SENATOR BECK is reported to have Democrats should take in the case of the death of President Garfield. "It should be a time when love of country should rise above all party questions, As to my own course. I would be in favor of some conservative Republican, say Henry B. Anthony, of Rhode Island, for the position of President protem of the Senate, and thus avoid any inducement for any insane person or political fanatic to desire the death of Mr. Arthur. In such a contingency, this would be a graceful recognition of the fact that, under the great calamity which has hefallen the nation, the intensel- party spirit and the eagerness for spoils were for the time forgotten. MRS DAISY OAKS DUDLEY the handsome and fashionable wife of Francis H Dudley, to whom she was married in June of last year, and who lived in a eattage on the summit of Orange monntain. N. Daisy looked at the rie and in a provoking way said : "You know I don't want that buggy, I want my phaeton," "It won't do, Daisy; it's going to rain; don't you see how clondy it's getting ?" We do not propose for the reason just stated to discuss at length the que tions that will be considered by the committee, but will briefly refer to one of them, as we did a year or two ago, when the Harrishurs Provide called attention to the sphnet. We agreed then with the Patriot and still agree with it in saving, that whatever necessity may have existed before the adoption of the new constituting for the election of Senatoral delegates to a State convention, there is not a particle of reason for their election at the present time. Each county has now its separate representation in the Legistoture and as a necessary consequence its separate representation in a State convention, and the original reason for the existence of Senatorial representation in a State engyention having thus fallen, the england of electing them angle to fall with it. Sonatorial delegates being therefore purely ornamental, the committee, we trust, will recommend to the Williamsport State convention that in the future they be abolished.

In really seems as if no member of a State Legislature can sufficiently disgrace himself to render his renomination. impossible. In this State, a few years ago, Potroff, a member from Philadelphin, who had been expelled for bribery in connection with the Williamsnort boom bill, was returned by his sympathetic Republican constituents only to reach a still lower depth of infamy, and now the Republicans, or a large portion of them, of the Senatorial district in western New York represented last winter at Albany by the self-confessed corrupt "Lot Sessions, are making a strong effort to renominate him. At Fredonia, where all sorts of garden seeds are extensively cultivated, and where, we presume, Sessions lives, delegates in favor of giving him another chance at his little game in the Senute were elected last week by a vote of 206 in his fayor to 77 against him. This of course is only a straw, but it shows which way the wind is blowing in that district, Sessions admitted under oath last win ter before a committee of the Legislature that he had often corruptly used under indictment by the Grand Jury of Al sany for paying Bradley, a member of the Heuse, $2,000 to vote against Conkling for U. S. Senator. His proper residence would of course be in the penitentiary, but the chances are decidedly good that his "reform" constituents will not agree to sacrifice soeminent and pore a patriot.

W. G. Muse and His Love Transactions of the singular love transaction of W G. Muse, a young civil engineer, of West Newton, who a few weeks non suddenly disappeared from his old time hannts. But for the sake of new readers, or toesibly forgetful ones, it is not impropriate to briefly recount the story. Muse for several years had been engaged to be married to Miss Florence Donnies, of the village of Roston, on the Youghlogheny. On Thursday, June 16th, Muse was married to Miss Douglass at the residence of the latter in Boston. The next day he went up to West Newton, prom-Ising his bride that he would be back to see her on the following Saturday, and take her up to West Newton to live. Muse, however, had some time previously fallen deeply in love with a Miss Paul, of West Newton, and on the Sanday following his marriage to Miss Douglass, he started to Pittsburg, acsommanied by Miss Paul and her two brothers, with the intention of marrying her when they reached the city. After they got to the city Mass informed the girl and her brothers that he was already married and that he couldn't marry her. The brothers tried to get their sister to go back home, but she wouldn't go, and left with Muse for parts

When Miss Douglass, or Mrs Muse, learned of Muse's action, she and her brothers at once took steps to capture Muse and bring him back. In spite of all efforts it was im possible to find out where he was for a time, and then it was learned that he was at Youngstown, Ohio. Mr. Larimer Douglass, a brother of the forsaken bride, obtained the appointment of Deputy Sheriff for the purpose of bunting on the fugitives. He got a requisition for Muse, but before he could serve it. Muse had left and gone to Cleveland. Mr. Douglass followed there to find that Muse and Miss Paul had gone to New York. The pursuer reached New York only in time to miss his man. The next aly in time to miss his man. The next and of Muse was that he was in Windsor. Capada. Mr. Donglass kept a close watch tracked his man through various places, but finally lost him. A few days ago he got on Denver. Before the law and Mr. Douglass could reach there, Muse had left for Dakota Territory. At last he caught his man, and armed with a requisition upon the Governor of Dakota, took Muse in charge and brought him back 2,000 miles to Pittsburg. At a quarter past 5 o'clock last evening, Mr. Danglass got a commitment from Alderman Kennedy and locked Muse up in the county iall, in default of $2,000 ball, on a charge of Miss Paul had accompanied Muse through all his travels, and when he was arrested she refused to feave him, and came back to Pittsburg with Douglass and her lover, paying her own fare. After her lover was placed in jall last evening she did not go back home to her mother in West Newton, but obtained ledging in the city, and express-ed a determination to slav by Muse. It is not absolutely 'certain that Muse has been guilty of bigamy. When he left Pitts-burgh with Miss Paul the girl's brothers aded him not to marry her until he could do legally. Mr. Douglass could not be seen by the reporter last evening, to ascertain what information be had to lead him to make the charge of bigamy against Muse, and it may be possible that the information was made upon a supposition in order to bring Muse back, for he could not have been brought back on a simple charge of deser-No time is yet fixed for a hearing of the charge of bigamy, but it is probable there will be other developments to-day.—
