"Public confidence and flumenal stability can not be made to rest upon borrowed gold?" When trade and commerce gave assurance that the supply of the precious metals was permanent and would constantly increase then confidence became established, and the paper currency took its place by the ride of gold and silver.

You all now know that resumption has come of trade and commerce, the result of torsign balances in our favor, and not at all because of any Congressional declaration or requirement. The resumption clause was properly denounced by the St. Louis Convention as a hindrance to resumption. It was as well a hourance to prosperity, it was a terror to capital, and stoot in the way of the employment of labor. Our money, paper and entit, is now of equal value, and readily convertible, and we indulge the hope of better times in apite of the reaumption law and of its kindred party devices.
