The Reversible Overcoat first introduced thirty years ago, but did not get a fair trial on public account of the present season. It is made without seams of any kind, and the seams are arranged in such a way that there is no wrong side to it. One side of the garment is finished in a variety of styles, such as diagonal, cross, etc., and the other side is finished in a quilted plaid or check. The pockets, too, are so ingeniously contrived that no matter which side of the coat is on they are always in the right place, ready for business. We will show this week all the Reversible Coats we have; also, everything in our line that you ask for. It will surprise you to ask for anything we haven't!

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
A strange story.
I have a strange, almost incredible story to tell of an experience of my own one fearful night in the woods. My imagination had nothing to do with it, for I am a backwoodsman's daughter accustomed to the wild sounds of the forest, the loneliness, and all that is terrifying to a novice.

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
I know I had not been mistaken. I felt that I must forget myself and help the poor creature who was lying in the bushes. Yes, I felt that I must forget myself and help the poor creature who was lying in the bushes.

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
We were a lot of doctors, enjoying ourselves after the meeting of the Hippocratic Medical Society, whose members were accustomed to assemble once a year for purposes of mutual edification and improvement.

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
A touching scene.
A passenger on the Pacific Railroad, while en route recently for San Francisco, witnessed the following very touching incident:

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
Five soldiers' dreams.
A week previous to the battle of Fair Oaks a New York volunteer, who passed the night with a member of the 34th Michigan infantry, got up in the morning looking very gay and down-hearted, and when rallied about his famished horse-sickness, he said:

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.
Three years of mystery.
In 1878 a faintly named Robertson, who was living in West county, Texas. The family consisted of mother and two boys, the father having died some years before. No family in the neighborhood was more highly respected.
