Ir is not a pleasant thing to contemplate that while the popular vote of the country is nearly equally divided between the two parties, General Hancock's defeat is entirely attributable to the two cities of New York and Brooklyn. OUR PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11, 1889. To the Editor of the Freeman It is fervently to be prayed for that the late Democratic disaster will retire some of our Democratic leaders, and bring forth new ones with greater energy, ability, and honesty. In the late Presidential struggle the Demo-eratic press of the country was left almost without recognition, coldly neglected by the party managers, and forced to make its own fight. The reason why the Democratic party to-day is in sack cloth, instead of being arrayed in joyous habiliments, is not at all a mystery. With the best chance to win that it has had in twenty years, it has lost by the undering and impecility of its leaders. It olities, as in war, it always pays to look at terdetails. The Democratic enuse was good, but its management was bad. A blundering ordering on imbecility characterized the Democratic leadership, local and national. The Republicans nominated a man for Vice sident who was a most efficient factor in carrying a Democratic State, and the Demo-erats nominated a man for Vice President who assisted them in Josing a Democratic State. The Democratic party has lost its power through the loss of wise and honest leaders. With the reign of small men came the reign of folly and selfishness. From folly and selfishness sprang localism, egotistical ambition, personal greed and the sociities of fundamental political principles to the lust of power for the sake of spoils. The Demoeratic party jost its power and rule when it lost the direction of men who were equally qualified to rule both in the counsels of the party and that of the government. Instead of being united nationally, through factions the party is totally divided in sentiment, purose and doctrine. Although to-day inciples of the party survive as does the Colliseum yet stands and over which the Cusars strode in their promiest days of triumph, yet unhappily the leaders who represented the principles of the party and the men who followed their wise and patriotic lead have all departed, and others have taken their places. ir places. There are hundred sor instances of folly on the part of our present Democrat aders in different States. It is competent | born lathes. ow to spenk of them. Apart from conven-ounl platforms, which mean nothing, mebody can know positively what are the tenets of the Democratics party as to the currency for instance. In One the Democrats now for instance. The happlest feature about c "Muggletonian" system of politics is the def that their party can do no wrong. temeral Garfield publicly congratulates him self that the result of the election is a vindi cation of his personal character from a cam paign of abuse and slander-but it is rather a dechration of the Republican party in the infailibility of its leaders. In their creed a Republican statesman can do no wrong.— Democrats may be guilty of all sorts of erime, but the words which signify falsehood, ther, forgery and perjury are not found in the "Moggietonian" lexicon. He that is a "Moggletonian" is necessarily without sin; and crime itself, such as the purchase of votes, the forgery of election returns and the ommission of perjury to overturn the voice of the people becomes a virtue when it is committed in the interests of the Republican party. In this cause vice of all kinds is apotheosized as virtue and worshipped be cause it has been successful, and the Pres dent elect congratulates the public that the the sinners - Pottwille Standard

As the returns of Taesday's election from this State approach completeness it be-comes more and more manifest that Hancock was deteated in the two cities of New York and Brooklyn. Had those cities given the Democratic majorities which the party hada right to expect from the registration and which the best informed Republicans conceming the description of the registration and which the best informed Republicans conceming the registration of the registration and which the best informed Republicans conceming the registration and right to expect from the registration and which the best informed Republicans conce-ded, General Hancock would have carried the State of New York and would have been elected President of the United States. All the rubbish of the Republican organs as to the "voice of the people" sensible men take at its true value, and as neither in the city of New York nor yet in the city of Brooklyn did the Democratic votes recorded at the polis for Hancock and English bear their natural and legitimate relation to the Democratic votes registered before the election, the Democrats f the Union cannot be expected to dismiss

A DESPERSTE FIEND.—Murdering a Wo-morin Ris Dying Moments—The particulars of an unprecedented tragedy, in which rocks, gaus and corn-cutters played leading parts, are given in a Richmond (Va.) despatch of the 8th inst., as follows:

Intelligence has been received here of one of the most desperans and bloody crimes known in the history of murders, and one which shows how stoing instead animates a homan being even in the hour of death. The transfer took places on Sat unlay, near the village of Green Springs, in London emparts. on county.
It seems that Merrill Notion Saturday morning It seems that Merrill Nott on Saturday morning early had a quarrel with his wife's sister, what lived in the house with thom. Theroughly industated, he went out and got a large Knife asset for certifur corn, and, coming back, assemble: her with the meriseness weapon. He pursued the unfortunate woman into the yard and stabled and backed her until he thought size was dead.

After this he went into the house, and taking his gun discharged it in the air. He then releaded like weapon, and, proceeding to within a few both of where his vicitual by wellering in her blood, be placed the nuzzle at the gan under his own sho and fired, the load passing through his mostly, terring off the torque and lodging in the unper part of the jaw.

He left in his own gore, and, while struzzling on the ground gasping for reach, he noticed signs ing that the nurderer was found bidden in the tolarers hause with his throateut, though not fatality. Jealousy, insanity, and drunken ness are the theories advanced to account for the herrible crime.

—Frank Lemmens and Mrs. Margaret Meierheifer, convicted of the nurder of John Meierheifer, the woman's bushard, at West Orange, N. J., a year ago, were brought into court on Saturday at Newark for sentence. Judge Depute pronounced their doom, which was that they shall be hanged on January at the that they shall be hanged on January of the wife shoot stood that he and his sister-in-law shoply took. The nurderers took their sentence with nomparative coolness. Lammens was quiet ALMOST YOUNG AGAIN. -- My mother was afflicted a long time with neuralgia and a civil, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physician or medi-cines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again. aithough over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family.— A lady in Providence, R. L. Journal.

Timely Advice on Fall Clothes.

You are thinking of your clothing for fall: what it shall be; how and where you shall get it.

COME AND SEE US. Come and see us, or drop us a line, saying what you want, as near as you can. If you are here, you can see for yourself a great variety of things, try on what you like, and go home with the old clothes in a bundle. That is very easy; and nothing can be more satisfactory.

NOT A STRANGE PLACE. It isn't as if you were going to a strange place. The chances are you've been here before, and know something of our ways. Perhaps your neighbor has been here; and has told you it was a good place to go to. Perhaps you've only read that we sell a good many clothes, and say to people who buy them: Bring them back if you don't find them everyway to your liking.

Now this is really why we are not strangers to anybody: because we deal with everybody as with a neighbor; and expect him to come right back if he has cause of complaint.

IF YOU DON'T COME.

But, suppose you don't come. How are we going to sell you just what you want to buy, without your seeing things beforehand? Try; write; say about how much you want to pay for a business suit, dress suit, overcoat, or whatever you want; say what your occupation is; say anything that has any bearing on what we ought to send you. It will not take us two minutes to guess what you want; if we don't guess right, that's our loss, not yours.

HAVE YOUR OWN WAY! Perhaps you want your clothing made to your measure. Did you suspect that we make to measure a half-million dollars'-worth of clothing every year for people we never saw and never expect to see? You may be very certain that we have a way of doing such work without much risk of a misfit; for a misfit, you know, comes right back to us. We are pretty careful about making blunders when we've got them all to make good.

OUR WAY: Our way of doing business is to make the buyer welcome, at the outset, to all the advantage and all the guarantee he can ask for.
