He was born in Portage township in 1807, on the farm now owned by his nephew, Mr. Galilizin Brawley, where his parents settled in 1804. When about two years of age his father sold his improvement and bought the farm in Cambrig township, now owned by Ray, William Lloyd, about one mile west of Ebensburg; where the family resided for a great many rears and where the deceased grew up to manhood. He was a boy when the turnpike was built in 1818 and carried water for the men who worked on the road for his father -who had a contract for making a section of the road. When a young man he comland in White township. Sold as the prop- menced the business of wagoning, hauling goods from Baltimore and Philadelphia to Pittsburg over the pike, and he followed that occupation until the building of the canal and Portage railroad, ended the days for the transportation of goods in that way. He then went to boating on the canal and run boats on the Pennsylvania canal up until the time of its abandonment, when he went to Cumberland, and for a number of years, during the period of the late war ran hon boats on the Cumberland canal. He could recollect when the feasibility of building a turnpike over the Alleghenies was laughed usefulness, when they were each supposed to be the greatest achievement of human progress in carrying of freight across the mountains, and he saw them abandoned one after the other as the Inventive genius of the times perfected something better. He was honest and conscientions in all his deal-

He was never married, but made his home with Ex Sheriff Bisir, whose wife was his niece. He was a brother of Mr. David Brawley, of Westmoreland county; Ex-Sheriff John Brawley, of Hollidaysburg; Mrs. Catharine Dillon and Eizabeth H-rncame, of Minnesota, His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning. ATER'S SARRAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood. The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1, 1883.

DR. J. C. ATER & Co.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Facilic, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYEE'S SARSAFARILIA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for Scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilia being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, Ralpe Y. Wingate. New Bedford, June 1, 1883.
