A Paying Investment

One of the latest enterprises spoken of in this place is a steam grist mill, and within the last month two different parties have been examining into the surroundings with a view to building a mill. That a mill in this place would pay is not questioned, as there is a large amount of good wheat raised | Catholic church. On that day the beautiful in the neighborhood, and the quantity is new altar will be consecrated by Rt. It would also furnish our farmers with a market for grain that they now have to take to either Johnstown or Altoona to dispose of. The ground can be bought low; the lumber and building materials can be obtained as cheap, if not cheaper than at almost any other place, while the railroad facilities for shipping to and from the mill would be as good as at any other point along the Pennsylvania railroad, and artist, John Marggraff, almost two years' we think our borough officials should and time having been expended in its construcwe think our borough officials should, and we have no doubt would, give the projectors some substantial encouragement in the way of exemption from taxation for several years. The number of mining towns in the near neighborhood would also furnish a mar ket for the flour that is now brought from mills located in other counties, and the undeveloped mineral wealth in all directions gives a promising assurance that the home demand must always be on the increase.

CARROLLTOWN, Cambria Co., May 12, 1885. DEAR FREEMAN: Your readers may not uninterested in a few events which have transpired and may in the near future transpire in this section of which I write

On Monday the 25th inst., one of the most interesting and imposing religious ceremonies ever performed in this portion of the county, will take place in St. Benedict's cent's Monastery. A Pontifical High Mass will be calebrated the first ever witnessed the Alleghenies. About twenty priests will be present in all, from Pittsburg, Johnstown, Altoona, and other places.— Rev. O P. Gallagher, of Johnstown, and Very Rev. Father Michael, Prior of St. Vincent, will deliver sermons; the former in English and the latter in German. The ceremonies will commence at 9 o'clock, a. m. e new altar is among the finest of workmanship in this country. It was manufac tured in Munich, Bavaria, from that great on.
