

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, - - - NOV. 1, 1878.

The Greenback party did not carry a single county in Indiana at the late election, and there are only three counties in the State in which its vote was not below that of either of the other two parties.

Elections will take place on Tuesday next in twenty-five States. In all of them members of Congress will be elected, but no fear is entertained that the result will show a very decided Democratic majority in the lower house, the control of the Senate having already been gained by the Democrats.

An immense mass meeting of the Democrats was held at Phillipsburg, Centre county, on Saturday last. A remarkable feature of the meeting was the presence at it of four ex-Governors—Bigler and Curtin, of this State; Hendricks, of Indiana, and Walker, of Virginia.

The slippery M. S. Quay, Recorder of Philadelphia, and Chairman of the Republican State Committee will learn from Judge Agnew's letter, copious extracts from which will be found elsewhere, that honesty in politics, as in everything else, is always the best policy.

There are twenty two thousand more names on the registry lists in Philadelphia than there are on the lists in New York, according to the census, there are nearly a hundred thousand more people in New York than in Philadelphia.

The strength of the Tammany Hall organization will be put to a severest test next Tuesday. All the other elements of opposition to its despotic rule have united with the anti Tammany Democrats to crush and overthrow it.

Every Greenback voter freely admits that the election of Governor is not best of so much importance to him in reference to the object he has in view as is the election of a Congressman.

This Executive office of Pennsylvania, says the Pittsburgh Post, was never so degraded as it is now. A lackey of Hartranft's, who was the go-between in the negotiations for the Mollie Maguire vote, and the bearer of pardons and money for convicted felons from Henny M. Hoyt, then Chairman of the Republican State Committee, is now engaged in sending out from the Governor's office, using the stationery paid for by the people, a budget of forged and lying affidavits, accusing Dill of being a Know-Nothing, when by the rules of that order, he being only eighteen years of age, it was impossible he could belong to it.

Chief Justice Agnew.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA ON THE CAMERON-QUAY CONSPIRACY.

Chief Justice Agnew has just written and caused to be published a letter of considerable length, in which he exonerates the Hon. J. M. Quay, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and other leading lights of the radical household, and charges very explicitly that the Supreme Judiciary was made the turning point of a corrupt bargain arranged and designed especially for the benefit of Cameron, Quay, Hoyt & Co.

To the PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA: The time has come when you no longer blindly follow your leaders, but when you begin to inquire into the motives and intentions of those who are in power.

I had been a warm friend of Judge Streett's election, unqualifiedly by him, when he doubted whether he should be elected to the office of Chief Justice.

Soon after my arrival in Philadelphia I found adverse combinations forming of the interest of the State in the hands of a few men.

No possible excuse can avail a Democrat who neglects to go to the election next Tuesday. For nearly seventeen years the Republican party has had almost unimpeded control of the different departments of the State government.

Every Greenback voter freely admits that the election of Governor is not best of so much importance to him in reference to the object he has in view as is the election of a Congressman.

This Executive office of Pennsylvania, says the Pittsburgh Post, was never so degraded as it is now. A lackey of Hartranft's, who was the go-between in the negotiations for the Mollie Maguire vote, and the bearer of pardons and money for convicted felons from Henny M. Hoyt, then Chairman of the Republican State Committee, is now engaged in sending out from the Governor's office, using the stationery paid for by the people, a budget of forged and lying affidavits, accusing Dill of being a Know-Nothing, when by the rules of that order, he being only eighteen years of age, it was impossible he could belong to it.

A Republican Opinion of Coffroth.

The following letter, which we copy from the Philadelphia Record, is sufficient to show that paper claims, a voluntary testimonial from a leading Republican of Johnston to the honesty, integrity and life-long devotion of Hon. A. H. Coffroth to the interests of the people of this State.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 28, 1878.—The Tribune office has been quite busy preparing a testimonial to the Hon. A. H. Coffroth, Chairman of the Republican State Committee.

After completing his business with Mr. Lincoln he returned to his residence in the city, where he was sitting on the steps outside, reading a newspaper.

At Camden the storm was very severe, causing great damage to property. Several houses were blown down, and many trees were scattered in all directions.

At Potstown, Pa., the mill of the Potstown Iron Company was blown down. The loss is $25,000. The Madison bridge, spanning the Schuylkill river, was almost completely destroyed.

In Harrisburg buildings were unroofed, sewers choked up, cellars flooded, and trees and shanties blown down.

A special from Vincennes, Ind., gives an account of the murder of John D. Vacek, wife and two sons, about two miles south of that city.

Next Tuesday will be the day to put in your vote. Don't you forget it.

A Terrible Wind Storm.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST AND A GREAT AMOUNT OF PROPERTY DESTROYED IN EAST-ERN PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—A tempestuous gale of unprecedented severity swept over the city yesterday morning, commencing about 2:30 a. m., reaching its height between 6 and 7:30, and subsiding with heavy rain toward 9 a. m.

At Camden the storm was very severe, causing great damage to property. Several houses were blown down, and many trees were scattered in all directions.

At Potstown, Pa., the mill of the Potstown Iron Company was blown down. The loss is $25,000. The Madison bridge, spanning the Schuylkill river, was almost completely destroyed.

In Harrisburg buildings were unroofed, sewers choked up, cellars flooded, and trees and shanties blown down.

A special from Vincennes, Ind., gives an account of the murder of John D. Vacek, wife and two sons, about two miles south of that city.

Next Tuesday will be the day to put in your vote. Don't you forget it.

THE FLAG

FALL SEASON, 1878. Murah for another Large Business.

There is nothing dinky or forbidding about OAK HALL this Fall. The personal attention of Mr. Wanamaker brightened up everything about the place, and the Fall with a

GRAND SEED-OFF $700,000 in Clothing and Cloths is under the roof, and The Star about the Place shows that the people have discovered that OAK HALL is 'Home,' and that, after all, it is best to 'Stick to Old Friends.'

WANAMAKER & BROWN OAK HALL S. E. Cor. Sixth and Market Sts., PHILADELPHIA.

News and Other Notings. Two men killed and one injured at Detroit Wednesday. A man was killed in Cedar Hill cemetery by a falling tree.

At Potstown, Pa., the mill of the Potstown Iron Company was blown down. The loss is $25,000. The Madison bridge, spanning the Schuylkill river, was almost completely destroyed.

A special from Vincennes, Ind., gives an account of the murder of John D. Vacek, wife and two sons, about two miles south of that city.

Next Tuesday will be the day to put in your vote. Don't you forget it.