DAN VOUGHTER took time between delivering two stump speeches on Saturday last, to telegraph to a friend in Washington that he could safely bet his pile on the success of the Democratic ticket in Indiana at the October election.

JAMES HERSHBERG V. JOHNSON, of Georgia, who was the Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1869 on the ticket with Stephen A. Douglas, died one day last week. He was sixty-eight years old, and had filled several of the highest offices in his State.

ACCORDING to the Republican papers, it is the "quiet" vote that is going to elect Garfield. It really does seem from the present outlook as if Garfield's vote would be "quietly" quiet when compared with Hancock's, which will vote resolutely onward like the rushing to the sea of many waters.

This nomination last week of James H. English, as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Connecticut, has deprived the Republicans of all the hope they ever had of carrying that State. Mr. English has twice been elected Governor of Connecticut, the last time in 1871, and it is generally conceded by shrewd politicians that his nomination means his election.

The Republican organs profess to have strong hopes of success from the fact, as claimed by them, that the Quakers will vote for Garfield. We suppose they will, and it will be an account of Garfield's military record, for it is well known that the Quakers are opposed to war as a mode of settling disputed questions, and could not, therefore, be expected to take any stock in such a "pet soldier" as Gen. Hancock.

SCHUYLER COLfax is said by some of the Republican papers to be in great doubt as to whether to support Van Hook as a teacher's institute lecturer, but he seems to be in demand any where as a stump speaker for Garfield. And yet since Patterson of New Hampshire, another Congressional lamb who "sawered" money in the shape of Credit Mobilier stock from Oakes Ames, has taken the stump in favor of Garfield, it seems strange that Colfax hasn't seen his way clear to imitate his example.

A GOOD DEAL of boasting is now being indulged in by the Garfield papers over what they call the Irish Republican party of the United States. So far as we have ascertained to date, A. L. Morrison, who is now on the Republican stump in Maine, where he passes himself off as a "Judge," but who is a Justice of the Peace in the party, and John H. Krogh, of Chicago, are just one-half of this formidable force. On a "what a fall is there, my countrymen!"

COLONEL RICHARD COBB, an influential centred man of Hernando, Mississippi, sent a letter last week to the Democratic National Committee in which he says: "Feeling confident that the colored people of the South will be protected in every right guaranteed to them by the constitution if Gen. Hancock is elected President, I pledge him my hearty support, and will do all in my power to elect him." This means, through Cobb's influence, a large colored Republican vote in Hernando, and you see how the face of a well understood proof the Alabama Tribune won't admit that any colored men in the South have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket, or that they will do so at the election in November.

OUR PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

CAMPAIGN BIOGRAPHIES—A BUCHANAN ROMANCE—KNIGHT TEMPLARS—POSSESSOR OF THE DEVILO—AN ADROIT VISIT—LOSING GOOD CAMPAIGN TRICKS—NATURALIZATION MILLS, ETC.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23, 1880.

To the Editor of the Cambria Freeman:

Our Mayor comes from Long Branch on Monday and holds an hour's court at his office, and the close of which he returns to the Branch to sport his fast horses along the bluff for the remainder of the week. So our country is ruled by a Philadelphian who has a Long Branch Mayor.

The Republican high-cock-aloneers are having a grand pop-pow at Long Branch, fixing up for the night of the 29th and 30th. They say the people want a respectable ticket, and they propose to give them an unexceptionable one.

The Commonwealth will be issued daily by the publishers, Richard Vaux. So Philadelphia will have one stonier pure Democratic daily newspaper.

The Democrats propose having a big demonstration on the 29th of September, at which all the clubs will turn out.

Collector Hartman is about to cause some weeping and wailing because of his reticence in publishing his name as a politician by making him a deputy collector at a salary of $3,000 a year.

Since the nomination of Garfield for the Presidency there has been seven different biographies published, all of which are Republican text-books for the campaign of 1880. There has also been three biographies of Gen. Hancock published.

It is interesting to see the hands of Colonel John W. Forney. No Presidential campaign has been so thickly covered with biographical essays on the subject as this one.

Hancock's forthcoming biography will be a book of peculiar and special interest, on account of the author's recent return to the Democratic fold.

LETTER FROM PITTSBURG.

THE CANVASS IN THE WEST—EFFECTS OF THE CANTON—EASTLY BY LAST WEEK, AT THE AGE OF 101 YEARS.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 24, 1880.

Special Correspondence of the Freeman:

The old smoke town is all life now, the move smoke the more noise and bustle, and the greater satisfaction.

Address, and the smoking fires of industry we have at night the thousands in the political processions. Up to this time the evening parades have been held by the Democrats, who manage to get tin torches well supplied with oil.

There are over one hundred and fifty Democratic clubs alone in the various wards and streets of the city.

What hot months September and October will be, politically, is presaged by this early preparation.

THE NEW COUNTY COMMITTEE was called for Saturday by Hon. James H. Forney, chairman, and the good work systematically commenced.

Gen. Moorhead, or "Old Slackwater," as he is used to be called, is chairman of the Republican Committee. He is a former member of the State Senate, and he has many warm personal friends, and since the death of Mackey seems to have a special hold on the people.
