—The fish commissioners are locating a fish hatchery at Erie. Nothing but white fish will be hatched and they will be placed in Lake Erie.

—We are sorry to learn from the Tyrone correspondence of the Altoona Times that Mrs. Margaret Henry, formerly of this place, is again confined to her bed by illness.

—A little twelve-year-old son of Mr. James M. Ross, of Blacklick township, a few days ago killed the boss rattlesnake, as far as heard from. His shakehip measured five feet and sported nine rattles.

—A reward of $500 has been offered by the commissioners of Blair county and Duncansville citizens, for the apprehension of the burglars who visited that place last week.

—A cow belonging to Mr. William Knorr, of Cambria township, fell into a well on his premises one day last week, but with the aid of ropes was successfully lifted to terra firma without being seriously injured.

—The assignee's twenty-fifth return of the sales of real estate in Blair county belonging to William M. Lloyd, was presented and confirmed absolutely on Tuesday in the United States District Court at Pittsburg.

—Mr. Thomas McCabe, of East Conemaugh, continues to grow weaker,and from present indications his dissolution will speedily occur. He has made a brave fight for life, but his age is against him.

—Mr. Edward Behe, who received a sunstroke a few days ago while at work in the capacity of carpenter, in Altoona, was removed to his home in St. Augustine, this county, on Friday last.

—The following persons can each get a letter by calling at the Ebensburg postoffice: Miss Jennie Anderson, Miss Jennie Cooper, 3; Susie Evans, Carrie M. Long, John D. McMullen, Amos F. McAllister, F. B. Hess.

—Joseph Barbiere, the $900 clerk in the Philadelphia postoffice has resigned, and it is reported that Captain Charles Heist, of Bucks county, who is a nephew of Mr. T. H. Heist, the proprietor of Maple Park, in the outskirts of our town, will succeed him.

Rev. H. C. Rodgers (colored) who was admitted to the almshouse a month or so ago, died at that institution on Monday last, aged about 62 years. He was buried in the Almshouse cemetery on Tuesday, Rev. McCaslin, of this place, officiating at the funeral.

—The art of getting rich is not in making money, but in saving what you get. One of the best ways to save money is in buying your dry goods, dress goods, boots and shoes, groceries and provisions of John Owens' store on High street, where you can always get goods at bottom prices.

—Mrs. Bernard McCaffrey, of near Nolo, Indiana county, died suddenly on Sunday last in a field near her home from heart disease. She had gone with her husband and some others to visit a neighbor, and on returning took suddenly sick and died in a short time. She was about seventy years of age.

Instrumental and vocal music, both sacred and secular in English and Welsh are on the program. Doors open at 7 o'clock, concert commences at 8. Admission 25 cts.; children under 12 years, 15 cents.

—Don't fill the system with quinine in the effort to prevent or cure Fever and Ague. Ayer's Ague Cure is a far more potent preventive and remedy, with the advantage of leaving in the body no poison to produce dizziness, deafness, headache, and other disorders. The proprietors warrant it.

—The Hollidaysburg Standard says: John Duffy, who resides near the old reservoir, has a pond in which there are carp that measures thirty-one inches in length and weigh almost nine pounds. Some idea of the rapid growth of this species of fish may be inferred from the fact that they are not over five years old.

—Mr. Peter Burns, a resident of Tunnel Hill was found dead near the railroad track at the west end of the Gallitzin tunnel on Wednesday of last week. It is supposed that while walking along the edge of the hill above that point that he made a misstep and fell over the embankment which is very steep at that place.

—The outlook in the Iron trade has not been more favorable for a number of years than it is at present. Signs of improvement are coming to the surface every day, and manufacturers are beginning to conclude that the black mantle of depression is being gradually lifted from the staple industries of Pittsburg. Orders are increasing rapidly and many mills are running on double time.

—On Tuesday last Mr. John W. Sharbaugh, of Carrolltown, made information before 'Squire Kinkead against Samuel Bates, a lumberman, who has been doing business in the south end of the county for forgery. Bates was arrested and brought up on Wednesday evening and on being taken before the justice waived a hearing, and was taken to jail. He is charged with having forged the name of Mr. George Rinkin, of Clearfield county to a note for two hundred and fifty dollars, which he afterwards disposed of to Mr. Sharbaugh.

—The names of Rev. Father Smith, of St. John's church, Altoona, and Rev. Father Corcoran,curate of St. John's church,Johnstown, are both mentioned in connection with the vacant pastorate of St. Mary's church, Hollidaysburg. Knowing both of the reverend gentlemen, we can truly say that our Hollidaysburg friends will have abundant cause for congratulation should either of them be appointed.—Altoona Times.

—Engineer James Stewart, of Hollidaysburg, and Conductor "Doc." Luckett, of Altoona, have been placed in charge of the first engine that has been put on the new Cresson & Coalport road, and are hauling dirt to grade the track and make about sixty trips a day around the "Y" at Cresson. The road, it is understood, is to be ready for business from end to end on the 1st of November.

—John A. Ritchey, of Everett, one of the moonshiners indicted in the United States District court, failed to put in appearance when called for trial at Erie. Since then he has been trying to evade the officers of the law. Last week Detective Beegle succeeded in effecting his capture and on Wednesday took him to Pittsburg, where he will be tried at the next term of the District court.

—Mr. William Kimball, the accommodating drayman, who has been driving Mr. J. G. Lloyd's team for the past couple of years, took his departure on Tuesday last for Boston, where he is engaged as drayman, and we feel certain he can fill the bill. His last job here was moving the FREEMAN office, after which we gave him a diploma which, we have no doubt will see him through at the Hub.

—Mr. John Donovan,of Millville borough, was found lying dead at the foot of an abrubt precipice on the streets of Millville borough, on Sunday last. He was a member of Council of that borough, and along with some other members of that body had been out looking about some work to be done on the streets up to 11 o'clock the night before, which was the last seen of him alive. He was not a drinking man, and it is strange that he met his death in a locality that he was thoroughly acquainted with.

—E. K. Apgar died at Utica, N. Y., on Tuesday last. He was one of the leaders of the Democratic party in that State and was a close friend of Mr. Tilden and Daniel Manning, the present Secretary of the Treasury. In 1872 during the Horace Greeley campaign, Mr. Apgar addressed a Democratic meeting held at St. Augustine, in this county, and his speech will no doubt be remembered by many Clearfield townships Democrats who were at the meeting, when they read this notice of his death.

—The Democrats of Blair county held their nominating convention on Tuesday last and placed in nomination the following ticket: Sheriff, Alex. McKnight, of Hollidaysburg; Prothonotary, James P. Stewart, of Hollidaysburg; Poor Director, George V. Gosharn, of Frankstown; Jury Commissioner, Andrew Bender, of Altoona; Delegates to State Convention. Harry McFadden, of Hollidaysburg; Frank Molloy, Altoona; Charles Feltinger, Altoona; W. Fiske Conrad, Tyrone. R. W. Christy, of Antis, was chosen Chairman of the County Committee. The ticket is a strong one.

—Major John B. Guthrie, a prominent citizen of Pittsburg, died at the Mountain House, at Cresson on Monday evening,aged seventy-seven years. Under President Polk he was Collector of Customs at Pittsburg, and at the same time filled the office of Pension Agent of that district. Under President Buchanan and Lincoln he was Inspector of the Custom Houses of the United States. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention, and for two terms filled the office of mayor of Pittsburg. He was an officer in the original Duquesne Greys,and accompained them in their struggles in the Mexican war.

—A couple of months ago inquiry was made from some place in the West, in relation to a divorce that purported to have been granted by the court at Huntingdon and which turned out to be bogus, no such divorce having ever been granted in that county. Last week inquiry was made by mail at Huntingdon, by Miss Jennie Smith, of Centre, Rawle county, Missouri, as to the validity of a divorce purporting to have been granted April 14, 1885, to Barbara Smith, from her husband, John Calvin Smith, by the Supreme Court of Mapleton, Huntingdon county, of which the judge's name is given as Ates, and the clerk as W. W. Hicks. There is a bogus divorce mill somewhere doing a thriving business issuing divorces from Huntingdon county.

—On Thuesday night of last week Mr. William Wasser and Mr. James Sharbaugh, were driving from Carrolltown to Mr. Sharbaugh's place about a mile distant, and when near the farm of Mr. Andrew Strittmatter the horse became fractious and in attempting to control him, the briddle bit broke, when they were both thrown out and the horse ran away. Both gentlemen escaped with a few slight bruises. The horse ran on to the first hill on the Ebensburg road, where he was found lying dead a short time afterwards with the wreck of the buggy lying on top of him. He had run over a bank and fell against a beech tree with sufficient force to cause his death. The animal was a valuable one, and belonged to Mr. George Snyder, who had left him with Mr. Wasser to board.

—"Grant's Memorial: what shall it be?" is discussed in the September number of the North American Review, by Launt Thompson, Karl Gerhardt, O. L. Warner and Wilson McDonald, sculptors; W. H. Beard, painter; Calvert Vaux and Henry Van Brunt, architects; and Clarence Cook, art critic. This symposium is sure to attract wide attention at this time, when the desire is so general to erect a monument to Grant that shall be worthy of the man, the nation, and American art. The same number of the Review contains a consideration of the question, "Shall our National Banking System be Abolished?" by George S. Boutwell, F. J. Scott, S. Dana Horton, and Edward H. G. Clark. "Onida" contributes an essay on "The Tendencies of English Fiction," and Elizabeth Stuart Phelps writes on "The Great Psychical Opportunity. But the most readable article in the number is ex-Sergeant-at-Arms French's "Reminiscences of Famous Americans," which is a series of delightful anecdotes about the famous war senators. Mr. French is writing a book of these reminiscenses. If it equals this forestallment in the Review, it will be one of the famous works of modern literature.

THREE WEEKS DOWN SOUTH.

At Jacksonville you are more impressed with a spirit of Northern enterprise than in any other Southern city. It is the general headquarters for health seeking, invalids and pleasure seekers from the North. It abounds in winter resorts, possessing all the characterists of our Northern summer resorts.

Of these the Windsor where we stopped and the St. James, are among the principal, and are situate nearly together on a rising ground outside the business portion of the city. There are some half dozen other houses of the same character. Board is uniformly four dollars per day.

Jacksonville is situated on the Saint John river; a stream as large as the Susquehanna at Harrisburg. It is navigable for 100 miles above its mouth for steamboats drawing 8 feet of water, and for smaller craft much higher up. It separates Duval county, of which Jacksonville is the county seat, from Saint John's county. The city presents quite a commercial appearance along the river streets. But it bears evidence of it's recent origin; in the unpaved streets and the sandy streets and sidewalks, where you sink over your gaiters. Nor can you resist the conclusion that its growth is forced by outside capital. We took a drive in the afternoon on one of the finest thoroughfares a distance of some ten miles, and found it very pleasant. We drove through the gateway, into and through a fine orange orchard, and among giant trees, beautifully festooned with moss and stopped on the banks of the St John and had a fine view of the river, its bosom partially covered with steamboats and sailing vessels. We returned by a different route.

We had tow drive backs to our pleasure, however. At several points we were compelled to drive for some distance through beds of living water.

Again we encountered the sand flies. I had been terrorized with the number and size of the mosquitos to be met with, and we had resigned ourselves to any reasonable amount of annoyance from them. We really were but little troubled with them during our whole voyage.

But the sand flies!—for two mortal hours, on our return, they kept up a constant attack. Too small to be discerable we too keenly felt their power. On every exposed part of their victim they made their attack without the slighest intermission, causing a constantly itching irritation well nigh unendurable. I speak of these plagues here, because we were not troubled with them before or after. We were only too glad when we got under cover of our hotel.

While speaking of Jacksonville as a winter resort, we would not be understood to say that it has no manufacturing industries. Besides very large shipments of oranges, sweet potatoes and other tropical fruits, it has a large lumber trade. While we were there a very large lumbering manufactory was burned to the ground at an immense loss to the owners.

The season, as it is called ends in April, and the St. James Hotel closed the day of our visit; while Orvis, of the Windsor, had still some 20 visitors and was unwilling to close while they remained, and he kept his hotel at its best until the last.

TRAVELER.

ELOPEMENT.—The following item appears in the Greensburg Press from a Blairsville correspondent: Not long ago a sewing-machine agent,hailing from Johnstown, and who had been circulating for some time around this place, left his family and went off with a woman whose history is only another illustration of the fact that one step of degradation is so easily followed by another that the time soon comes around when all sense of shame is lost. This woman is a granddaughter of a leading physician, who formerly practiced in Westmoreland county, and on her mother's side her connections are among the best. She has been living with David Donahoe, who was convicted of larceny at the June term of court in Greensburg and sent to the penitentiary for two years. The wife of the sewing machine agent has offered a large reward for their apprehension.

The sewing-machine agent alluded to is Joseph W. Seese, who, about a year ago was employed at the Cambria House, in this place, as bar-keeper and previously was engaged in selling sewing machines in this neighborhood. He has lately been residing in Johnstown and about eight weeks ago left that place in a carriage, taking his thirteen-year-old daughter with him as far as Blairsville, when she returned home. He then left with Mrs. Ida Donahoe, the woman above referred to, who is a grass-widow. He leaves a wife and four children in Johnstown, but it is said that they are better off without him, as he done nothing for them and his wife was under the necessity of keeping him in "grub."

—BALLOU'S MAGAZINE for September has an illustrated article on the Crimea, and the mysterious movements of Russia on the Black Sea, at the present, after years of quietness. It is worth reading. Then follows the California story, "Lewey and I; or, Sailor Boys' Wanderings," by Wm. H. Thomes, author of "The Belle of Australia," and "On Land and Sea." In this part the two adventurers have their first encounter with Captain Fremont's scouts,near Monterey, while escorting two ladies to their homes and husbands. There is also an account of a lively earthquake at Monterey; and some wild scenes that follow it. There are stories and poems of great merit in BALLOU'S MAGAZINE, and some rare wit and humor. It is a good number, and one the people will be pleased to read. It is only $1.50 per year, or 15 cents single copies. Address Thomes & Talbot, 23 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

—A story is told as coming from Ex-Speaker Randall. He said there were two accidents in the Grant funeral pageant that had not been noticed by the papers. Mr. Randall was asked, "What were they?" His reply was, "Hayes and Arthur."

HUNG HIMSELF.—On Monday last about an hour before noon some boys were playing at the East end of town near the Loretto road, close to the race that carries the water from the Messrs. Ludwig & Sons' dam to their woolen mill, their curiosity was attracted by the great stench that filled the air, and on investigation found the dead body of a man hanging to a tree,surrounded by a clump of trees and bushes, and, although not over two roads from the road, could not be seen for the bushes. They immediately gave the alarm and in a short time quite a crowd gathered to see the ghastly and sickening sight. The body had evidently been hanging for a week or ten days, was gone far into decay, was covered with bugs and vermin, the eyes protruding from their sockets and the stench terrible. His hat, coat and pair of shoes, together with some cakes, oranges, lemons and a quart bottle about half full of whiskey were lying on the ground close to the corpse. He had tied a red woolen scarf to the limb of the tree and around his neck on the side of a small gully and threw his feet forward down the sloping ground. When found his feet were resting on the ground with one arm clinging ro und a limb of the tree. On his person was found a pass book in which the following letter was written in German:

EBENSBURG, August 10.

Here in this Almshouse is a man that is deceptive, he may be distinguished from others by having a large back.

This bad fellow encouraged others to make sport of me. This is not all. Steward Lilly and his bad boys are together in the work. Such a man should be in the workhouse instead of the almshouse.

If Lilly was a righteous man he would prevent his bad children from being engaged in such conduct, but he encourages the same instead of preventing it. This bad Lilly is so vain, and there are few like him. He reigns like a bad Sovereign in Germany. The directors are nothing but 3 noughts. They eat and drink well and then all is in good order. Those that see Lilly will believe me when I say, that he has filled his belly like a sow of 300 or 400 lbs. This Lilly is not only bad, but is a cheat and spendthrift.

An examination of affairs they do not amount to anything, for the reason that Truth will be made to represent Lies, and Lies the Truth. But if another Steward would be put in charge,then Lilly's cheatery would be brought to daylight.

This Lilly gathers money upon money together, and the citizens and farmers must pay the same with the sweat of their brow.

I am tired of this life and would rather be dead. The Messrs. Fronbeiter and Valentine Schafer know me.

Those gentlemen know that I have not been a bad man. J. A. KOENIG.

Word was sent to the almshouse, which is only about a half-mile distant and Steward Lilly came in and took charge of the remains. A sheet was wrapped around the body and pinned close, his feet were placed in a coffin and the body cut down and laid in, and was then taken to the Almshouse cemetery and buried.

J. A. Koenig was admitted to the almshouse on the 9th of February, 1883, and left of his own accord on the 16th of March and returned on the 17th of November of the same year, where he remained up until Monday the 10th instant, to come to town and did not return. He had been in the habit of coming and going when he pleased and when he did not return Steward Lilly concluded he had gone on his summers's tour. He was about eighty years of age, could speak no English and was gentlemanly in his conduct.

OBITUARY.

MAUSE.—Died, at his home in Croyle township, on Friday, August 14, 1885, John, eldest son of Frederick and Mary Mause, aged 20 years.

LUTHER.—Died, at his residence in the vicinity of Carrolltown, on Saturday, August 15, 1885, Mr. William Luther, aged 84 years.

The father of the deceased came to this county from Lancaster county at an early date and settled in what is now Carroll township. The deceased was then a young boy and led a farmer's life from that time until his death. He was a hard working, industrious man, honest and upright in all his conduct and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was the father of a numerous family of children,seven of whom, consisting of three married sons, three married daughters and one daughter who is a Benedictine Sister, at St. Mary's, Elk county, survive him. His wife died a year or two ago. His remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Carrolltown on Monday. May his soul rest in peace.

DOUGHERTY.—Died, at his residence in this place, on Tuesday, August 18, 1885, Mr. John Dougherty, in the 94th year of his age.

The deceased was born in Donegal county, in the extreme northern portion of Ireland, and began learning the trade of a tailor when he was twelve years old. He came to this country in 1817, and followed his occupation at different places until September, 1819, when he settled in this place, where he lived for almost 66 years with the exception of very brief period that he resided in Pittsburg. He spent over eighty years on the tailor's bench and only ceased working at his trade about a year ago. When in his prime he was a remarkably active man on his feet, and could ride in the saddle with any horseman of the day. He was blessed with a most vigorous constitution, was never known to be seriously unwell, and only occasionally in the latter years of his long life had he any cause to consult a physician. He possessed a most cheerful and contented disposition—always looked upon the bright side of life's picture—was never oppressed or cast down by any misfortune or worldly disappointment that crossed his path, and seemed to be one of the happiest of men when sitting on his bench industriously plying his needle and humming one of the many old Irish songs he had learned in his boyhood and brought with him to this country. He was as honest a man as ever walked the earth, and no one can truthfully say that he ever intentionally defrauded him out of a single farthing. With two or perhaps three exceptions there are now no persons residing here who were here when he came in 1819, and one of these was then an infant. In 1821 he was married to Mary Brookbank by Dr. Gallitzin, in the old Catholic church at Loretto. Of his five children who survive him, two sons reside in this place, one in Missouri and one in Kansas, and a married daughter, Mrs. Murphy, in Bradford, McKean county, but who has been with her father since the death of his eldest daughter in March last and that of his wife in April, a double bereavement which it was hardly possible for one of his advanced age long to survive. He was an affectionate husband, a kind and indulgent father, a good citizen and neighbor, and passed away from among the people of this place and its vicinity who had known him so long and so well, without an enemy and with the respect and esteem of the entire community. His remains were borne to the Catholic church, of which he had always been a zealous and devoted member, on Thursday morning, and after a requiem mass had been celebrated by Father Walsh and a most appropriate funeral sermon preached by Rev. Father O'Shea, of Loretto, they were interred in the adjacent cemetery. May his soul rest in peace.

STRAY SHEEP.—Came to the residence of the subscriber in Munster township, on or about July 5th, 1885, 6 head of sheep, 3 ewes with a piece of both ears off and 3 lambs with no mark visible, one ewe has a small bell on. The owner is requested to come forward, prove property and take them away, otherwise they will be disposed of according to law.

AMPUTATION OF THE LEG.

Money is the enliversal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster County, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not withing apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. The family physicians refused to amputate the limb, asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David KENNEDY, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system and prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

To Keep the Blood Pure is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.
