fection of railroad management as the manner in which the immense amount of travel to the inauguration was handled by the public that he is prepared to weave carpet roads composing the great Pennsylvania on short notice and at reasonable prices system. Never before in the history of this country has there been such a demand made upon transportation facilities, as during the four days immediately preceding and succeeding the 4th of March; yet, under its splendid organization, the vast travel was accommodated without the semblance of an accident, or more than trivial delay. Thousands came from the North, East, West and South, aggregating a total of from 40,000 to 60,000 people, over the lines of this one company alone, yet they were all accommodated without any apparent effort on the part of the great corporation, which justly is acknowledged the leading railroad of the world. This grand achievement is not due alone to the skill and experience of its officers and employes, but to its splendid switch and block signal system, which makes the handling of many additional trains as simple and easy as the movement of its regular service. Superiority of management and perfection of modern applian- nished, called for and delivered free by ces were never before so aptly shown, and express the result accomplished is but another illustration of the fact that speed, comfort and perfect safety are always guaranteed when we journey over the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad and its branches.
