DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN OF AL-TOONA.—We deeply regret to record the death of an old and valued friend and subscriber to our paper, Mr. John Rockett, of Altoona. He died suddenly, at his residence in that city, at an early hour on Monday morning last. The deceased was born in In-diana county, on a farm adjoining the public road between this place and Indiana, in the year 1836. When he was a young man lie went to Johnstown, where he learned the trade of house painting, and subsequently became a partner in that business with Paul Kingston, who died there a number of years ago. Before he located in Altoona he resided for a short time in Wilmore, or in its vicinity, where, according to our recollection, he was married to Miss Mary Storm. In 1861 he re-moved to Altoona, where he continued to work at his trade until about a year ago, when he was elected Street Commissioner by the City Council, and continued in the faith ful and satisfactory discharge of the duties of that position until stricken down on Satnrday morning last by paralysis of the brain. He was one of the best known and most respected citizens of Altoona, and seven years ago was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Blair county Everybody who knew John Rockett was John Rockett's friend—as an evidence of which the Altoona San states that when the news of his dangerous illness became known over the town, at least six | undred persons called at his residence to express their sympathy and condolence with the stricken family. He leaves a widow and one child, a daughter 16 years old. The in-terment took place from St. John's (Catho-

BOY KILLED AT JOHNSTOWN. - The Tribune of Monday furnishes the particulars of a fatal accident which befell a ten-year old lad named Albert Mullen, of Prospect, who decided success.

The correspondent down the road who sends us for publication a list of marriageable. cago Express engine. The boy had walked down the steps leading from Prospect hill to the railroad just as a freight train was passing west, and commenced throwing snow-balls at the cars. Meantime the noise of the wheels prevented him from bearing the approach of the express, which was running at full speed. The curve at that point is a short one, and the train was within a few feet of the lad before the engineer noticed him. It was then too late to do more than give two or three alarms from the whistle, and in an instant the poor little fellow was flying thro' the air for a distance of nearly thirty feet His skull was fractured, but the body was not mutilated. Death was, of course, instantaneous. The remains were taken to the some which he had left only a few moments before tall of life and spirits. No blame at-taches to the engineer of the passenger train.

A LUTTLE girl was teaching her brother the Lord's prayer the other night, and when she had said, "Give us this day our daily bread." he suddenly called out, "Pray for taffy, sister: pray for taffy, too; "whereupon she re-plied, "You forget that I am going to give You some of Sine's Tan, Wild Cherry and Hoannbend for your cold, which is a great deal better than tury."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for January, 1881, is one of the most attractive numbers ever offered to the public, brimful of good things to please all members of a family. The "New Departure," which gives an entire novel in every number, making each maga-zine complete in itself, is sure to prove attractive to the lovers of good, high-toned literature. There is never any "clap-trap" or sensation in the Lady's Book. Earnest in tone, pure in morality, it aims at elevating and benefiting women, and for more than fifty years has been accepted as a guide-book for the wives and mothers of America. The January number contains all the usual features in addition to Mrs. Benjamin's excellent story, and promises well for 1881.— We would suggest to our readers that they cannot make a more acceptable Christmas gift than the Lady's Book and FREEMAN for events of the next year must steadily enlarge the field of independent journalism.

A new administration will be inaugurated; new political occasions will create new political duties; the great commercial and industrial prosperity of the country must stimulate progress and thrift in all sections, and the tendency of political power will be toward corruption and despotism, as it ever is when the people are discrete from the stern criticism of authority by peace and plenty.

The Times will be in the inture, as it lims been in the past, admentely independent of political parties, but earnestly and learlessly devoted to integrity and garrents in our statements in parties. In the treedent and sanctity of the ballot. Dependent party organs will continue to babide about party men and party measures; to excuse the public jobber and demogracy to suppress, percent or deny the truth when party interests demand it, and to havish the regulation protect demand it, and to havish the regulation protect of the servant to the master; but the growing intelligence of the age daily multiplies the readers of the independent newsjaper, and the journals which test raffect the rapidly indreasing independence of the people will be the great American journals of the litters.

That Trans aims to reach the highest standard of the independent newspaper. It sentently opposes corruptionists and rings in all parties, whether in sity. State or nation. It epiposes every form of imperial political domination, whether represented by an individual, has faction or by a party. It opposes sectionalism North and South as the domen of the Republic, and it demands public tranquility and the supremacy of liberty and law for every climan of the trains.

The Trans will begin the New Year strongthened in all of its already exemptionally strong departments. Its Ahmais of the War will be continued in the Warsata Entries, with specially interesting extracts the reform in the other additions, and the contributors for 1881 to this important feature of the paper will be from the most destinguished solidars and civilians of both North and South. Its large list of contributors in this and in foreign countries will be more than maintained; its religious like news correspondence is uncurpassed by that of any other journal of the country; its various departments essential to a complete newspaper for the home and lamity nimic are sonstantly enlivened by fresh writers, and it will maintain the position it has won whely on its neutrin, as one of the world.

OAK HALL, PHILADELPHIA

Worth Knowing.

There is a place in Philadelphia where a stranger may buy his clothes, and fare as well as if he knew the whole city by heart; and if he knows nothing about the value of cloths, or of clothes, he is as well off, as if he were a good judge of both.

The reason is that everything to be found there is made there-made and sold under a system which rarely allows mistakes to occur, and which corrects them, if they do occur.

OAK HALL is the place; and its practice may be summed up in a few words. If you get there what you don't want to keep at the price, you return it, and get your money back.

This means a great deal more than appears on the surface. It means that you are not going to get what you will not want to keep at the price, if the merchant can help it. It means that the clothes you get there will be of honest cloths, honestly made; and that they will cost you less than as good clothes can be got for elsewhere. It means that they will be every way better worth your money than you can get elsewhere for the same money.

If it means anything less than these things—if it means poor cloths, trimmings, cutting, sewing, or in any way dishonest or illiberal dealing; the return of his goods will plague the merchant, injure his credit, and dissipate his

If it means these thingsif it means liberal and honorable dealing, valuable and trusty clothing, ease and safety in getting it, OAK HALL is the place for you to go to, or to send to; and it is worth your while to know how you can send, if it is inconvenient

Write: say what your occupation is; say what sort of use you intend to make of the clothes you want, whether for every-day wear or otherwise; what color you prefer, or what color to avoid; say about what you want to pay; say everything that you think may aid a stranger in choosing for you. You will get in reply samples of cloths and prices of whatever you want made from those cloths. You will get also the means of having your measure taken by an unskilful person. There is only one difficulty left. Somebody has got to take the risks of the dealing; for there are risks. Send your money along with your order. That covers the risk as to your good faith. We risk everything else; the fit, and your satisfaction every way. Our trade by mail
