FRESH NEWS EVERY DAY FROM GABLE & CO.

They pay for space in order to call the attention of the many readers of this paper to the numberless bargains in their store (1402 Eleventh avenue, Altoona, Pa.) and everybody should heed what they say, for this space is too valuable for them to use without SAYING SOMETHING. When they tell you they are offering Balbriggan Underwear at 37½¢, worth 50¢, you had better pay attention; it might save you 25 per cent. on your investments in such goods. This 25 per cent. saved applies to more than Balbriggan Underwear; it applies to every department.

Wool! Wool! Wool!

Hemlock Items.

Wm. Murray & Son 1315 Eleventh avenue, Altoona, pay the highest cash price for wool in exchange for dry goods and carpets.

Bring your wool to Altoona and get trade it at Altoona cash prices.

WM. MURRAY & SON,

1315 Eleventh avenue, Altoona. 2m.

It was announced last week that Miss Agnes McConnell, of Summitville, this-way, who had been organist at the Catholic Church here for the past two years, had entered the convent of Carmelite nuns at Louisville, Ky. Many were the expressions of sorrow at the loss to the world of so cultured, talented and amiable young lady as Miss McConnell. But that she has chose herself, none doubt; for from childhood she had ever evinced a deep religious feeling and her life was a worthy example to her sex. The choir here will miss her, for she was an excellent musician and had few equals as a vocalist. Her place here as organist, was very acceptably filled by her sister Miss Edna. The hosts of friends which Miss Agnes had made will, however much they regret her loss, join in wishing Heaven's choicest blessings on her in the life she has chosen.

Mr. Daniel H. Zahn, the fireman on the Ebensburg & Crosson branch, when coming on the noon train on Wednesday last, had his head out of the cab window when passing a car loaded with lumber near the station and was struck on the head by a projecting piece of lumber that was nailed across the loaded car. His nose and face were badly scratched and he was knocked back into the cab, but we are glad to say, was not seriously injured.

Geo. M. Riddiford, of Philadelphia, is the man who Johnstown Tribune notices the arrival of our townsmen when he visits that place. If the Tribune man happened to be around about election time when the names of the voters in the East ward of Ebensburg are being checked off, he would find that George turns up as a voter every time and sometimes as a candidate, although in a strong Republican ward like that, a good Democrat like George has but little show for election.

One morning last week a man supposed to be Wm. C. Bush, who shot and killed his brother, Philip C. Bush, before last in Elk county, was arrested by an officer in service of Bush, in the haymow of Mr.
Henry Walters, about three miles west of this place. Mr. Matthews had permitted him to sleep in the barn over night. The officer started back with the prisoner, but we have since learned that he found out afterwards that the man was not Bush, and he was therefore released.

Mr. Jonas Kaufman, says the John-town Tribune of Monday, left the city Saturday afternoon for his home near Berardin, after calling on friends living in another place. Upon arriving at his home he was allowed to let down the bars of the hand leading to the barn. While fixing the bars one of the stallions attacked Mr. Kaufman and bit him twenty five times, taking a piece out of his cheek and lacerating one of his arms in a shocking manner. It is thought the immature arm will have to be amputated.

Mr. George Faust, the well known artist of Indiana, Pa., has an exhibition in one of the windows of Dibert & Co.'s bank a life-size crayon portrait of Hon. John Dean, President Judge of the Blair County Courts.
Mr. Faust made it to order for the Cambria County Bar Association, who will place it in the Law Library in the Court House.

The likeness is remarkably correct and the execution is also very fine.
Mr. Faust expects to do up our own Judge Johnston and Indiana County's ex Judge Blair for the Cambria Bar Association, and neither of the gentlemen need fear that he will not be done full justice. -Johnstown Tribune.

Communication.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Robert Ferguson and family, of Blacklick township, Samuel Brattler, of Jackson township, and W. H. Huntley, of Clearfield, visited the old Murray salt well near the dilapidated site of Dibert's former home in Blacklick township, on Friday evening. The village of Mount-town, the locality of which is still marked by heaps of stones which once formed the walls of the original buildings. The water flowing from the well is strongly impregnated with salt and bubbles up with a small hole in the bottom was placed over it and a lighted match held over the hole, a strong, bright flame arose which could be seen at a distance of fifty yards. When the hole was stopped up in a minute or two would rise up and tip over. When the stop was removed and a lighted match applied, a flame shot up a foot high making a loud report and burned for over an hour before it was extinguished, showing clear indications of more or less gas oil waiting only to be developed.

Northern School Notes.

Leech and Bearer's School is booming.
The enrollment is now up to 71 students.
Every student from Ebensburg and vicinity is attending their school.

The Book-keeping class numbers 35.

The meetings of the Literary Society are very interesting, the house being crowded every evening.

M. D. Beamer, brother of Prof. T. T.
Beamer, a member of last year's Prof. class is a student at their school this term, is President of the Society.

The victors in the spelling contest are, J.
J. Murphy, Annie Jones and Elmira Beamer.

Carrolltown Happenings.

This ends another "beautiful May."

May devotions terminated in St. Benedict's church here Monday evening, with the customary and beautiful ceremony and children's parade, amidst a profusion of flowers.

Mrs. Rodkey, the estimable wife of Mr.
Wm. Rodkey, of Cherrytree, died at her home in that place Saturday May 29th, aged about fifty years. Her remains were interred in East Ridge cemetery Carrollton county on Monday.

Decoration day passed without any demonstration other than the assembling in an adjacent grove, of a large number of citizens of that place and vicinity, with the song more eloquent than words, eulogized the nation dead, by the peaceful and enthusiastic expression of that liberty, for which they perished.

Mr. H. O. Stoltz, the popular clothier of this place is closing out his stock preparatory to moving with his family to Ronova Clinton county Pa., where, having purchased the Mark Anthony clothing and haberdashery business, he will engage more extensively in the business and public spirited business enterprise of our Cornet Band, organized in 1861, having played with it more than 25 years. We wish him and his respected family abundant success and happiness in their new home.
