-Bon. Charles S. Parnell, member of Parament and uncompromising friend of the oppressed and famine-stricken people of Ireland, is in Altoota as we go to press Thursday, and no doubt an ovation worthy of himself and the noble cause he represents is being tendered to him. Sorry we are not there to see.

-Mr. Adam Gable, a prominent citizen and business man of Altoons, died suddenly of heart disease at an early hour on Tuesday morning last. Deceased was born in Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, and served with credit in the Union army. He leaves a wife and five children. Interment in St. Joseph's (Catholic) cemetery this forenoon. May he rest in peace.

Rev. T. R. Jones informs us that within a few days he has received a letter from Dr. Abner Griffith, of this place, who has been spending the winter season in Florida. The doctor writes : "I am getting well, and will return to Ebensburg in the Spring, to throw out my professional shingle." —Our esteemed cotemporary the Altoona Sua furnishes us this item : "The appearance of crude oil upon the surface of ground near Freedom, Cambria county, has caused considerable excitement in that imediate section, and a well will be sunk. If there is such a place as Freedom inside the limits of Cambria county, we fall to know it. Of course, we fully understand that Freedom from the mountain hights first unfurled her banner to the air, and all that sort of stuff. But it is a locality and not a sentiment we are talking about. There is unqualifiedly no excitement in this section about oil, particularly since the tools in the Jackson township well have got fast—as we derstand is the case. Still the Freedom of the press must be recognized, and if the Sun insists on it that there is a Freedom in

Cambria county, we will do our utmost to prevent that Freedom from being abridged. -We beg leave to assure the Johnstown Tribune that what we learned about the Mellon scandal was learned before the Tri bune knew anything at all about the matter, and what we published about it was written and in type before the delectable particulars and in type before the delectable particulars had been dished up by the Tribune or any other paper. Hence the attempt of that sheet to create the impression that we obtained our information from its columns and subsequently squealed when we discovered that the story was an infamous fabrication is simply faise and in perfect keeping with the Tribune's way of doing things. We treated the scandalous story just as we would treat any story of a similar character which we did not know to be absolutely true, and if not know to be absolutely frue, and if the Tribune saw fit to overstep the bounds of prudence in this regard we are determined that it shall not charge the PREEMAN with stealing the item and afterwards squealing, 145; as it very classically observes, like a stuck pig, and accusing somebody else of laying the

It is thought that it is the consequence of the outrage away up in the State of Maine. We planted our potatoes on the 22d and they are not up yet; but, perhaps, buried in their final resting-place.

The grain must suffer, as it is just sprouting, or just up. The tender spears of wheat are bleaches white. It is most abominable weather, indescribe bly mean for a mild climate like this. The wheat is all sown here, and much of it must suffer, it no

The omnipresent and ubiquitous Frank Darrived here at our ranch just before the storm; in fact he brought the storm with him, and is longhact he brought the storm with him, and is lenghing in his aleeve about it or something else. The thoughtless man, to bring such a calamity where there is no quarantine, or other saultary arrangements or rules! But so it is. The only consolation is that he has to suffer with the rest. Yes, there is another consolation for Californians—that is, that it will not be so cold for them in the world to come. The telewanth has unstal you on the to come. The twiegraph has posted you on the cold snap ere this, but I thought I would write it out at any rate. My glasses are now frozen to my

The sale of the Aug. Walters property was conhes timbered in Northern Cambria, and as a result the bidding on it was quite lively, would be boyers from Indiana, Clearfield and Blair counties being present in force. The purchaser, Mr. Hile, resides in Clearfield county, and is the father-in-lawer Mr. Hipps, one of defendants in the writ which is marked "Hipps and Lloyd."

Still an Opportunity to Secure Wonderful Bargains,—I have still on hand a fine lot of first class Heaving Stoves, which I am willing to sell at the same prices asked for them before the recent advance, or about one-half what they are really worth at this time. Also, a few Cooking Stoves and Ranges, which I am selling at less than the present wholesale poices. Also, a large lot of Sleigh Bells at the old lowest prices, or about one-half what they will likely be worth next winter: a full stock of General Hardware, Table and Pocket Cutlery, Tea and Table Spoons, Silver Plated Ware, Revolvers, &c., &c.—all of which I am selling at less than the present wholsale prices. Also, I have a few first class Mowing Machines, which will be sold for cash at a great reduction in prices, or exchanged for good young horses. These opportunities are only offered until I lay in my new Syring stock.

Ebensburg, Feb. 10, 1880.

Ebensburg, Feb. 10, 1880. There was a man who had a clock, Ills name was Matthew Mears, He wound it regular every day For four-and-twenty years. At last his precious timepiece proved An eight-day clock to be, And a madder man than Mr. Mears I would not wish to see.

The aforesaid Mr. Mears does not live in Al-toons, or he would have known better. He would have known that that man Bob Adams, of the Lohave known that that man Bob Adams, of the Logan House, not only indicates to inquirers eight-day and twenty-four hour time, but also when it is bed-time. In addition, it is likely that he or any-body else would say that the very cheapest place where a person could buy a suit of ready-made ciothing, at prices to run lower than the lowest, would be at Golfrey Wolf's, next door to the post-office, Altoons, Let our readers make a memorandum of this latter fact.

"Try not to pass," the old man said.
"I call; my edge; 'twas you that led;"
A tear stood in the young man's eye,
And from his lips escaped "ace high,"
Draw poker.

Draw poker.

"Try not to pure!" the old man said, in the beginning. At that time, draw poker had nothing whatever to do with it, and the old man was endeavoring to induce his daughter to pass S. Himmenthal's Great Eastern Boot and Shoe Store, 1119 Eleventh avenue, Altoona. She drew from the old man's laps cold deck, which indicated a dollar or two, and she said: "You can buy for me, from Blumonthal, the nicest pair of shoes for that sam of money you ever laid eyes on." He heeded the rong of the stren, and went in and came out pleased—likewise his daughter. All other fathers and daughters are advised to follow the example we have tried to exemplify.

He who drinks and goes away
Will live to drink another day.
But he who drinks between the drinks
Right quickly in the nutter sinks.
Francis Morphy, the temperance man, made use of language similar to the foregoing in Altoona the other evening, and, on a rising vote, was himself in the majority. But we sak him and sli his supporters we ask them in all sincerity would there have been a majority, there or elsewhere, against this proposition: That Simon & Bendheim, next door to the First National Back, Altoona, sell ready-made clothing cheaper than ready-made next door to the First Antional Bank, Artoona, will cally made clothing chanper than ready-made clothing can be bought clowhere? We guess not. The Murphylics and everybody else go to Simon & Bendheim's when they want something nice, new, cheap and seasonable. ----
