may be cast. -The Greensburg United Brethren church was destroyed by fire last Tuesday morning, involving a loss of $3,000, on which was an insurance of $2,000. The flames damaged the adjacent residence of Mr. James K. Stewart to the extent of about $300. Spontaneous combustion is given as the explanation of the origin of the fire. — The Huntingdon Local News issued an Boniface, this county, had killed his twe lveextra on Wednesday giving a full and graph-ic account of the terrible explosion of a sandblast in that place the day previous, where-by three persons were literally blown to atoms. Great indeed is the enterprise, and Brother's Lindsey & Willoughby have, we hope, reaped its profit. —We chronicled several weeks ago the particulars of the explosion of a quantity of time in Johnstown, whereby the eyes of both

Tribute says: The name of the man who suffered this terrible death was Richard O. Jones, a young Welshman, not quite 21 years of age. His bosiness in the mill was to eatch at the finishing rolls the ends of the wire rols as they eams through the rolls and guide them through the inst pass before they are wound upon the spindle. While thus engaged one of the long red hot rols, whose end he had just inserted in his part of the rolls, became twisted as it was guided along the iron floor behind him. The rolls were running at the rate of four hundred and fity revol-utions per minute, and the twite caused the wire to current through the air, one of the loops falling over young Jones' body, just below the roles, and draw-ing lim down on his knoce with his back against the rolls, through which the wire speed with light-ning like rapidly. Major P. M. Woleslagle, of Wilmore, next announced that he would endeavor to withdraw enou time from the study of abstruse military questions to enable him to make the canvass. And now to the front come Capt. Sam. A. Criste, 'of Gallitzin, and Mr. N. R. We had the pleasure of a call yesterday to accomplish. -The Hollidaysburg Standard tells of a foremoon from our old friend Abrain Makin, of Blacklick township, now in the 78th year -The Holiidaysburg Standard tells of a young limb of the law over there who lately attempted to swell the scant volume of his clients by a unique dodge. He procured a pack of postal cards, on which he traced something like this : "Dear Sir : Call at my office immediately. I want to see you on important business." Then the cards were sent to persons living in town and country. These living in town dronned their work, and of his age, who not only enjoys the remarka-ble distinction of being the father of twentyfour children, but, what is stranger still, had seven sons and five daughters by his first wife and five sons and seven daughters by the second one—a complete reversal, as will be noticed in the matter of sex. All of the first wife's children were raised to manhood and womanhood, two of the boys subse-quently being killed in the army during the These living in town dropped their work, and those whose place of residence was further removed hitched up and drove to town with civil war, as were also two of Mr. Mamuch celerity, and all rendezvoused at the office of the young limb of the law aforesaid. When they were informed that the important business on which they were to be seen con-sisted, first, of an invitation to take a seat,

-The hay harvest for this section has been completed, and though not so large as last year, the yield may yet be said to be nearly an average one. At the beginning of this month the grass presented a willted, burntup, and altogether most unprepossing ap-pearance, but several subsequent rains came to the rescue and brought it forward to a comparatively fair standard. The wheat and type crops cannot be caviled at by the most contained for the set of the providence of the set. captions farmer, while the oats give promise of a yield rarely equaled in other years. As to the corn, it will be a fair erop, but not so large as it would have been had rain and warm weather visited us earlier in the season. The fruit crop will be an ordinary one, and the polatoes an extraordinary one. In a word, Providence has been good to us, and the man whose mission in life is to find fault and prophesy universal failure has about come to the conclusion that this isn't exactly the year he was looking for.

-Jacob Hawker seems to be incorrigible He was released from jail on the 13th and sent home to Johnstown, but he is not there now. Whiskey is Jacob's bane, and a series of big drunks with which he celebrated his oration to liberty wound up last Friday night in a row and an arraignment for a disturbance of the peace. The process for his arrest was violently resisted by Jacob, and by some means two young men named Billy Alt and Enoch Glicauff became involved in the melee which ensued. But eventually all three were gathered in by the police, and on Tuesday night of this week they were brought here and safely lodged in jail. The people of Johnstown are unanimous in saying that they would be satisfied to hear the trio escaping from their irons provided their course of flight led them to Memphis or some other place where the yellow fever is just now raging with a great rage.
