e fact be distinctly understo

$1.50 and postage per year, In advance.

sylvay for your paper before you stop it, if you i you must. Mone but seals wage do other as to Bon't be a sealswar. His is too short. VOLUME XVI.

EBENSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1883.

NOTED MEN

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National I har mucesifical Association of the United

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS. President Baltimore Pharmaconical

reliable as a strengthening tonic free num alcoholic p. ison. DR. L. FARIS MOORE, Ph.

and validle med he, particly freelr maleoholic pelacity and on the recent ended as a to 7 folias among these who expose also half

Dr. Edward Earickson,

Dr. RICHARD SAPINGTON, reliable physicians, mys:

"All who have used if ware he standard virtues, and the world known character?" It a house which makes it be a sufficient grations of its being all that is claimed, for frey are near who could not be induced to offer anything who has a reliable modifies for public use."

A Druggist Cured.

-FOR ANY-

E CONTROL

V

1-FOR-

IN ALTOONA'S

Largest and Cheapest

CLOTHING HOUSE!

Eicher & Latterner,

Successors to A. J. Anderson & Co.,

1308 Eleventh Avenue, Altoena, Pa.,

HAVE just reserved and opened the largest and finest store of Fall and Winter CLOTHING, HAITS, CAPS, TRUNKS, VALUES, SATOR-ELS and CHENT'S FURNISHING (CODS of all has ever hereinfore been brought to the Oldy. Our stock outbraces the grastest that one of the story converges the gradest try, Encel habries and intest syles of made my ling for men and buys that can be found in maire, and full value for the parameter singu-uance and full value for the parameter singu-parameter in each and every industrial for the accuracy from and all cancer will do will be a sound form.

to give as a wall. Electric and affects will do so. Alterias, Oct. 13, 1982 - M.

L. STARGARDTER'S

ONE-PRICE

GEND OR GO TO

Ladies', Gents', Boys' or Infants' Wear YOU MAY NEED.

OUR MOTTO IS: ONE PRICE, Satisfaction Gnaranteed

Or Money Refunded; WHICH MEANS THIS! If you buy anything from us which, upon examination, you believe can be bought as cheap or cheaper at any other place, promptly REFUND YOUR MONEY! GIVE US A TRIAL! 89- PROMPT AND CARRFUL ATTENTION GIVEN TO ORDERS BY MAIL. [12-15-6m.]

return the article and we will

GEORGE E, LENON, Washing What will a Patent Cost

the attorney's fee 825

GEO. E. LEMON. 615 15th St., WASHINGTON, D. C. attorney-at-Law and Solicitor of Ameri-can and Poreign Patents.

published William of at latted to be the best pa mechanics, inventions, engineering and polar departments of industrial a published in any country. Single sy until, 10 cents. Bold by all news-is in Muon & Co., publishers of Scion-a, second, 261 Brandway, New York, the local chant paint to realled free.

W. DICK, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Sheasburg, Pa. Office in building of T. ye, dec'd, (first floor,) Centre street. All to diegal business attended to satisfactosly and sellestions a specialty.

States, Lava !

"Brown's Iron Flaters has a heavy sale, is concerned to be a fine to do; the character of the muni-facturers is a visitor for a purely and medicinal expellence."

College, says i

"I indorse it as a fine medicine,

D., Professor of Pharmacy, Palifemore Pharmaceutical College, says: "Brown's Iron Blitters is a cufe

Secretary Baltimore College of Place macy, says

"I induce it as an excellent medicine, a good eligetime serve, and a non-introduced in the follow

one of Bultimore's olders and most Becombine, Md., Oct. 12, 1220.

Gentleman: Brown's 11-12 Binters cared me of a feel among of Indigention and followed in the showness. Haven travelly, I take please ure in recommending in to my case tomers, and an glad to say it gives entire satisfaction to all."

Gue, W. Horrestay, Druggist.

Ask your Druggist for Brown's Inox larrans, and take no other. One trial will convince you that it is just what you need.

China 00 0 EI [in 170

Solls on Sight! A Complete Guide to the Successful Prosecution of Business.

nyaluable to the Merchant, the Parmer, the spondence, and how conducted; Fa-ary proceedings, Rules governing Pu-is; how to conduct Public Meetings, Com-etc.; Public Spenking—bow to aco-t of Orntors. Secial laws, forms and e; Home Augsements, and how to cona: Letter Writing in Society-forms sugge

The Needs of Every-Day Life Supplied. ing more useful information than now standard," and costing one-balf ma-

MANAY 200 COMMISSION PAID TO THESE. Sold by Subscription only, and at the following Prices: ent post-paid, where we have no Agent, on Descriptive Circulars Maded tree an ANOHOR PUBLISHING CO. St. Louis, Mo. Chicago, Ill. Atlanta, Co.

Over 600 pages, fully ILLUSTRATED. a minister in Indiana, 19 in one day. Sella Sh. WEITE FOR EXTRA SPECIAL

J. M. CHAMBERS & CO. IS A SURE CURE LIVER

"Tat, tut, my pretty bird," cried Wooler, he little, and by herating the bowels in fre-SOLD BY DRUGOISTS, Price $1. F KIDNEY-WORT

STRAY CATTLE .- Strayed from a

THE FIRST STEP. BY M. E. H.

TO-NIGHT as the tender gloaming Was sinking in evening's gloom Brightened the dark'ning room, I laughed with the gay beart-gladness That only to mothers is known, For the beautiful brown-eyed baby Took his first step alone !

Hurriedly running to meet bim Came trooping the household band, Joyous, loving and eager To reach him a helping hand,
To watch him with silent rapture,
To cheer him with happy poise, My one little fair-faced daughter

And four brown romping boys.

Leaving the sheltering arms
That fain would bid him rest Close to the love and the longing. Near to the mother's breast; Wild with laughter and daring, Looking askance at me, He stumbled across through the shadows

To rest at his father's knee. Baby, my dainty darling. Stepping so brave and bright With flutter of lace and ribbon Out of my arms to-night. Helped in thy pretty ambition

With tenderness blessed to see, Sheltered, upheld, and protected, How will the last step be? See, we are all beside you Urging and beckoning on, Watching lest ought betide you Till the safe near goal is won; Guiding the faltering footsteps

That tremble and fear to fall, How will it be, my darting, With the last sad step of all? Nav! shall I dare to question, Knowing that One more fond

Will guide the weak feet beyond And knowing beside, my dearest, That whenever the summons, 'twil be Then rest-at the Father's knee! -January Wide Acoke.

THE FEMALE PILOT.

An English brig-of-war lay off the southern shore of the Island Firee, which is one of the Inner Hebrides, on the western coast of Scotland. And the brig had just captured a prize. She had been sent up after smugglers, and had taken one of the most notorions of the smuggling crew-a stont, bold, reckless man, named Denald Kenmore. He yessel must be taken if she remained above having refused to leave the vessel before him. They had just entered the skiff, and while they stopped to see the old vessel go down, a boat came from the brig-of-war and cut them oif. It was too late to escape, and Kenmore saw that resistance would be useless, so he gave up with as good grace as Flora Kenmore was eighteen years of age, and possessed all the rugged beauty of her Highland countrymen. Her eye was large and its clauce could be as soft as the whisfar from it-but she was stout and strong, the same horrid scene extended. have trembled before her. She was taken surrounded!"

"Ah, Donald Kenmore," uttered the commander of the brig, as the smuggler was led | Wooler, to the quarter deck, "you and I have met before."

"Ah, Captain Thornhill, we have," re-"And I think the people will thank me for it," the Englishman said. "The people." uttered Kenmore indignantly. "Say the people's rufers! No, sir! the people have been blessed by me too much Greater Industments and Greater Success with for that. Go ask the poor man upon whose this Book than any Other.

This Book than any Other. table I have placed luxuries of life at a cost thee for taking their benefactor! No. John Thornbill! They cannot pay what the Brittish lords would force from them to betp in sustaining an army of noblemen in luxurious bileness and indolence. Go now, and > Scotland-the workers-which has befriended them-Donald Kenmore, or your sharpnosed cruisers!" "By me soul, sir smuggler, you are elo-

"Because I am honest. But say, Captain Thornbill, what is now to be my fate?" "I should suppose you might judge," was Thornbill's reply.

ask the people, the producers of England and "I may guess, but I suppose you might know." "Well, sir, I can assure you that you will meet one of the two fates ; you will be eithor transported for life or hung !"

"So I suppose," said the smuggler, without the movement of a muscle. The commander was now called to attend to making sail, and Donald Kenmore was ed away forward and put in chains. Flora equested that she might be allowed to accompany her father, and her request was granted. She was offered a berth in the cabin, but she chose to remain, by her father's About an hour after the brig had made sail, the first lieutenant, a stout, coarse fellow, named Wooler, came up to where Flora stood, and placing his hand upon her fair neck, he asked her for a kiss. She started back, and while her eyes flashed fire, she drew a small pistol from her bosom and cocked it. "Miserable dog," she uttered in a low firm voice, dare to place your foul touch on me ngain and you shall die !"

tification he tried to hide.

frony.

pasture field near the Buckhorn Tavero, in upon the maiden with admiration. They bend her an atom."

bend of young cuttle, described as follows:

The cantain dark bend for the maiden with admiration. One white muley helfer, one small red bull, with white face, and two red steers. Any information that, will lead to the recovery of said entitle will be thankfully received and liberally rewarded by Jan. 5, 1883.-31.

Jan. 5, 1883.-31.

Altoona, Pa.

The captain dare hesitate no longer. The rest of the officers seconded Wooler's request, and he gave in.

"Save us," he said, turning to the maiden once more; "save us and your father thankfully received and thought the maiden once more; "save us and your father thankfully received and thought the maiden once more; "save us and your father thankfully received and thought the maiden once more; "save us and your father thankfully received and thought the maiden of the officers seconded when the brig squared and baffling she made but little bendway. It was past four o'clock when she passed Eraid, and by four o'clock when she passed Eraid, and by once more; "save us and your father shall that time the wind had died almost to a be free."

lay under close-rected topsails and fore-stay. Now the helm is yours."

At sundown the wind came in from the night had fairly settled down it blew a gale. | two faithful men take the wheel," The Captain tried for awhite to keep to but the wind was too strong. It blew a An opening was seen in the rocky coast perfect harricane and the sea began to rise | ahead. and break over the deck; and ere long it be-

be taken off. thus. Thornhill knew he must be near the | McDougall's Crown, Port a little! Steady mouth of the Sound of Mull, and if he lay to, -so !" the gale would tend to drive him up into it. feel safe.

frail bark. The masts greated and cracked, through such a dubious channel, then why the rigging grated and strained, and every should she not pass the rest? The men becrack and seam gaped beneath the tearful came more easy, even though the horrors strain. The wind howled and roared, and were as palpable as ever. The course of the mad sea surged and boiled, until the the brig lay through a hissing rushing, tumrions war of the frantic elements.

down, and the night was as black as one | dence was in every look and tone. solid mass of ink. "Wooler," he said, as he drew his olled

ed by the breaking sea. above the roar of the elements. "To veer easy !"

If we had room to run off before it." SDODSO. lay. His crew were sent off before he did Thornhill had no idea of his whereabouts, long narrow inlet of Kilmore, > Sound of the Mull. captain was startled by a loud cry forward their gratitude. danger when another shout from the poop | tain. called him aft, and hurrying back again, a "Yes," persisted Flora. "We are not at the tree violently agitated, and while the per of love, or as piercing as the glare of an rocky coast, over which the sea was dashing once. enraged flon. She was not large in frame - fearfully. And all along to the northward and self-control. A nowle man could have ment, pointing over the weather bow, "there something of the friendliness towards me was running in excited pursuit of the fawn. loved her most dearly, but a coward would are more rocks there! See! see! We are which I must ever cherish for you." Then He stretched out his hands to catch it. It knew the shores.

"Ha! We will," answered the captain, And the smuggler was sent for.

turned the smuggler, in a calm, proud tone. carried below when the storm had reached them to the fireside. "Twice I have captured; but now your turn its fury—but he could not tell where the Donald Kenmore and John Thornhill I was within a hundred yards, and the cry of brig was.

e' Muli she don't know.

"Ha, Donald Kenmore, do you speak a home with them. which they could afford, if they will thank her brother, and has almost lived among the "Until within a month she has been with rocks and shouls of the Sound."

calm and assured.

"Ha! and can the brig be saved?" would be but a summer shower."

And can you do it?" "If I try." By heavens, then do it! Do it and any clip off the end of his chin. sum you shall name shall be yours !" 'Hold," said the noble girl. "I want salvation.

to What n's shall be saved." right to give him up."

But you have the power, sir. You took hlm, and you can give him up."

The lieutenant bit his lips, and his fists of one who knows these rocks, this vessel

The captain dare hesitate no longer. The and the night seemed coming on with the present to witness that when this vessel is sun yet up. Captain Thornbill gave orders safe, if your father and yourself go not for taking off the sail, and ere long the brig | whither you will, I am a perjured wretch.

On the instant Flora stepped into new life.

"Lay the yards square 1" she cried, at the southward and westward; and by the time top of her voice. " Ease up the helm. Let These orders were obeyed, and ere long the wind under the three sails he had left on, the brig was dashing off before the wind.

"That is Lunga on the quarter," the malcame evident that one of the topsails must den said, and ahead we have a dozen small Islands Here comes the Devil's Rock on It was a bad place in which to be caught the starboard bow, and that on the aft is

The hearts of the men leaped up, and He was not acquainted with the place, and seemed to hang for some moments. But on though he had good charts, yet he did not went the flying vessel-the heavy spray acbually dashing over the deck from the tower-Higher and higher grew the furious wind ling rocks now on this hand, now on thatuntil the very sea seemed dancing over the and yet she went safely on. If she had gone whole scene appeared but the result of a far. | bling surge, with rocks still on every hand. And there stood the fair pilot, her keen eye At midnight Captain, Thornhill began to flashing, her finely chiscled nostrils dilated, be frightened. The wind was not only un. and her noble form drawn proudly up. Her abated, but the rain had begun to drive orders were prompt and assured, and confi-

At length the vessel entered a narrow firmly by the life-line to prevent being wash- on over the storm-mad sea.

tained a light skiff, hoping to make his es- the night he could not tell; yet he supposed chors dropped, and then the men crowded a single plant of such rich growth flourishcape also. His daughter was with him, she he must be somewhere near the chops of the around their pilot to bless her for the service she had done them. But she asked not barsh feru-canes seemed to thrive. The It was a few minutes past six when the their thanks, though she could not refuse deer, meanwhile were midway between me eo, it is better to come out with your objec-

and on working his way thither he found "I have saved my father," she said, and ing it, swerved in their career and swept that the foremast was sprung just above the | that is all to me. Let us go on shore now." around it at some gards distance. Was I pike-rack. He had hardly discovered the "But not in this storm," urged the cap- mad, or did the plant really try to eatch the sight met his gaze that made his heart leap home here, but on shore I shall find a shel- ferns all around were standing motionless in tering roof and open arms to receive us." the dead evening air, its boughs were sway-Directly under the lee-quarter, and not | Captain Thornhill felt too grateful to make | ed by some sudden gust toward the herd, and over a quarter of a mile distant, was a bold any objection, and he had a boat lowered at swept in the force of their impulse almost to and her very step was the language of pride "Good God!" cried Wooler, at this mo- call each other to mind, I trust you may feel Toward it, and now close to it, the boy the hand; "and when, in time to come, we The tree was a motionless as myself! he turned to Donald, "And to you, Donald bounced from his eager grasp, Again he with her father, and carried on board the The men were called, but not one of them Kenmore, let me say God grant I may never reached forward, and again it escaped him. meet you again when the duty of my station There was another rush forward, and the his child were on their way to the shore. A what I saw. The tree was convulsed with sheltering roof soon spread its protection motion, leaned forward, swept its thick foli-The old man came on deck -he had been over them, and warm friends welcomed aged boughs to the ground, and enveloped never met again, for the old man had money Otona from the midst of the tree came to me "But," he added, "my child has been enough, and when his noble daughter short- in all the clearness of its agony. There was pilot in these waters for over four years; and ly after the startling adventure we have re- then one stifled, strangling scream, and ex there's not a rock nor a shoal in the Sound corded, gave her hand and heart to the man cept for the agitation of the leaves where who had loved her long and truly, he found | they were closed upon the boy there was not

BARBERS.

F(ora Kenmore was sent for at once. She the power he posesses. He has the power to 1 stood there changed from all semblance of came up, and taking her station near the cut a man's head off with more facility than a human being. Not all the terrors of earth wheel, where she could hold on upon one of has any other man on earth, but he seldom together could have made me take my eye the life-lines for support she gazed carefully improves his opportunity, although ocea- off that awful plant, or my foot off the around. It was truly a terrible scene. On sionally the temptation must be very strong. ground. I must have stood thus for at least all hands now, save on the weather-quarter We had often wondered if barbers were not half an hour, for the shadows had crept out alone, the huge breakers were piled up and sometimes possessed with a wild impulse to from the forest half across the glade before stretched along. Not a muscle of the maiden try if they couldn't whack a man's head off the hideous paroxyism of fear left me. My quivered, nor did her cheek blanch; but with one whack of the razor-an impulse first impulse then was to creep stealthily boldly she stood there, and her gaze was similar to that which sometimes comes to a away, lest the tree should perceive me, bu "Lady," spoke the captain, whose fright- precipice, and that prompts him to throw The boy might have fallen into the lair of ened look was in strange contrast with the himself to the bottom. We have no doubt some beast of prey. expression that rested upon Flora Kenmore's that the shavers have some such thoughts. The vegetable first discovered my pressuce fair features, "do you know where we are?" occur to them, especially when they are at about fifty yards distance, I then became 'I do sir-exactly !" was the sure reply. shaving a man who has an impediment in aware of a stealthy motion among the thick-'Ay, sir. In less than two hours this brig off" for the price of the shave. We know beast slowly gathering itself up from long can be run into a harbor where this storm the shavee sometimes thinks of it as a possi- sleep, a vast coll of snakes in restless motion.

"My father! Give me my father, and you ing you may sacrifice a piece of your lip if ate leaf was agitated and hungryyou reply, but otherwise he acts very much | Was I bewildered by terror? Had

A DVERTISERS I send for our Select List of Local calm, but not a pleasing calm. The heavens had grown dark, the air cold and puffing, "I do—most solemnly; and I call on all ing the business.—Texas Selects."

THE SONG OF THE ADVERTISER. I am an advertiser great!
In letters bold and big and round

The praises of my wares I sound : Prosperity is my estate. Theu people come, And people go In one continuous, Surging flow—
They buy my goods and come again,
And I'm the happiest of men;
And this the reason I relate—

I am an advertiser great! There is a shop across the way Where ne'er is beard a human tread, Where trade is paralyzed and dead, With ne'er a customer a day.

The people come, The people go. But never there: They do not know There's such a shop beneath the skies, Because he does not advertise; While I with pleasure contemplate That I'm an advertiser great. The secret of my fortune lies

If I have goods I advertise. Then people come, And people go In constant streams For people know That he who has good wares to sell
Will surely advertise them well; And proudly I reiterate.

I am an advertiser great

In one small fact, which I may state, Too many tradesmen learn too late-

THE MAN-EATING TREE.

toward Central Africa and made the journey among the dead leaves, still limp with juices, for a cash settlement. strait' not over a mile wide, and the course from where the Senegal empties itself into and piled around the roots, we found the jacket up over his face to protect it from the driving rain, "can you not hear the roar of breakers?"

was direct. It was the mainland, Argyle and the island of Seil upon the left, and the island of Seil upon the left. In half an hour more the strait the eastern coast. I had with fee three native of them brothers the have taken too long, so we buried the body man entered the Grand Pacific and and a strait the left. time," returned the lieutenant, holding cleared—and yet the gallant bark flew safely third, Otona, a young savage from the ga- as it was, with a hundred vampire leaves for a room. He were a long ulster buttoned boon uplands, a mere lad in his teens-and still clinging to it. "Stand by the braces " cried Flora, now one day, leaving my mule with two men, "And yet we cannot do anything," the showing a little excitement, 'mind your who were pitching my tent for the night, I captain resumed, being obliged to cry out helm! Round in carefully on the larboard went on with my gun, the boy accompanying with all his strength to make his voice sound braces! Keep the others taut! Helm a port! me, toward a fern forest which I saw in the near distance. As I approached it I found an atom would be sure destruction. But we The brig bowed to the wind most fearfully that the forest was cut in two by a wide cannot live much longer. Every rope and now that her side was presented to it, and glade, and seeing a small herd of the comstick are strained now to their utmost. Oh, her masts bent like reeds-but she failed not, mon antelope, an excellent heast in the pot, A high promontory was passed-and in a browsing their way along the shaded side, I "But we haven't" was the lieutenant's re- few moments more the deep labor ceased, crept after them. Though ignorant of their The brig righted, the masts grew straight, real danger, the herd was suspicious, and Yet the brig lived through the night, and and the sails had done straing. The water slowly trotting before me entired me for a was commander of a smuggling vessel, and when morning dawned, the wind seemed to moved only in long swells, and as the men mile or more along the verge of the fern the chief spirit among the contrabandists of increase rather than diminish. It was near looked ahead through the falling rain, they growths. Turning a corner I suddenly bethat section. When Kenniere knew that his the autumnal equinox, and there was every saw the smooth haven stretching away up came aware of a solitary tree growing in the one. The rain still fell in torrents, and the erestorm-demon could not come, and where struck me at once that I had never seen a hole in her bottom and sank her where she heavens were black and the air dark. - the weary bark could be at rest. It was a tree just like it before; but, being intention ringe. venison for my supper, I looked at it only this, and they made their escape. He re- or how far the brig had been driven during At length the sail was taken off, the an- long enough to satisfy my surprise at spring and the tree but suddenly, instead of passdeer ? On a sudden I saw, or thought I saw, > the ground. I drew my hand across my eyes. "God bless you!" as he grasped Flora by closed them for a moment, and looked again. "Bring up," Donald Kenmore!" cried could make you my enemy. Farewell!" next instant boy and deer were both beneath And in a few moments the smuggler and the tree. And now there was no mistaking from my sight the pursuer and the pursued.

> > a sign of life, I solled out, "Otona!" No answer came, I tried to call out again, but my utterance was like that of some wild beast smitten at The barber is a man who does not abuse once with sudden terror at its death wound. man when he is walking along the edge of a my returning reason bade me approach it.

his credit, and who is liable to "stand them hipped leaves, reminding me of some wild bility as he lies back in the chair watching Have you ever seen bees hanging from a the manoeuvers of a fly on the ceiling, and bough-an immense cluster of bodies, bee realizes that the barber is trying to whittle a clinging to bee-and by striking the bough or ugitating the air, caused that massed life The negro barber is not so loquacious as to begin sulkily to disinterigate, each insect the white barber. When he is scraping asserting its individual right to move? And not your gold : but you have a thing which, around your lip with a razor you have every do you remember how without one bee leavif you give it back to me, shall secure your reason to believe he sharpens lead pencils ing the pensile cluster, the whole became and cuts strings with, he does not ask you a gradually instinct with sullen life and borrid question that you are afraid to answer fear- with a multitudinous motion? Each separ-

"But he is a state's prisoner. I have no as the white man does. He subscribes for senses abandoned me in my need? I know the Police Gazette, and keeps it on his table not-but the tree seemed to me to be alive. for the purpose of tranquilizing the mind | Leaning over toward me, it seemed to be and occupying the attention of the custom- pulling up its roots from the softened ground "But consider, my girl. Your own life is ers, who has been informed by the barber and to be moving toward me. A mountainat stake. If we go you must go with us." that he is "next," when there are ahead of our monster, with myrind lips mumbling to-"I know it sir, and I am prepared for it, him two men who want to get shaved, and gether for my life, was upon me! Like one What's my life worth to me if my father one who is desirous of having his hair cut. - who desperately defends himself from immimust be - but you may depend on this. He has daudruff eradicator, a hair invigora- nent death, I made an effort for life and fired 'you wouldn't be so cruel." But his voice I can save you. Give me back my father tor, and a corn softener, put up in bottles my gun at the approaching horror. To my trembled, and his frame shook with the mor. swear that we both may go away free and by himself, that he is not only willing but dizzled senses the sound seemed far off, but unmolested when your anchors are safely auxious to sell. Between his mirrors be the shock of the recoil partially recalled me "I think you will not tempt me, at all down, and you shall be saved. If you will hangs up tobacco advertising chromos, and to myself, and, starting back, I reloaded. events," the maiden replied, with biting not do this, then your hours are numbered richly colored pictures of females dressed in The shot had tors their way into the soft I know where you are, and without the aid of one who knows these rocks, this vessel cannot ride one hour lowers?"

The shot had the shot had the shot had the shot had driven the federals from the daub lather in your ear, parts your hair at received the wound shuddered, and the whole received the wound shuddered. A ware dressed by a survey of the state of the shud and driven the federals from the shudder and the shuder and the shudder and the shudder and the shuder and the shuder and the shuder and the shuder and the were elenched; but he had not the daring to go further; so he turned away and walked aft. From that moment the crew looked upon the maiden with aimiration. They did not like Wooler.

The captain dare hesitate no larger of the first time his wounds were clenched; but he had not the daring to go further; so he turned away and walked aft. From that moment the crew looked upon the maiden with aimiration. They did not like Wooler.

The captain dare hesitate no larger of the wound shounds and postes it down on your jaw and he discusses some matters of a personal character with a barbet who is engaged on a bald headed man at the other end of the establishment.

The captain dare hesitate no larger of the wrong side, and pastes it down on your form the leaves, for the wrong side, and pastes it down on your jaw and he discusses some matters of a personal character to the final surrender at Appendator. His headed man at the other end of the establishment. neaded man at the other end of the establishment.

In private life the colored barber gives tone to the society he moves in. He is looked up to as an authority and as a leader of fashion. He is almost lovered by the colored barber gives for the golden the glistening and successful salesman, and has no warmer personal friend than B—, who was one of his executioners, or thought he was — Chilicipan and successful salesman, and successful salesman sal fashion. He is almost invariably a preacher leaves. I fired again, and another vile frag. cothe (Mo.) Constitution. or a member of a brass band. The ability to ment was powerless-dead. At each disshave comes naturally to a negro barber - an instinct inverted; at least we suppose it piecemeal I attached it, killing hers a leaf found with a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syran instinct interited; at least we suppose it is so, as no one has ever seen a barber learning the business.— Texas Siftings.

A Daily chicken train has been started or found with a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syring.

A Daily chicken train has been started or the Pennsylvania railroad. It has a property in the Pennsy

NUMBER 50. the slaughter till, when my ammunition was exhausted, the great giant was left a wreck LAUGHABLE JOKES, AND ONE STORY THAT -as if some burricane had torn through it. On the ground lay heaped together the fragments, struggling, rising and failing, gasping. Over them dropped in dying languor a liliustrates the artist in his business to perfection. He was a well-dressed man, and glistening trunk. My continued firing brought up one of my men on my mule. He dared not (so he told that commanded respect. When he entered me) come near me, thinking me mad. I had the dining room the waiters bowed obsequinow drawn my hunting knife, and with this was fighting—with the leaves. Yes, but each leaf was instinct with a horrid life; and more than once I felt my hand entangled for a moment, and seized as if by sharp lips.

Ignorant of the presence of my comparison. Ignorant of the presence of my companion, he shouted, excitedly, I made a forward rush over the fallen follage, and with a last paroxysm of frenzy,

"Yes, but I will speak loud," and if you

"Yes, but I will speak loud," and if you are in the habit of cooking co-" But the bole, and slipping on the fast congealing sap, hand of the head waiter stifled the remain-

My companions carried me back to the camp, and after vainly searching for Otona, with a brightening countenance, and be left awaited my return to consciousness. Two cayed fruit, flew up from among the wreck. Many years ago I turned my restless steps We removed the rotten foliage, and there elude the demand he knew would be made

---RULES FOR LOVE-MAKING.

First catch your lover. Hold him when you have him. Don't let go of him to catch every new one that comes along. Try to get pretty well acquainted with $200 in money, and there was a diamond the before you take him for life.

Don't palm yourself off on him as one whether he surns enough to support you.

If you have conscientions scraples against stand that we will begin again."
marrying a man with a mother, say so in A well-dressed middle aged man of seritime, that he may either get rid of her to leading Indiana city a few years ugo, and oblige you, or get rid of you to oblige her. asked for a room. With him he had an time, that he may either get rid of her to tions now than to reserve them for curtain lectures bereafter. If your adorer happens to faucy a certain shade of hair, don't color or bleach it to oblige him. Remember your hair belongs to you and he doesn't. Be very sure it is a man you are in love with, and not the clothes he wears. Fortune and fashion are both so fickle, it is at the door, but received no answer save the foolish to take a stylish suit for better or dull

If you intend to keep three servants after marriage, settle the matter before hand .- Together they sought the room, and receiv-The man who is making love may expect ing no response to their demands for admis on to do your own washing.

Different men are made of different material, and the one you want might go off in a t of fealousy and forget to come back. If you have a love letter to write, don't opy it out of a "Letter Writer." If your trunk contained the instruments of death person in existence. It is your right to suit was held up by a cord, that, passing or yourself in the matter. But, remember at through a pully fastened to the celling, ran the same time that love is blind, and a little along and down the wall to the table, where friendly advice is worth baving, and may fastened to an object provided for that pur ensure you a lifetime of happiness or pre- pose. On the table in addition to the candle vent one of misery. In love affairs always keep your eyes wide pen, so that, when the right man comes long you may see him.

When you do see him you will recognize im and the recognition will be mutual. If you have no fault to find with him per- cord, and burned it in twain. The knife desonally, financially, conscientiously, social- secuded, and the stranger passed paintenally ly, merally, politically, religiously, or any from sleep to death. He courted deat way, he is probably perfect enough to suit quirer. you, and you can afford to-

Believe in him;

Hope in him:

Love him ;

Initiago commercial travelers who visit which happened in this city. The other morning, on one of the priscipal streets of friends, whose first meeting was under cir- the Back Bay, a young and attractive woman cumstances just the reverse of friendship was observed tripping along, attended by a Mr. P—— is a Virginan and Mr. B—— is a goat, from whose neek daugled an end of Mr. P—— is a Virginan and Mr. B——is a rope, which he had probably broken in order to follow her. When she attempted to get furing the civil war-the former a captain in away from her humble admirer the famous confederate troopers commanded | the goat ran too, and when she walked slav by the celebrated Gan, John S. Moshy, and and the latter a private in a New York regimout. In one of the many skirmishes in the a house, but the sure footed descendant vicinity of Warrentown, Va., Capt P-was crag scaling ancestors was at the door a captured by B---'s regiment, the commander of which, in pursuance of a previous Finally the young woman made a feint o order from his superiors, to "shoot Mosby's | running down the steps again, at which th men whenever caught, 'tordered the immediate execution of the unfortunate captive. way, whereupon the subject of his attention He was led out a short distance from the nimbly slipped inside the door and shut command, and a detail of seven men, of again just a time to prevent him whom B-- was one, was ordered to execute the drumbead sentence. At the word 'Fire" the squad discharged their weapons straight at the victim, and poor B -- fell riddled with six minnie balls. He was left for dead as food for vultures, and his executioners mounted their horses and followed their regiment in pursuit of Mosby's. The victim was unconscious for iwenty-four a for help there was no response. With six ghastly wounds in his chest and covered covered covered with blood, he dragged himself a mile to a said I could not live twenty four hours. negro cabin, where he was kindly received and nursed for a week until Mosby's forces

Advertising Rates.

The large and reliable circulation of the UAR-nica filamman commencial to the large con-sideration of advertisers, whose favors will be in-serted at the following low rates: Timeh Filmos.

" E monthe

" monthe

" twonthe

" year

" pear

" months.

" year

strator's and Exceptor's Notices equent inscriion Se. per line.

EF Resolutions or proceeding of any corporation or society, and communications designed to call attention to any matter of limited or individual interest. must be paid for as advertisements. Jon Printing of all kind nearly and ampediti-orally executed at lowest prices. Dun't you forget

DEAD BEATS.

IS POSITIVELY GRANTLY, A case now comes to mind, however, that few stricken boughs, while upright in the when he entered the office the clerk scrutinmidst stood, dripping at every joint, the ized him and concluded that it would be a matter of difficulty to discriminate between blm and a millionaire. He registered his name in a Sir-Joseph-Porter-K. C.-B. style fell exhausted and unconscious, among the still panting leaves.

Mr. comparison and the still panting leaves.

Mr. comparison and the still panting leaves.

Mr. comparison and the still panting leaves.

or three hours elapsed before I could speak, and several days before I could approach that tarrible thine. My men would not go the formath. The guest when he reached the pavement, three a wink over his shoulder, and, putting his hand in his In the bottom of the dessert-dish was an near it. It was quite dead; for as we came vest-pocket, removed therefrom and deposited in the gutter a built dozen or more of the up, a great-billed bird, with gaudy plumage | insects. It afterward transpired that he had that had been securely feasting on the de- not a cent of money, and after he had eaten his fill placed the cockroach in the dish and made a boly kick on the strength of it to

The manner in which another of the pro fession succeeded in beating a place of pub-lic entertainment was so judicrous that we from throat to askie, which he did not open while under surveillance of any of the attaches of the house. Early next morning the bell connected with his room rang furiously. The eleckland the bell-boy flew for his room, and found bimraging and storming about like a maniac. " I have been robbed, he yelled, in answer to their anxious queries;
"all my clothes are gime. They contained all of my valuables. My trousers contained Unless you intend to support him, find out whether he surns enough to support you.

Don't make up your mind that he is an had utilized the long nister to kide his naked ness until he could get his work in on the

> All the cases hitherto mentioned possess their humorous side, but just now there comes to mind a case that in all its details -"Who threw that

If you object to secret societies and tobac- enormous trunk, which, by his request, was conveyed to the apartment assigned to him. He had made arrangements that at no time anything else. He even went so far as to demand that the servants be ordered not to enter the room. Days passed. man came and went without attracting any particular attention. Finally be ceased to of the affair, as he frequently remained in his room a day at a time. On the morning of the third day one of the servants knocker empty room. With a fear that he could no ndford and told him of the strange affair sion, burst open the door. A horrid sight Don't try to hurry up a proposal by car- the room, was the body of the strange boardying on a flirtation with some other fellow. | er, while lying some distance away was a staring, grinning head. The body was lying in a pool of blood, just in front of a quee looking machine, which, on examination proved to be a guillotine. An investigation young man ever happens to consult the same of his own room was passed in putting the book ha will know your sentiments are bormachine together. It was stationed, as before stated, in the centre of the room kulfe was as keen as a razor and heavily and cord fastener, was a bottle that had contained chloroform. When all was prepared this strange man had evidently lit a candle, inhaled the coloroform, and then him his nock underneath the fatal knife, ness. As the hours passed the candie burn ed lower and lower, and finally reaching the MART HAD A LITTLE GOAT. - That bistothe incidents which confirm this statement are always full of interest to the inquiring mind. It is, therefore, pleasant to record An Incident of the War.—Among the leonoclasts have affected to discredit, has recently gained support from an occurrence in the hope that he would pass on, he all ut on the brakes and ambled along quiet: Then she run up the steps quickly as she, wagging his tall spasmodles. and evidently enjoying the goat descended with such a speed that his ing lovously into the front ball. At this the goat pranced around for a while, as if ment tating an assault upon the panels, but to back lots in search of an old circus posand an empty tomato-cap for his lunche.

best his earthly handlord. - Cinciant Da-

From John Kuhn, Lafavette, Ind., who we have the following: One year ago I was HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE calp, and for promoting the growth of the Edey's Carbolie Troches cure colds and prevent disease.

A DAILY chicken train has been started on