THE LITTLE CHURCH HOUSE.

A little church house stood out of its home,
At the top of the hill,
And its light shined out for the people of the town.

CHECKMATED.

"Here, George," said Charles Lambert to his brother, "is Mr. Clayton's check for my month's salary. As you're going to the bank, I will have you draw the money for me. I'm going to the country this evening, and have some preparations to make."

HOW TO CURE OBESITY.

Idea Advanced by German Physiologists.

In the Fourth Congress of German Physicians the first subject discussed was corpulence. Ebelstein advanced the opinion that drops in weight, by means of the diet, are the only means of curing obesity.

TURKISH LADIES.

Their Personal Appearance A Distinct Type—Fond of Accessories, Etc.

In personal appearance Turkish women present a type as peculiar as remarkable as any nation under heaven.

STORY OF A LOST DIAMOND.

How it Lifted a Man Out of Poverty.

LOST—On Wednesday evening a diamond ring was lost by a young lady.

THE HALLS OF THE HOUSE.

Herbert Randall brought his head in confusion. He never looked the partner of Mr. Clayton or the husband of Ethelind Hala. Indeed the latter has been several years absent from the house.
