Orchard Work in June.

Much may be done in the way of "anticipated pruning," by going among newly planted trees and rubbing off all shoots that appear where branches are not wanted. By doing this now the trouble of sawing off large branches some years later may be avoided. Grafts. that were inserted this spring, and are beginning to grow, should be treated as if they were young trees and brought into proper shape by judicious pruning. If one bud on a graft takes the lead of allothers, stop it by pinching. In short, treat a graft as if it were a young tree planted in the soil, instead of being planted in another tree. If shoots appear on grape vines where they are not wanted, remove them. If an old tree has been severely pruned, numerous buds will appear on the old wood. These are generally not wanted and should be broken off as soon as they appear. This will be a lively month with insects. The curculio attacks the plums soon after the fruit is set. Jarring the trees and catching the fallen insects upon sheet spread on the ground it the only effective remedy. Plant lice often appear at the ends of the branches of cherry, pear and other fruit trees. If these can be bent down and dipped into strong soapsuds, the insects may be killed. If out of reach, syringe them with kerosene emulsion. This is so generally useful as an insecticide on plants that we repeat it here: Stir kerosene with half as much milk until no oil is visible; then dilute with twelve times its bulk of water. This will kill almost all insects without injury to the plants. - American Agriculturist.

The Wife's Share.

No class of men are more indebted to their wives for the success that comes to them, than are farmers. The wife and the mother who has the courage to go out with the husband of her choice and commence the struggle of life with him on the prairie, or on a new farm, with but little capital, except that boundless capital of head and heart, is worthy to stand by the side of the Spartan woman of praise. Upon her falls the brunt of the strife, no matter how hard the husband may toil; his work closes with the day, but hers continues long after, and with her children and the small chores that many of the beginners look after, her lot is not one to be envied. And when, after years of struggle, success, with reluctant feet, comes to crown the husband with honor, the brightest wreath should adorn the Bas attained a standard of excellence which brow of the noble wife, who was the | wd stay and anchor, the comfort and the source of all hope in the stormy days of trial. These are the women who lead men up to the higher and nobler manhood, to that shrine, where, like knights of old, they bend the knee of homage, not to beauty, but to worth worth and royal manhood, -Furmer's

Singapore a City of Pets.

The city of Sicgapore is the chief entreport of the Asiatic pet trade, All along the harbor the clamor of captive birds and monkeys hails the purchaser from hundreds of shops, Chinese trainers. Parsee wholesale dealers and Malay peddlers are ready to sell or buy anything from a paroquet to a hunting leopard. Sigapore is the Cape Town of the Asiatic continent. Vessels of all nations call either for trading purposes or for supplies and repairs, for the harbor has the best dry-docks south of Canton, and the cheapest provision market of any Asiatic coast city. IS THE BEST. BUY NO OTHER, Splendid mangosteens, combining the taste of banana and raspberry, can be bought for a few cents a bushel; sago and yam-roots are equally cheap, and, as the Malay trappers work for a shilling a week the menagerie dealers can afford to sell a monkey at a slight advance on the aggregate of his board bill. The forest of half a hundred islands and peninsulas contribute to their stock in trade. The Malacca junks bring Gibbon apes, restless climbers with enormous arms and stumpy legs. Siam contributes lemurs and hanumans. Borneo an occasional orang; Java, parrots and wild peafowl; Papua, birds of paradise. Of the lemurs alone the local market terms distinguish some twenty different varieties, including the long tailed Tarsins and the Chirmundi Billi-"Bashful Billy"-a curious, phlegmatic variety of the genus Lora .- Dr. Oswald in Cincinnati Enquire.
