

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS FOR THE CURE OF ALL THE GREAT ENGLISH DISEASES. Ebersburg, Pa., FRIDAY, AUG. 23, 1878.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL. Here, There, and the Other Place. Look at Barkers' Tea at 10 cts. per gr. The best tea in the market.

The Johnstown delegation to the convention of Turner held at Wheeling last week succeeded in carrying off a half dozen prizes offered for proficiency in athletic sports.

Our old and much-esteemed fellow-townsmen, Mr. J. H. D. Woodruff, has been elected to the office of Justice of the Peace for the term ending on the 1st of October.

Our much-esteemed friend Mr. John H. Taylor, of Loretto, is lying sick with the cholera, and it is believed that he will be taken away.

A preliminary meeting for the purpose of making arrangements for the giving of a picnic, some where in the Juniata valley, is announced to be held at Tyrone tomorrow afternoon. The picnic, it seems, must have some recreation along with the rest of the folks.

John Endley seems to be an alias of a man whose right name is John McCormick. When his real name is properly addressed it reaches him through the Belsano postoffice.

It now appears that the Ebersburg colony which was to go to Texas will go elsewhere. Messrs. C. C. Miller and Wm. P. Jones, and Royal Hanna, the advance agents of the colony, paid a visit to Fort Worth, their objective point, and circulated the rumor that the colony had been dissolved.

An important case—Dr. Geo. Rex versus the Fisher estate. The case is now pending in the court at Philadelphia. The foregoing was the caption of an action at law which all of last week took the undivided time and attention of Judge C. C. Miller.

What the Hollidaysburg correspondent of the Altoona Tribune calls the sequel to the strange doings above noted is furnished by the following item.

St. Francis College, Loretto. The following in relation to this long established, and highly respected institution, we clip from the Harrisburg Patriot of Wednesday week.

Dr. Yeagley, having received a majority of all the votes polled, was declared the nominee, and on motion the nomination was carried to the order of the day.

Local Correspondence. CARROLLTOWN, Aug. 20, 1878. DEAR FREEMAN—I sincerely thank you for the article in your issue of the 17th inst. in my last week's letter, or whether deny the charge and ascribe to you the uncalled for remarks. We are, however, not to let us compromise and lay the blame on my chyrography for your misreading of my handwriting.

There are quite a number of farmers here that are not satisfied with their present conditions, and they have done so. Some of them were merely above want in Pennsylvania, and they are now in the West.
