SONG-SNUBTHE BOSSES-LET THE PROPLE BE MASTERS PHILADELPHIA Feb. 5, 1882. [Regular Correspondence of the FREEMAN.]

A STALWART STRIPLING-A SLEIGH-RIDING

DEAR MCPIKE-You seem to be somewhat proud of that sixteen yearling of yours .-Well, it is a stripling that almost any fond "parient" would be proud of. No man in the State has so precocious a bantling. It has the loftiest head of any county bantling in the Commonwealth. There is no half breed in it. It is a pure stalwart stripling, and, if it does not meet with a backset, when it arrives at the age of maturity will be of gi gantic proportions. The CAMBRIA FREE-MAN is unsurpassed for the variety of its contents, and for its able and well written editorials. It discusses all timely public and political subjects clearly, forcibly and impartially. The FREEMAN is the ablest Democratic county weekly newspaper in Pennsylvania I see that Ebensburg has bad a "doe"

Ebensburg, should they get up a sleighing party to Carrolltown, will surely not be so ungallant as to ignore the "does." Before I got to be an old stag, during my young buck days, next to skating, sleigh-riding was my greatest enjoyment. Bucks used, in days of should come a change, that party ties yere, to celebrate the glorious sleigh-rides by singing inspiring songs, a recollection of which suggests to me the idea of improvising a song for the "bucks" of Ebensburg to sing when sleighing to Carrolitown, provided they take the "does" with them. My aesthetic poetry-making machine has remained so long unused that it is a little rusty and out

The near approach of Lent is used as an occasion for crowding a number of entertainments into a short space of time. Entertainments are crowding thick and fast .-There will be an "awful" amount of dancing between this and the commencement of the Lenton season. It is wonderful how terrapins are being devoured at aesthetic enternments. The aesthetically aesthetic portion of our citizens who respect freligious sentiment, but wish to have a good time during | day. Lent, will go to Atlantic city, as that charming aesthetic watering place commences the gaities of winter season with and continues during the whole Lenten season. They have magnificent entertainments in that city dur-

President Arthur is a gay deceiver and a fascinnating wretch, He flirts with Mr. Stephens with violets and roses, and at the same time squeezes Longstreet's hands un-der the table. The wife of William Moyer, of Bern township, Berks county, committed suicide der the tab'e.
