DEAR FREEMAN—On last evening your correspondent had the piensure of attending the exhibition given by the pupils of the parochial school of this place. Although the weather was extremely unfavorable during the interpart of the evening, the hall was well filled. The Carrolltown Silver Cornet Band was in attendance, and during the intervals of the acis and various plays discoursed some of its best music. The young ladies part of the entertainment consisted of four short plays (three English and one German), several tableaux. criticism, we dare say that on the whole the ex-hibition was a grand success and did bonor to the young indies individually and collectively, The characters were exceedingly well and we can congratulate whomsoever had the distribution of the parts on their keen appreci-ation of the diversities of human nature. Cer-tainly there were defects, as must be expected on all such occasions, yet we could also point out takent that would do honor to a more ex-alted career. Here coal is abundant and chenp, while wood is plenty. Here also flook at this one item) we get coal at $2.65 per ton. On the western roads, or out where the most of people are going, they will have to pay more than double that price and perhaps hual it for miles. In many places too they have no wood of any kind and no market for their produce, while here there is a market for all that can to show you how much better it would be for men to come here than to go out west further, where the country is new, but I will stop for this time, and if the ague does not catch me, or the winds blow me away, you may expect to hear from me soon spain. Persons coming here should call on Mr. Clark, of Ford Scott, for information.
