PROBABLE FATAL AFFRAT.-About noon o-day, says the Altoona Sun of Monday, an ailray took place at Wright's warehouse, on Eleventh avonue, above Seventeenth street, between Frederick Swonger, white, and Jas. McGraw, colored, which will in all proba-bility prove fatal to the former. Swonger resides in the neighborhood of the Three Culverts and for the past thirteen or four-teen years has led a sober and upright life, in fact, has drank no liquor in all this time. This morning feeling unwell he indulged in a glass of brandy, and this led to a number of drinks, when he became intoxicated. He of drinks, when he became intoxicated. The spread himself out on the porch at Wright's warehouse, where he was observed by Mr. Thomas Davis, a friend. Mr. Davis told Swonger to get up or Mr. Wright would charge him $15 for the use of his platform. — His object was to induce Swonger to go home, and he probably would have succeeded had not the colored man at this time interfered, who began to tease Swonger. And it is useless to try and dis-guine the fact that our enemies are thus embedden-ed to hator for the Treasuryship. Thus forewarned, ight to be forestmen we such to be forwarmed. Availing myself of all the privileges and facili-ties incident to the position I have the honor of holding in this committee, by reason of the kind partiality of the Democratic party. I have tried to get all the information possible as to the wishes of my Democratic friends respecting our primary elections. And my honest conviction is that a very second design exactly to have the conviction of the clections. And my honest conviction is that a very general desire prevails to have the question of the system of nominations again submitted to the suf-frage of the party. With no selfish purpose in view, looking for no personal benefit, but simply regarding the best interests of Democracy. I hope the wisdom of this body will again relegate the whole subject to the people. It may be said the people had the subject before them and no definite result, was reached. True, but, as all know, the voters were not folly apprized of the matter, and from some cause many of the borougies and townships had no tickets -being thus left without the necessary provisions for ex-pressing their views. At best the arrangement was imperfect-eo much system 21 wards and townvus imperfect--- so much so that 21 wards and townhips were practically disfranchised. No vote on he different systems was taken in three wards of the different systems was taken in three wards of Johnstown, nor in the two wards of Conemaugh, nor in the two wards of Cambria, nor in the two wards of Millville, nor in the boroughs of Franklin, Prospect, Wilmore and Woodvale; nor in Cone-maugh, Elder, Jackson, Reade, Stonycreek, Sum-merhill, Susquenanna, and Lower Yaler town-ships, which in the election of 1580 cast a total Damocratic vote of 1800; whereas those wards, bor-ourds and townships that this cast and to be bughs and townships that did vote on it only cast a total vote of W79 for the different systems. The expression was, therefore, only from a fractional part of our voting strength. Although one of the part of our voting strength. systems voted on received more than twice the number of votes received by the highest of the the number of votes received by the highest of the other three, it could not be justly claimed as a ma-jority of the party vote in the county, as there was but about 21 per cent, of the votes of the county cast on the different systems, and about 40 per cent, of the votes disfranchised for want of tickets. What is now required is to refer the matter back to the people, with full information as to the differ-ent systems, a sufficient notice of the time of the election and a full sump of tickets are to ever lection, and a full supply of tickets sent to every volume district. The four systems voted on, as you are aware, were the present one, the one delegate system the in-monored delegate system, and the Crawford county system. The present system received 181 votes, the one delegate 5s, the Crawford county 550, and he increased delegate 201-making the fotal num-

As I before said, with no selfish motives, with no ambition to satisfy and no revenge to gratify, I simply plead for action that will grash out all dis consider, and for the adoption of such a system as is best calculated to get a fair expression of our people in their preferences for candidates. ing with regard to the decision of the ques-tion of the mode of electing delegates. The chair decided the motion not in order, whereupon an appeal from the decision of the chair was made and sustained by a vote of the Committee. A resolution was then offered by Mr. Flewing that the Committee proceed to adopt the necessary rules for putting the Crawford County system in operation, and that the next primary elections shares said rules and regulations. On motion of Mr. Leahey, the chairman was instructed to appoint a sub-committee of five to prepare the necessary rules and regu-lations. The chair named the following gen-lations. C. Leahey, J. J. Thomas, Dr. J. next primary elections shall be held under tlemen: C. Leahey, J. J. Thomas, Dr. J. B. Noonan, T. S. Fleming, and P. McGough. Said Committee reported the following rules and regulations, which were adopted by the County Committee :

HE took her little hand in hist A SERIES OF BURGLARIES -- Of all the nights, or, more correctly speaking, of all the mornings of the year for the commission of a crime of any kind, and especially of a burglary, last Sunday morning would seem to have been the most propitious, because so many people here, as elsewhere were up and about until two o'clock and past, feasting their eyes on the free exhibition furnished by the eclinse of the moon, on that occasion and yet that was the very time selected by some midnight marauders for getting in their work at the residence of our over-the-way neighbor, Mr. Charles Owens, as well as at our own domicil. In both instances an entrance was effected through a kitchen window, but HODEY. in our case the game was scarcely worth the powder, as the thieves seem to have discovered soon after getting in that the oft-repeat-ed axiom about printers being as poor as church-mouse was in the main correct, and that they had, therefore, struck it exceeding lean. At least they did nothing more than descend to the cellar, where they helped themselves to such provisions as they could find, after which they brought a crock of milk up stairs to the kitchen, and drank it, and from thence went to the parlor, where they gobbied up a couple of handsomely bound books, and then made their exit as they came, leaving the window hoisted with a stick to support it. Either before or after this futile attempt had been made to find something worth stealing from us, the same parties, as we have said, made a raid on Mr. Owens' residence, where they fared a great deal better, the fruits of this last venture being another lot odibles, which they devoured on the premises, a well preserved suit of clothes, belong-ing to that gentleman, and in which he was married many years ago, a pair or fine boots, nearly new, a fine shirf, a gold breast-pin, an album, a fancy box containing among other things a small pickie plated revolver, and ous other articles of less value.

After committing these depredations and attempting to gain an entrance to the resi-dence of Mr. J. G. Hasson, from which, however, they were frightened away, the noise they created having aroused the innutes, the thieves repaired to the stable of Mr. George Shettig, in the west ward, beneath which and the one attached to the Catholic parsonage they secreted a portion of the plunder. Under the first of these, at least, a young son of Mr. Ed, W. Humphrey accidentally dis-covered and brought to light on Sunday af-ternoon Mr. Owens' coat, as well as an old one of coarser texture, a rather dilapidated cest, and a well worn pair of boots. ther search resulted in finning the box and album, the first of which was broken open and the revolver referred to taken, while six or eight pictures were missing from the album. Three rusty keys on a leather strap were also found at the same place

What became of the rest of the stolen property, or, for that matter, what became of the thieves themselves, is as yet a profound mystery. The fact, however, that the house of Mr. Joseph S. Borkey, on the line of Cam-bria and Carroll townships, and about four miles north of this place, was visited on Sun-day forenoon, during the absence of the famwho were attending church at Carrolitown, and not only ransacked from cellar to garret, bureau drawers being broken open, pockets turned wrong side out, and much other devilment committed, but a lot of meat and other provisions, as well as several knives, forks, dishes, etc., and also a revolver carried off, leaves no room to doubt that the same parties committed all three of the burgharies. Whether this is so or not, it is certainly to be hoped that the villians will soon be captured and brought to justice, and that those who have suffered at their hands may have the satisfaction of seeing them punished for their crimes.

Apropos of these robberies, we may say that still another one was committed in broad daylight at the residence of Mr. Aaron Sherbine, in Croyle township, but just when our friend and informant, Mr. John Schroth, the increased delegate 301-making the total num-ber, as before stated, 379. Now, whatever may be our individual opintons, or were we a unit on any one of the four systems, it would endanger the success of our inture elec-tions for us a committee to make a decision es-preciaity were that decision to be in favor of either of the three systems which are so hargely in the minority.
