SUMMIT, Oct 28, 1878.

EDITOR PREEMAN—I herewith enclose a circular from the self-styled Pennsylvania Soldiers' Lengue. The Republican party must certainly be in the last dilch when it has to rancertainty be in the last ditch when it has to ransack the different Pension departments in order to get the names of poor crippled soldiers for the purpose of sending them such contemptible circulars, as though we were not able to think and act for on-selves. Gentlemen, it is no use to send out such clap-trap to soldiers in hopes of getting their votes for the bondholders' candidate (J. M. Campbell) for Congress. It is all very fine to tell us what the Republican party has done for us, but Mr. Orr takes very good care not to say anything about what they did against us. Look at the record of 1863 and '64, and see what was done for soldiers. You will find that we were paid with a dollar that was worth about sixty cents, and, besides that, the officers were obliged to pay a revenue tax on their monthly pay, while the bondholders had no taxes to pay on their bonds. The Republican Congress did nothing for the soldier or the country but what was wrung from them. All they can't secure that by fair means they are determined to do it by frand, salary grab and determined to do it by fraud, salary grab and If I mistake not it was a Domocrat from this district who brought about the Baker investi-gation which showed there was more fraud committed through the Pension department than through any other bureau at Washington. The Soldiers League of Pennsylvania is nothing but a political machine in the hands of Don Mrs. Ware, otherwise known as Mrs. but a political machine in the hands of Don Cameron, who would do almost anything to get back to the U.S. Senate; but once there, good bye, soldier, for the next five years!

The R-publican party is recling under a load of corruption and frand, and as honest men are descring it they want to dupe soldiers out of their votes in order to prop up its rotten carcass. It is no crime for a soldier to think and act for himself, and we can see as far into the stone as the man who picks the hole in it.

This P.S. L. circular reminds me of the fable of the crow that stole the cheese and the fox who flattered Mr. Crow by making him believe that he was a good singer. The crow underlook Cozzens, widow of John Bishop Cozzens Ware, who used to Ware his name with the Ware cut off, possibly because he didn't like counterfeit trade dollars. When taken into that he was a good singer. The crow undertook to slog, when the chee se fell to the ground, and that being just what the fox was after, he captured the cheese and let Mr. Crow go on with the mosic. So it is with the Republicans. time, Mrs. Cozzens' maiden name was They are after the soldier's vote, and after they get it we can look out for ourselves.

Soldiers, on the right by flie into line, march! Burkholder, and the family from which she Soldiers, on the right by file into line, march, we showed our manhood in putting down rebellion. Let us do the same on the 5th of November by voting for honest government.—Vote for Dill and the whole Bemocrafic ticket, and let the bencholders and Cameron & Co. take passage up Salt river. I am, with respect, Ax Old Soldier.
