The laying of track for the detour which is to be made from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at a point a short distance sest of Cresson, near Adams' Mill, has been commenced, and the bed of what is known as the New Portage Railrad is being followed. Workmen are busily engaged cleaning out the tunnel, a few miles from the diverging place, and the earth and rock which fell in at intervals since the absnounment of the thoroughfare will soon be removed. It is stated that the roudbed on the eastern slope, as far as Hollidaysburg, will be put in substantial condition within a brist space of time, and as the grade is not so heavy as on the mind line between Gallitzin and Altoona the advantage to be gained by adding this improvement will be manifest. From Hollidaysburg the rosts of the present branch road to Williamshurg. Blair county, will be followed, and from thence the grading and track-laying will be centinued to the vicinity of Petersburg. Huntingdon county, some six miles west of Huntingdon, where connection with the main stem will be made. It is further stated that some thirteen miles in distance will be cut off by the opening up of this detour, which is equivalent to a saving of half an hour in making the run between Cresson and Petersburg, while there are other advantages to be derived in the way of requiringless motive power to move trains, etc. One of the main features of the new route lies in the fact that in case may accident should happen that a considerable period. The tonnel on the New Peringe is shorter, and with some necessary repairs can be made safer than the former. We are not informed whether the defour will be used for the moving of freight, or fast through passenger trains, or for both, but all this will be developed in due course of time. The new ine will give Altoona and Tyrone the go by, but this will not make much difference to these places, as the buik of traffic, both passenger and freight will continue to pass over the main stem.

PETTY CASES IN COURT.

SOME SOUND SENSE FROM JUDGE DEAN ON THIS GREAT AND GROWING EVIL.

On Tuesday of last week, the first week of Court, Judge Dean, before passing sentence in a trivial case of assault and battery in which the jury found the accused not guilty, but divided the costs equally between the prosecutor and the defendant, referred to the fact that the time of the Court had been ecupied for eight hours in trying three unimportant cases, in each of which the same verdict had been rendered, and then drew the following sensible conclutions for the benefit of Justices of the Pence here and eisewhere, as we find them reported in the Johnstown Tribune. His Honor said:

cases have found that there was nothing in any of them calling for consistion and punishment. It tamper and had conduct deserving of consure there has undoubtedly been, but nothing deserving the remaities of the law. This is the deliberate opinion of thirty-six men, under eath, after strontively hearing the evidence, the arguments of counsel, and the law from the Court; and, after careful deliberation, we have no hesitation in saying that in each case the verdict was exactly right. The Court decidedly concurs in each verdict of the jury. Now the question that arises in the administration of justice is: Ought it to cost the parties this comparatively large sum of $145.88, and the county an additional expense of at least $150, to ascertain that the matter in lituation is of no importance to anybody, and that these are trivial cases? We think not. The law gives to the committing magistrate the undoubted right to examples their differences—to settle them between the parties when they first come before him, and so arrive at the end of the case, which, if a thick then, would cost the parties that a triffing sum.

We do not hesitate to say that all the difficulties. t a triffing sum. We do not hesitate to say that all the difficultie We do not hesitate to say that all the difficulties in these cases might have been composed at home if the pioper officers had exercised the duties of their offices with a view to making peace, as they ought to do. Justices of the Feace are peace officers, and should promote the peace by urging settlements of quarrels and other trivial differences. Of course the incorrigible and the victous should be beaut over to answer; but magistrates, district atternoys, hawyers and courts are the officers appointed by the Countitation and the laws to administer justice, and to properly perform this duty it is incumbent up in them to discourage trivial and caseless hitgation, not only in the interest of the parties immedia ely concerned, but in the interest of the public. The parties in these cases as usual, we presume, went to law to obtain what they call satisfaction, and they have it in the paynemal, we presume, went to law to obtain what they call satisfaction, and they have it in the payment of nearly $150 of their hard-earned wages in lawyors fees, fees of the efficers of the court, mileage on the Pennylvania railroad, and such things. It seems to us it would have been far more satisfactory to these parties to have paid this amount for flour, meat and clothing for themselves and their families than to expend it in this way. We hope that further efforts will be made by committing magistrates and others to prevent these trivial cases by endeavors to settle them before they reach court, where the courts to the parties consume their hard-earned wages for that which to them is worse than nothing.

HOLIDAY GOODS.-We cltp the following from the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette of the 2d inst.

The indications are favorable for a busy season during the approaching helidays, and our merchants are stocking up so as to be ready to meet all demands that may be made upon them. Among others who have been put time their keneses to order for the occasion, is Mr. George W. Pilegs, the well-known jeweler, of Yo. 129 Smithfield street, on a direct line from the Union depat. He has just returned from the east with a stock of goods which surpresses in extent and variety anything he has yet exhibited in this city. TOO MANY GOODS and NOT ENOUGH MONEY

Is what's the matter with us now! That is to say, we have bought such a large assortment of goods this fall that we cannot find room on our shelves and counters to place them; so we shall be glad to exchange them with the public for the public's money, as we can find plenty of places to put all the cash any of our old or new customers have to spare. In

BOOTS AND SHOES

We have the largest and most varied assortment we have ever carried. We have taken special pains this fall in selecting our stock of Ladies' Fine Snobs, and we take pride in saying that we have much the finest assortment in Ebensburg, while in Boots for Men and Boys everybody knows we keep twice as many as any other merchant in town; so it is useless for us to say anything further about Boors or SHOES, except that we have all kinds and qualitie, as well as

OUR STOCK OF CLOTHING is much larger than we have ever before kept. We have found it difficult heretofore on account of our meagre assortment to fit children from 4 to 10 years of age, but now we have all the sizes requisite for children of any age, while for men we have suits at any price desired, and will guarantee to sell you a complete outfit as cheap as the same kind of a suit can be bought at any other establishment in the State. Our special bargain, however, and it is a great bargain indeed, is a

PHILADELPHIA

TIMES Now stands confessedly at the head of Philadelphia journalism in all that makes a thoroughly complete, general and family newspaper It is more complete in its news, in its special correspondence, in its varied contributions on all subjects of popular interest, and in all the qualities of a newspaper for the family circle and for the business man than any of its contemporaries, because its facilities and resources are equal to every want of a first-class (2)

"The Weekly Times" has nearly doubled its during the past year. Its contributors from week to week are among the foremost men of the nation, and no department of news or literature is slighted in any number on any pretext. It is adapted as well to women as to men; hence, although its political intelligence is full and accurate and its political editorials free and fearless, liberal provision is made for literary, dramatic and musical matters, travels and adventure, fiction, poetry, fashions and the chronicle of current social events. In all these departments the pens of the best writers are engaged, while selections from other journals are made with care, taste and fullness that are unsurpassed.

THE "ANNALS OF THE WAR"-chapters of unwritten history contributed by prominent actors in the war of the rebellion, are a valuable feature of the paper and have become a recognized depository of such matters, whether from Northern or Southern sources. This department, as well as all others, will be kept fully up to the high standard of former years.
