The following is the opinion delivered by Judge Sterrett of the Supreme Court, in th gard to the taxation of St. Francis College of Leretto It is virtually conceded that the property of defendant corporation is subject to taxstion in like manner as that of Individuals, unless it is relieved therefrom by virtue the eighth article of its charter, granted by the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county, on July 22nd, 1858. That article reads as follows : "The Academy shall hold the buildings and grounds, necessary for the proper and reasonable use and enjoyment thereof, free from taxation in accordance with the Act of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, regulating like institutions in regard to taxation." The case stated deciares that the Academy, since its incorpotation, "has been organized and main-tained for the instruction and education of youth, who may be sent there for that pur pose by their parents or guardians, and reg-ular tees or charges for tuition have been collected from said parents, guardians or puplis, by the officers of said Academy." It is thus conceded that it is not an institution of learning, "founded, endowed and maintain ed by public or private charity ;" nor, can R claim to belong to either of the classes enumerated in the Exemption Act of May 14. 1874. Purd 1957 pl. 2. If it were not for the article above quoted, the case would be clearty within the principles affirmed in The College vs. The County of Mercer, 5 Out. 530, and kindred cases since the adoption of our present constitution, and there could be was found lifeless and cold in bed. Wheth-er his death was attriputed to the supper, or marketable produce at the following: question as to defendants fiability to taxarticle ? Does it operate as a contract, bind-ing on the Commonwealth not to tax the property of the corporation; or is it a mere nullity for want of power in the Court to grant or give effect to such an exemption? In 1558, when the Academy was incorpor-ated, the several Courts of Common Pleas were authorized to grant charters of incorporation to citizens of the Commonwealth sociated or intending to associate for literary, charitable, religious and other specified purposes, subject to certain restrictions and limitations as to the amount of income to be enjoyed by such corporations, their power to nold lands, etc.; but, there is nothng in any of the acts relating to the subject, that empowered the Court either to impose taxes or grant immunity therefrom. The taxing power of the Common wealth, subject to certain constitutional restrictions, is vested exclusively in the General Assembly, and has never been delegated to the Courts to be

Court of Common Pleas, in approving the article in question, intended it should, proprio regore, operate as an exemption act. If such was the intention, the action of the Court was clearly ultra vires. On the other hand, if it was inserted in the charter, out of abundance of caution, as merely declaratory of then existing legislation and its effect on the defendant corporation, is entirely harmless. In 1858, and for many years thereafter, a general law was in force exempting similar insultutions from taxa-Construed in the light of that law, we think the article is merely declaratory as above stated. Its purpose was to declare that defendant should enjoy the same imn enjoyed or might thereafter enjoy under that or any other law that might be passed on the subject ; in other words, that -fendant should stand on the same footing of equality with like institutions in regard liability to, or exemption from taxation ; and that as long as they were exempt from taxation under the general law, just as long and to the same extent, should defendant under and by virtue of the same law, enjoy a similar immunity. This appears to be the plain and natural meaning of the language employed. The exemption is not declared to be absolute and independent of then existing legislation but, in the words of the article, "in accordance with the Act of Assembly regulating like institutions in regard to taxation.

We are therefore of opinion that the char. Springs. ontract binding on the Commonwealth, not to tax the property of the corporation ; that if it did contain any such provision, it would

The Highest Education.

There is a great deal that is wrong in our modern method of education. It teaches a man to be a gentleman, but yet does not give him the power of making a living. It stuff's him with facts and meaningless words. phrases and theories, but does not enable him to think for himself and become a man in the highest and best sense. His education is too general and not practical enough. All classes should be taught that PRRUNA-the great remedy compounded by Dr. Hart man-is the very thing he needs for the resexercised by them in connection with the toration of his health and the toning up of granting of charters N r, do we think the the body. LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ST. BONIEACE Jan 27, 1885 EDITOR CAMBRÍA FREEMAN : A little news from our vicinity may be of interest to me of your readers. The weather has been very cold the past week-the thermom-eter registering 10° below zero. The muchneeded snow has at last come, and our farmers are busy hauling logs to the mill. Dr. D. S. Rice, of this place, has received a fine set of amputating instruments : prob-ably as fine a set as there is in the county, and he is now prepared to meet all demands ORPHANS' COURT SALE Mr. A. Krebs has returned from a medical llege of Cincinnati and is a student of Dr. Rice of this place. A hearty welcome extended to him Valuable Real Estate

Mr. Michael H. Nagle, of Elder township, was kicked by a horse last Wednesday, in Platteville, Pa. The blow struck him on the BY virtue of an order issuing aut of the Or-phans' Court of Cambrix county, the under-signed, Administratrix of Chambers A. Parsons, late of the township of Dean in said county, de ower jaw, breaking the bone at the chin in two dislocating it on the left side and shat-tering the bone horribly. In the fall Mr. Nagie struck the anvil with the back of his lend, cutting a deep gash, and lay insensible for some time. Dr. Rice was immedi-ately summoned to his assistance, dressed At two o'clock, P. M., the following described real estate, to wit: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the township of Denn, county of Cambria, Penn's, adjoining lands of James Mc-Guire, Jane McGuire and others, containing the wound and set the broken bones. All hopes of his recovery were at one time despaired of, but by prompt attention and medical skill he is rapidly recovering. Much praise is due to the skill of Dr. Rice, and we are safe in saying that he has few superiors in the county Last Monday week, a party of hanters from Carrolltown, numbering about twenty, came to this place on a "wild cat hunt."-Arriving at this place they left their teams with Mr. F. H. Ott, and with some hunters from this place, proceeded on foot to the scene of the slaughter. After going a few ailes they came across a fox track, when lo they all balted; some were sent out in all directions and the hounds left loose. All were now ready to fire at the first fox or wildcat they would see. Suddenty there came a roar like that of a cannon. The parties all started for the scene, thinking that one of the party had shot a wildcat or something else, but to their surprise found that the hunter had shot a tree instead of a They then started again over rocks and ALDEN'S JUVENILE GEM.-A large extra fallen trees, and creeping through ravines now and then, until they became tired. Finally becoming disheartened at finding no game, they turned toward home. On their way they met a party, from whom they pur-chased a pheasant and a rabbit, so that they would have some booty to show for their days hunt. The party then proceeded to F. . Ott's, where they partook of an excel-nt dinner and other refreshments, and returned to their homes. Yours, SUBSCRIBER.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

To All Wanting Employment. We want live, energetic and capable agents in every county in the United States and Caneda, to sell a patent article of great merit, on its merits. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent. profit having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from ns. With all these ad-vantages to our agents, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every house owner, it might not be necessary to make an 'extraordinary offer" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $600 a month clear, and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give our business a thirty days trial and fail to clear can return all goods upsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. Any agent or general agent who would like ten or more counties and work them through sub-agents for nivety days, and fail to clear at least $750 above all expenses, can return all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such great offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed, and but two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send every-one out of employment who will send us Ebeneburg, January 16, 1885.-31.
