WASHINGTON MANDATES. Washington society sighs, but sighs in vain, for Captain Howgate's "daring" little yacht parties down the Potomac. The Captain and the yacht are Howgate's picture, however, is Presidents are becoming very expensive individuals for Republics. It cost Tilden $200,000 to support Hayes four years, and it cost the government 180 -000 to bury Garfield; besides there now comes six men who during Garfield's illness worked the Jennings' refrigerator a sort of voiceless hand-organ with a breath registering 60 degrees Fabreners were neglected by the remunerating committee, and Congress is asked to pony up again. BLAINE AND BELMONT. "Things are not what they seem." The public is looking with great interest to future developments coming out of that highly exciting and dramatic scene in the Foreign Relations Committee. Blaine said Belmont was not gentleman, and Belmont said Blaine was a bully and a coward. How much longer will the public have to wallow in imaginative gore? The young New Yorker struck a very sore and tender nerve of the old Maineite. Surely all the unpleasant odor the Peruvian guano busness has not been il-limited. SOLDIER VS. SOLDIER. All the Republican Gubernatorial booms, even the Farmer Butler boom, seem to have fizzled out, and the friends his nomination for Governor by the Republican State Convention. As the Republicans of Pennsylvania have settled upon a soldier as their candidate for Governor, and as the Democrats have seemingly settled upon a civillian as their candidate for Governor, would it generated been perpetuated in our country during the exciting struggles of the past fifty years has so stained the name of hospitable Ireland as this cowurdly and unprovoked assassination of a friendly stranger, and until the murderers of Cavendish and their candidate for Governor, would it not be politic for the Democrats to place our sountry's name. a soldier candidate on their ticket for one of the other State offices? The Democrats have as glorious a list of soldiers to choose leaders from as have the Republicans, In Major Moses Veale the Democrats have as great a war veteran, as have the Republicans in General James Beaver. Major Veale has a more glorious war record than Gen. Beaver, Veale has a war record before which Beaver's record, even with his 306 brass medal added, would grow dim. Major Veale participated in the following described battles and engagements in the late war, viz: Boliver Heights, Cedar Mountain, Gettysburg, Chancellorsville, Wantratchia, Brandy Station, Missionary Ridge, Rocky Face Ridge, Nicka-Trace, Riggold, Dalton, Snake Creek Gap. Ressacca, Dallas, Cassville, nah, and the seiges and captures of Bentonville and Averysboro. He was a plank and struck him a blow that broke wounded six times. One ball passed through his body and right lung, and narrowly escaped death on many occasions. But not only is his military record good and brilliant, but as a civillian he has an unblemished reputation. elevate the standard of any party, and reflect character upon the ticket. A BLOODY DEED.

THE NEW IRISH SECRETARY AND HIS ASSIST-ANT FOULLY MURDERED

DUBLIN, May 6 .- A terrible tragedy occurred here to-night. Lord Frederick Cav-endish, the new Secretary, and Mr. Thomas Henry Burke, the Under Secretary, were as inated in Phoenix Park. About half-past seven they left the Under Secretary's lodge to walk over to the Chief Secretary's resi When within one hundred vards of the Phonix Monument they were attacked by four men wearing slouched hats. It is ed Mr. Burke was first assailed and stabled through the heart. Lord Frederick Cavendish attempted to defend him, but he too was stabbed by the assassins. They re-peatedly plunged their knives into the breasts of their victims, and having cut their throats they got on a car and drove rapidly from the park by the Chapelized gate. A few minute afterward a man walking along the park road found the bodies covered with plood, nd at once informed the police, who had the bodies removed to the Stephens Hospital. A slight examination was made, and it was found that Lord Frederick Cavendish's arm was also broken. The news rapidly spread and created the wildest excitement and consternation in the city. Lord Spencer and the Viceregal party were just going down to dinper at the lodge when the news was sent to Some members of the household were at the opera at the Gaiety Theatre and were sent for. When the cause of their departure was known the excitement was intense and a proposal was made to stop the perform which was ultimately cut short. Lord Frederick Cavendish only arrived in Dublin this afternoon along with Earl Spennew Lord Lieutenant. He ant at the installation ceremony in Dub. in Castle, and left there with Mr. Burke, his fellow-victim, early in the evening. It is stated that some lads riding bicycles in the park saw the attack and the murders, which were the work of less than a minute eople were within a few hundred yards of the scene of the assassination, but no one ap pears to have been near enough to interfere. When the bodies were first found Lord Frederick Cavendish's lips were moving, as if he vere trying to speak, but he showed no further signs of consciousness. It is needless to add that the assassinations are attributed to the Fenians, although this must be pure conjecture. The assassins were seen entering the park on a car and driving rapidly along the main road, and from all accounts they must have encountered their victims as they were crossing the road. Robbery could not have been their object as nothing on the bodies was touched. PARNELL AND DAVITT ON THE ASSASSINA-TION-A RINGING MANIFESTO. LONDON, May 7 .- Parnell and Davitt have spoken upon the assassination. Parnell said: "I am horrified more than I can express. This is one of the most atroclous crimes ever committed. Its effect must certainly be most damaging to the interests of the Irish people I have always found Lord Frederick Caven fish a most amiable gentleman, painstaking and strictly conscientious; in the fulfilment of his official duties. I did not share the disappointment expressed in Liberal Irish circles regarding his appointment, as I anticipated that principal reform of the present session, such as the amendment of the land act, would be under Gladstone's personal super-vision and I believed the administrative reforms would be somewhat postponed. I ot conceive that any section of the people of Ireland could have plotted deliberately against the life of Lord Frederick, and I surprised the Dublin police, who had been able to protect Mr. Forster, should an parently not have taken any steps to watch over his successor during the few hours of his official life in Ireland. There seems to be an unhappy destiny presiding over Ireland which always comes at the moment when there seems some chance for the country, to destroy the hopes of its best friends. I hope ople of Ireland will take immediate one not a gentleman and the other a and practical steps to express their sympathy bully and a coward?

DAVITT'S DENUNCIATION. Mr. Daviet said : "No language I can pos sibly command can express the horror with which I regret the murders, or my despair at es. When I heard of them Saturday night 1 could not credit the news I grieve to think when the Government has ust run a risk in introducing a new policy when everything seemed bright and hopeful when all expected the outrages to cease, this terrible event should dash our hopes. I wish to God I had never left Portland. The crime was without motive. It is not only the most fatal blow that has ever been struck at the Land League, but one of the most disastrous blows which has been sustained by the national cause during the last century. Its occurrence at this particular juncture seems like a terrible destiny. My only hope is that sassins may be discovered and punished as they deserve. It is wonderful how the age could occur within a few hundred yards of the constabulary depot." THE IRISH LAND LEAGUE.

The following manifesto of the Land League was adopted this afternoon at a hurriedly summoned meeting at Westminster

To the People of Ireland : On the eve of what seemed a bright fature for our country the evil destiny which has apparently pursued as for centuries has struck at our hopes another time. In this hour of sorrowful gloon we venture to express our profoundest sympathy with the people of Ireland in the calamity that has befallen our cause through this horrible deed, and with those who determined at the last hour that a policy of conciliation should supplant that of anarchy and national distrust. We carnestly hope that the attitude and action of the Irich people will show to the world that assassination, such as has startled as almost to the abandonment of the hope of our country's future, is deeply and religiously abhorrent to their every feeling and instinct. We appeal to you to show by every manner of expression that, amidst the universal feeling of horror which the assassination has excited, no people feel so great a detestation of the atroctity, or so deep a sympathy with those whose hearts must be seared by it, as the nation upon whose prooperity and reviving hopes it may entail consequences more ruinous than those that have fallen to the lot of unhappy Ireland during the present generation. We feel that no act that has ever been perpet ated in our country during the exciting struckles On the eve of what seemed a bright future for

A MOTHER'S TERRIBLE INHUMANITY .-Nancy Henry, a young negro woman, 28 years old, was brought to Selma, Ala., on Wednesday, from a plantation thirty miles distant, and lodged in jail, charged with killing her son, a boy ten years of age, by con-tinued and fiendishly barbarous treatment. Ten days ago she commenced maltreating her son in a particularly cruel manner, and from that day until the moment when death relieved him of all misery he has been in a lition superlatively pitiful. An old rusty seythe blade was brought into play, and with this the helpless was literally backed to pieces. From head to foot his body presented a succession of revolting cuts, gashes, bruises and running Last Sunday, late in the afternoon, stretched on a thin ragged pallet, placed in an out of the way corner of the house, the boy died. -The Chicago Inter-Ocean made a mysteions but prominent announcement the other day that an advanced step in railroading has overed which will revolutionize that business and put it tifty years ahead of the age. It says the officials of six of the largest and most enterprising roads in the Mississippl Valley were for two days discussing the new improvement, the nature of which will be announced in a few days.

-Marie Konlg, a German woman, aged 56 years, murdered her son Auguste, 5 years old, in Boston, on last Tuesday morning, by cutting his throat with a case knife. She then cut the throat of her daughter Mary, aged 13, but not fatally. Her son Alfred was cut in a dozen places and a boy of 17 was wounded, neither of them fatally. Mrs Konig then attempted to commit suicide by cutting her left leg below the knee. Judge Dean said :

 Wednesday afternoon of last week a man named John Charlebols, accompanied by two of his children, attempted to cross a lake in the Gatineau lumber district, near Ottawa. Ont. The ice being in bad condition, the man went through. The children, aged 7 and 11 years, bravely went to his rescue and made a desperate effort to save him. In this they were unsuccessful, and, the ice giving beneath them, all three perished. -An Omaha man, in danger of losing his use by the foreclosure of a mortgage, sold his wife to her admirer for the $200 needed to satisfy the claim. That was two years ago, at which time the proceeding caused considerable comment. The new couple lived amicably together until lately, when the original husband, having prospered dur-ing his period of bachelorhood, bought back the woman at an advance of $50.

-On Sunday evening two boys, named Newton Metz and Julius Kendall, aged 15, got into a quarrel at Glorin Gap, W. Va., over a dog belonging to one of them, which the other charged with killing his father's sheep. From words they came to blows, when Kendall stabbed Metz in the left breast, the blade penetrating the lower lobe of the lungs and in the stomach, inflicting a wound gh which the bowels protrude will die, if not already dead. Their son on Saturday went to town and pon returning found his father dead and his mother dving from bullet wounds from a re The woman left a letter saving that she had shot her husband because he intended to disinherit the son, and she preferred that both should die, that the son might enjoy the property undisturbed. The act was deliberately planned and skilfully executed. -L. H. Newton, an engineer on the L. and N. R. R., returned to his home in Louisville. Ky., on Thursday morning and found his wife in bed unconscious, and at her side a four-year-old adopted child, dead. A note on the table written by Mrs. Newton was to the effect that she had given morphine to the child and taken a dose herself, for the pur pose of destroying the life of each. The father of the boy, a Mr. Stusser, husband of Mrs. Newton's deceased sister, was to be married that day, and she was apprehensive that the father would take the child from her, and this prompted the act for the de-struction of both lives. Mrs. Newton, it is -The trial of James Quinn, accused of criminal assault, ended in an unusual manner at Sunbury, en Wednesday of last week, When Sarah Heaton, the victim of the assnult, aged fourteen years, was called, she refused to testify. The entreaties of her father, mother and friends availed nothing, and when informed by the Judge that she would have to go to jail if she persisted in the refusal to testify, she said she preferred that to sending the prisoner to the penitentiary The prisoner thereupon sprang forward and proposed marriage to the girl. suspended, a Justice was called in, and the couple were united in wedlock. The Judge then instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

rtly after noon on Sunday last smoke was seen issuing from the interior of the massive stone Court House, in Pittsburgh, and by 1 o'clock the stone walls only remained. The fire created intense excitement, and burning building fears were entertained that the prisoners would escape. There was no occasion for alarm, however, as the jall was not in danger, and a close guard was kept over the inmates, who were not aware that a fire was in progress near them. As soon as the fire was discovered a number of officials and others forced their way into the burning building and succeeded in saving nearly al of the records and law library. While en-deavoring to save the records in the Jury sioner's office, Harry McDermott, grandson of Jury Commissioner Hogan, was killed by falling glass. Several firemen narrowly escaped death by burning, and a num ber were more or less injured by the falling debris, but the accident to McDermott is b lieved to be the only one resulting fatally The building destroyed was of stone, and originally cost about $200,000, and many thousands have been expended in improve ments. The insurance on the burned portion is $50,000.

DUTIES OF SUPERVISORS. -To the Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel we are indebted for the following sensible article on the du-ties of Supervisors of public roads, to whom we commend its careful consideration : "The office of Supervisor of public roads or ave a township is an important office. The helder of this office occupies a responsible position befor the public. He is in many respects the custodia this office occupies a responsible position before the public. He is in many respects the custodian of the differes—their pecuniary interests are enhanced by the proper discharge of his duties, and to some extent their safety and comfort also. And he is holding a responsible place from the fact that he is entrusted to levy a tax on the people, and to expend it. It would be well for those elected to this office to consider how important a trust has been committed to them, and that they are holding no mean place among the office holders of our Commonwealth. They may readily see the duties belonging to their office if well performed contribute at once and more directly to the benealt of our citizens than do those of any other office. His duties are not of those that are skirked, or only attended to when other things may not require his attention. He has taken upon himself to serve the public in this capacity, and the public are expecting his services for the reason that they have a right to them. There are many offices of trust the holders of which may shirk duty and decive and not be detected, but not so with the Supervisors. The condition of the roads under his ears are all the while bearing testimony, either to his faithfulness or eitse to his neckect of duty. And now if the office is one of se much importance, and if its duties well performed are of so much importance, and if its duties well performed are of so much importance, and if its duties well performed and as all that there now if the office is one of se much importance, and if its duties well performed are of se much immediate benefit to the people, and as all that these overseers of our roads may do on them or not do on them must and will be evident, may we not conclude that there reasons and motives enough to stimulate those to do good work who have just taken charge of our roads for the year."

DR. MOTT'S ENDORSEMENT OF SPEER'S PORT WINE. - The celebrated Dr. New York, speaks wonders for Mr. Speer's efforts to raise the Oporto Grape in New Jersey. The Doctor has spent years in Portugal and the wine districts of France, and knows what he is talking about. Read what he says: 62 MADISON ARRESTR, N. Y.

MR. ALFRED SPEER — Dear Sir: The visit which I made last year to your vineyards, wine presses and vaults at Passaic, N. J., satisfies me thoroughly that the wines produced by you are pure and unadulterated, and the very best that can be offered to the public for medicinal uses.

Acting on my favorable impression at the time, I have since recommended the Port Wine; more particularly in my practice, and am satisfied with marked benefit to my patients.

There can be no better proof to the doubting mind, as to the Wine being made of the finest Oporto Grape, than a visit to the acres of land covered with the vine bearing the luxuriant fruit. Wishing you success in your praiseworthy enterprise, I remain respectfully yours.

JUDGE DEAN ON TAVERN LICENSES. - We have published from time to time the views expressed by Judge Dean on the subject of the first term of court in every year in each trict is the subject of more or less agitation At the recent Blair county court, which convened week before last, the usual difficulties presented themselves when the remonstrances against granting license to certain applicants were before the court for its consideration. We publish below the remarks made by the Judge in announcing the conclusions at which the court had arrived The concluding portion of them will probably Interest some persons in this county whose license petitions will be presented to the court for its action at March term, 1883.

Judge Dean said:

Judge Dean said:

It may, of course, and dentitiest does, seem to the coursel somewhat aroltrary to refuse these licenses and grant some others; but we have not acted arbitrarily in the matter, but have endeavored to grant such licenses as we thought, under the law, should be granted, and have refused such as we thought ought to be refused. In every case our discretion has been exercised in view of the particular evidence adduced in the case, and the locality of the house; and having exercised our discretion, after a full hearing and careful examination of the facts, we intend to addere to one decision, and we do not intend to change it by soile-liations or on motions to reconsider. We do not say we will not hear motions to reconsider—it is our duty to do that if they should be made—but, as our discretion has been exercised after full consideration, it is not at all probable that we will make any change, in any case, in the decision we have come to until another year has passed.

We have granted allogether in the county fifty one ilcenses, including those granted at the January term. It was enidhers on the part of the remoustrants that 'the 'licenses should not be increased, and there has been no increase in propertian to the population. In 1850 the population was 27 529 and the number of licenses, hotels, eating houses, etc., was 58, or one to every 375 inhabitants. In 1870 the population was 28,001, with 47 licenses, or one for every 1.200 inhabitants. In 1860 the population was 28,001, with 47 licenses, or one for every 1.200 inhabitants. In 1860 the population was 28,001, with 47 licenses, or one for every 1.200 inhabitants. In 1860 the population of the county is now probably not much less than 58,000 and the number of licenses show therefore the county is now probably not much less than 58,000 and the number of licenses show therefore the county is now probably not much less than 58,000 and the number of licenses show therefore much less than $5,000 and the number of licenses 61, not much in excess in two years age. Statistics show therefore the country has now only one license so every 1,100 or 1,200 of the population, while in 1880 there was one for every 37$; and we think, therefore, that the traffic is now confined to about as narrow a limit as it can be under the law. It has been alleged here—not proven, but alleged—in regard to some of the houses licensed, that they are not kept as hotels, but only as drinking saloons. The law does not contemplate the livensing of saloons and next year. If this apparator, is ing of salcons, and next year, if this question is raised, we will require applicants to show by the production of their registers, or other proof, that the public has used them as hotels; and if the public has not so used them, it matters not whether they are large or well furnished or not, that her will be taken a midden. will be taken as svidence that they are not necessary and should not be licensed.

MARING CROWS USEFUL. - Mr. W. S. Morgan, of Morgan's Mills, Somerset county utilizes the crow in a way that will astonis some of our readers. His experience is give en in the American Agriculturist as follows:

"For the past nive seasons, I have, just before my corn came up, sowed on the field about a quart of corn to the acre, and repeated the operation as often as necessary, until the corn was so larguing that they could not pull it up. If the corn is soaked until tender, they prefer picking what they cat from the surface rather than to pull the young plants to get it. The cost of the corn thus sown is but a trifle; as a result I have a great number of crows almost constantly on my field, and after they have been satisfied with the corn, they pick up all the insects, grubs, and out worms they find as a descert. In raising fifty acres of corn since adopting this plan, I have not lost a hundred stake by the crows and out worms combined." en in the American Agriculturist as follows:
