action.

HOME DENTISTRY. It is so clearly the best policy, and a writer in the Scientific American, that all who suffer from dental complications to seek the aid of a skilled dentist, that it may be almost superfluous to promise that the following hints are written for those only who, from want of funds or other cause, are unable to obtain professional advice.

NEVER TOO LATE TO LEARN.—So crates, at an extreme old age, learned to play on musical instruments. Cato, at 60 years of age, began to study the Greek language. Plutarch, when between 70 and 80, commenced the study of Latin.

THE HOTTEST SPOT ON EARTH.—One of the hottest regions of the earth is along the Persian Gulf, where little or no rain falls. At Bahrin the comparative numerous population contrive to live there, thanks to the copious springs which burst forth from the bottom of the sea.
