Milliken, formeriy a lawver of Holliday burg, and for a time Colonel of the Fifth regiment of the N. G. P., but who went to Carlo, Egypt, about years ago, is laboring under such serious mental disorder that it is more than probable it will become necessary to take her to an insane asylum. About a year ago she sued for and obtained a divorce in the Blair county court, and the recent arrival of Col. Milliken at New York so agitated and distressed her mind that it soon became apparent to her friends that her reason was dethroned. In connection with this unfortunate affair a very louching incident is related. The only child of the divorced couple, a little girl eight years old, hearing it said that her father would pass through Altoons on a certain day, on his way from New York to Pittsburgh, near which city he has a brother residing, arose early in the morning of the day in question and before any of the family were up, and stealing from the house, started to walk to Altoona to meet him. This parade is being gotten up on a scale which is intended to rival the splendid Mardi Gras festivais of Memphis and New Or-leans, and if it should fall below that stan-dard it will not be too utterly strange for anything. Afterward will be, by preconrted arrangement, the grand procession to the grove, where music, mirth, feasting and olic will engage the rest of the day. In the evening will occur a flight of fireworks, the equal of which was never seen before in Cambria county. Good order will be pre-served throughout the day and evening, and the fairest lady and the most distinguished gentleman may go, enjoy themselves and be glad. A general invitation to the public to

THE ANNUAL COMMENCEMENTS AT LO-RETTO. - For the first time in many years we attended, on Wednesday last, the annual commencements at St. Francis' College for boys and St. Aloysius' Academy for young indies at Lorette, and must say that we were much pleased and greatly edited by the pro-grammes presented and the way in which each of the several parts was rendered at both of these popular and progressive insti-tutions. The exercises at the College con-sisted of vocal and instrumental music, addresses, recitations and a very amusing farce, and while we haven't time or space now to enter into particulars, we must say that the students who took part in the entertainment acquitted themselves with more than ordinary ability and with great credit to each of them parameters as well as to the learned them personally, as well as to the learned faculty who did so much to cultivate and encourage their latent talents. It would seem invidious to bestow praise on any one or more in particular when all did so well, but we cannot refrain from special reference to a few of the more prominent actors, and Messrs. Wm. O'Connell, Patrick Toole, Neil McNells and Arthur Cummisky, who debated the question pro and con as to which is most deserving of merit, George Washington or Daniel O'Connell. Seldom have we listened to more eloquent language, more sound argument, or witnessed more peroming gesares than were made use of on this occasion, and it is only the simple truth to say that the depth of reasoning and oratorical powers dis-played by the four young gentlemen named were such as to give unmistakable promise of a bright and successful future for each and all of them. No worder, indeed, that the chairman of the debate, Mr. Mich'l Dor-mer, nor Rt. Rev. Bishop Tuigg, to whom the decision was referred, were unable to de-termine which side had the best of the argument, albeit patriotism demanded the greater honor for the immortal Washington. debate, however, was not the only feature of the entertainment which demands the mede of praise. Equally worthy of commendation were the salutatory of Mr. Thomas Kilbride, "The Maniae," by Mr. W. A. Ramsay, the German and Historical Recitations of Master Daniel Macneal and Robert McCaffrey, the acting of our worthy young friend James Darby, of Johnstown, in the exceedingly funny farce of "The Irish Doctor," "The Angels of Buena Vista," by Master Thomas O'Brien, son of the State Treasurer of West Virginia, "The Polish Boy," by Mr. James Malarkey, and the closing address, by Mr. James P. Greene, of Johnstown, the latter of which stood forth in an eminent degree as a literary gem of the first water, both in composition and delivery. The exercises closed with well chosen words of commendation and encouragement from the Rt. Rev. Bishop, after which came the conferring of diplomas and the thirty-second commencement has brought additional and well merited lustre. At St. Aloysins' Academy, where the ex-hibition took place in the afternoon, every-thing that refined taste and feminine skill could do or suggest to make the surroundings attractive and the entertainment delightful eyond measure was done with highly cultivated minds to direct and well trained hands o execute. Had we time and space to de vote to the subject we would be glad to give a tuli report not only of the exhibition itself, which was all that the great and widespread reputation of the institution demanded, but ilso of the many articles of vertu, consisting of exquisite plaques, beautiful landscape and pastoral scenes, choice flowers painted true to nature on silk and satin ribbons of great width, and many other works of highest art, all which exicited the unbounded enconiums of all who examined them. In this department the admirable skill of a fair daughter of Cambria, Miss Jessie Clark, of Cresson, shone resplendent, and it would be difficult to find anywhere a young lady who possesses so many and such varied accomplishments as she displays. Hence it was that to ber was assigned the leading parts in all the exercises which made the annual commencement so enjoyable and replete with musical and litery gems. Miss Jessie is blessed with a fine voice, which has been highly cultivated, a brilliant intellect which has been admirably trained, a knowledge of the English, Freuch and German langueges which bears witness to her close application to study, a grace of movement and gesture which are perfection the distribution of premiums, the whole concluding with an elegant dinner prepared by the good Brothers, to whose chaplet of fame audience which comparatively few of her sex ever attain to. That she was the bright particular star of the occasion need therefore not be wondered at, though it is equally true that all the young ladies who took part in the exercises did full justice to their several and for the most part difficult tasks. More than this we cannot say now, though we may revert the exhibition and to that famous institution, St. Aloysius' Academy, in our next

NORMAL LITERARY SOCIETY. -A very interesting meeting of the Normal Literary Society, of this place, was held on Tuesday evening last. The President, Mr. C. A. Riddle, called the house to order shortly before eight, and announced a song entitled, Adown the Stream.,' the solo of which was sung by Prof. Strayer, the chorus by the members of the society. Miss Annie Sech-ler, the secretary, then read the minutes of the previous meeting, after which Miss Mary Dunegan answered the question, "Is Eng-land at the acme of her glory?" The lady favored the affirmative and incidentally remarked that the United States is the most powerful nation in the world in consequence of her unrivaled natural resources. Miss Lizzie Kirschner answered the question, Where is gold found?"

A. J. Sanker then delivered an oration which was loudly applauded, as it deserved

Debate was now announced by the chair, and the following question was thoroughly discussed: "Resolved, That the press of the United States should be subject to censorship." The affirmative was supported by Prof. Strayer and John Foley; the negative by Prof. J. S. Taylor and W. J. Cramer. — The audience listened attentively to all that was said, though the debate lasted about an hour. Every one appeared to be deeply in-terested in the result. At the conclusion all eves were upon the judges, namely: T. W. Dick, Esq., Dr. C. V. B. Kennedy and Miss Burdie Roberts. The decision was rendered in favor of the negative; and the house, upon the merits of the question, was all but animons on the same side At the call of the President, the society was favored by a semi-chorus entitled. "For You We Are Praying at Home," which seemed to be appreciated by every one.

The editress, Miss Gussie Davis, then proceeded to read "The Mountain Beam." This interesting little sheet has now fallen late Staiwart hands Stalwart hands, and its editorial columns were full of that kind of "boss" music which is intended to soothe Don Cameron's tooth-to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BIT-TERS, which is a true tonic-a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

> 501 N. Fremont St., Baltimore During the war I was inured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving. G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.
