

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: THOMAS E. HOWE, Cambria. FOR CONGRESSMEN: JOHN KIRBY, Johnstown, JOHN CAMPBELL, Conemaugh. FOR HOUSE SPEAKER: GEORGE W. EASLY, Johnstown. FOR SENATORS: J. W. GRIFFIN, Minister Twp., LOUIS ROLAND, Johnstown.

The Irish Coercion bill was read the third time in the House of Lords on Monday last, and will doubtless pass that body, always subservient to the Queen's wishes, before the end of the present week.

The Colorado beetle, familiarly known in this country as the "potato bug," is destroying the potato crop in Prussian Saxony. A government commission has been appointed to devise means for the extermination of the pest.

The McGlynn literature, says the Philadelphia Record, is beginning to be tiresome. The Church has excommunicated McGlynn for disobedience of the command to go to Rome and explain himself. He avers on the contrary, that he has been pushed aside for the promulgation of political principles of which the Church does not approve. A dispute in which the disputants do not agree as to the main facts is liable to be endless as well as useless. The public are already surfeited with this matter, and are looking ahead for something newer and livelier.

CONSTITUTIONAL prohibition has been given a year's trial in Rhode Island. The Providence Journal has secured reports from all parts of the State as to its workings, the summing up of which shows that drunkenness is just as prevalent under the new law as it was before it was adopted. Liquor is sold on the quiet everywhere. This does not necessarily prove that the law cannot be enforced, but that prohibition is accepted for political purposes by the dominant party with the deliberate intention of allowing it to become a dead letter. Political prohibition does not prohibit either in Rhode Island or elsewhere.

MICHAEL DAVITT, who, with his family, was the victim of a ruthless eviction when he was a small boy, has good reason to feel an undying hatred towards the English government, but he completely lost his head last week when a couple of brief speeches, he advised the Irish tenants to meet force with force in defending their possessions against the government evictions. Mr. Desmond and other trusted followers of Mr. Davitt's policy in Ireland, have taken Mr. Davitt severely to task for his ill-timed and inopportune utterances, and Davitt will doubtless retreat from his position when he sees, as he must see, the damaging effect that will result to the Irish cause if his advice is followed out by those to whom it was given.

FREDERICK KREINER, of Bradford, McKean county, claiming to have the power to do so, has published a call for a State Convention of the Union Labor Party, to meet at Williamsport, on Wednesday, September 7th. According to the call the Convention will consist of one delegate from each local assembly of the Knights of Labor, Trades Unions, Farmers' Alliance, Grangers, Citizens of Husbandry, Agricultural Wheels and Soldiers organizations. And as if this was not variety enough, the call also states that the Greenback party, Anti-Monopoly Leagues and People's party will be allowed the same representation as their respective organizations now admit to their State Conventions. Kreiner evidently believes that in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom.

The evidence of President Cleveland's growing strength with the people all over the country are so manifest that every man who runs may read, this was well illustrated, in a local point of view, in a series of brief interviews with the magistrates of Davidson county, Tennessee, at their meeting as a county court in Nashville, the other day, published by the American of that city. These magistrates came from all parts of the county, and are for the most part leading farmers of their respective localities, so that their views constitute as fair an expression of public opinion as could easily be obtained. Excluding the Republican members of the court, forty-three Democrats gave their choice for President and forty-two of them were for Cleveland, and one favored Judge Thurman. The question submitted to them by the American was, "who is your choice for President and why?" The answers to the latter clause of the question are interesting and we quote several of them as fair samples: "Gover Cleveland, because he is honest and upright and knows his duty and is not afraid to perform it." "Gover Cleveland, because he has administered the government in the interest of the people at large, as far as I can judge." "Gover Cleveland, because he is a good man." "Gover Cleveland, because he does what he believes to be correct and stands firm to his principle." "Gover Cleveland, because he has the manhood to do what he thinks right." The American in commenting on these answers, says that this is a fair exhibit of public sentiment in Tennessee. It declares, moreover, its belief that similar efforts "would develop exactly this state of feeling in all parts of the South."

That the masses are with Mr. Cleveland as they have been with no man since the days of Jackson, there is no doubt, and because he is honest, fearless and true.

The Blaine Outlook.

Mr. Blaine confidently expects to be the candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency in 1888. He has very good reasons for his confidence. His great strength as the polls were polled in 1884, and in the weaker and more disorganized condition of his party, proved to get votes, no matter how, why, or where, is pretty sure to be the dominant consideration with the nominating convention. Mr. Blaine's friends are ardent and active. They know how to make stepping stones for him out of the ambitions of other men, and his unquenchable and wide popularity makes easy the work they and he are now carrying on. So far as the nomination is concerned, the Blaine outlook is golden. The naturally staid and the habitually hopeful among Mr. Blaine's friends feel also a complacent assurance of his election. They count upon the Labor vote, offering the means of detection and the loss to the Prohibitionists, to give them the victory they so ardently desire and can in no way attain through Republican votes. But already, it may be judged from certain faint but significant indications, the more perspicacious and thoughtful Blaine schemers "see with alarm," as the platform says, that the placing of a Labor candidate in the field would be their destruction. And it is only their habit of regarding Mr. Blaine as the man of destiny, that saves them from the possibilities of unfavorable accidents having been exhausted, that has thus far blinded them to the certain effect upon the Labor vote of a large Labor vote. Mr. Blaine came so near to the victory in 1884 that his grievously disappointed supporters have been able to attribute the defeat to a variety of trivial causes. It was Dr. Burchard's alteration. It was the rain in Northern and Western New York. It was the "Stark" defection in Omaha. It was with those everything, save the blaine-vote. But our Blaine friends are less inclined to dwell upon the influences which brought to Mr. Blaine the commands of the voters, and the counterbalanced large admitted defections and left him when the polls were closed only 160,000 votes short of victory, than they are to consider the fact that these votes were Irish Catholic votes, and were cast for Mr. Blaine because they were Irish and because they were Catholic. Now, what would be the effect of Mr. Blaine as a Presidential candidate when these Irish Catholic votes are taken from his column and transferred to a Labor candidate, as they most assuredly will be if such a candidate is placed in the field next year? Granted that 70 per cent. of the Labor party is of Democratic antecedents, the Blaine's friends will not be over-increasing satisfaction. But this percentage, useful and safe enough for use in prognostications concerning the result of the election, will not be so terribly misleading when applied to calculations based on the vote of 1884, since in that year many thousands of the voters swung to that time, and the Democrats and now are of the Labor party, United or Union, cast their ballots for Mr. Blaine. Deprive him of these thousands of votes and of the 99 per cent. of the Labor vote which admittedly Republican and the net result must be of a character to plunge into the deepest gloom the soul of any national Blaine candidate.

JACOB SHARP, the rich New Yorker, who was convicted of the offense of having bribed several members of the Board of Aldermen of that city, was sentenced yesterday week by Judge Barrett to four years in the Sing Sing penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000. A motion made by his counsel for a permanent stay to keep Sharp from going to Sing Sing until his case is passed upon by the Supreme Court in October was to have been argued on Monday last, but was continued until to-day. Sharp is completely broken down and if his sentence is carried into effect it is very certain that his death will occur before he has served out very much of his term. It is said that an application will be made to Governor Hill to pardon him. If this is done it is entirely safe to predict that it will be unavailing. If New York, however, had a Governor such as Pennsylvania had in 1882 in the person of Henry M. Hoyt, and also a Pardon Board dominated by a man like Matthew S. Quay, the New York boodler might escape punishment as easily as William H. Kemble did, between whom and Sharp there is only this difference, that Kemble attempted to bribe several members of the Legislature, while Sharp's operations were confined to debauching fifteen or twenty New York Aldermen. Kemble is still President of the People's Bank, in Philadelphia, holding thousands of dollars of the State's money on deposit entrusted to his bank. He is State Treasurer, while Quay as State Senator last week elected to the United States by the Republican Legislature, and this "Boss" ridden Commonwealth, Great is "Bill" Kemble, of Philadelphia, but greater far is Matthew Stanley Quay, of Beaver county.

THE Democratic State Convention of Ohio met at Cleveland on Wednesday last to nominate a candidate for Governor and other State officers. An nomination would be made until yesterday we cannot this week give the result of its proceedings. Judge Thurman, who is in Boston and who could easily have the nomination if he would consent to take it, published a letter last week absolutely declining to be a candidate. His refusal to permit his name to be used in the Convention narrows the contest down to Thomas E. Powell, Congressman from the State of Ohio, and Congressman Martin A. Foran and Congressman James Campbell, with the chances in favor of the first named gentleman. The Republican Convention of the same State will meet at Toledo on Wednesday next. The present Governor, Foraker, will be renominated and a resolution offered in favor of John Sherman as the next Republican candidate for President, which, from present appearances will be adopted, although Blaine's friends in the State avow their determination vigorously to oppose it.

Ireland's Future.

In a few weeks, perhaps in a few days, Ireland will be in the condition into which it was designed by the coercion laws of England, to be an unhappy country whose people are to be divided into wholesale evictions on the one hand and determined resistance on the other—arrests of Irish leaders by the score, perhaps by the hundred, and all the surroundings and conditions of anarchy and suffering of a state of anarchy deliberately planned by the English government to be precipitated in the name of "Quakerism."

Fortunately the contemplated crime cannot be committed in secret. All the world is looking toward Ireland to-day with a sympathy like that aroused by Mr. Gladstone's English agents in Bulgaria, in behalf of Bulgaria. It is not alone the eyes of spies and policemen that are looking at what is happening in Ireland. It is the eyes of the world, the barbarities of the eviction campaigns at Bodke and Glenbegh are now reported, there are many on-lookers, including members of Parliament and Members of the House of Commons. English women are there, too, ready to carry the tale of horror back to England. For a long time English misrule in Ireland was done in a hush. Only Irish ears listened to the tale of Ireland's wrongs. Only Irish hearts beat in sympathy for Ireland's woes. Now, however, English men and English women are determined that every detail of the great wrong shall be known to the world, and Tory misgovernment cannot long withstand the publicity to which it is determined every official act in Ireland must be made subject.

Besides, a great party in England stands ready to afford the Irish people outlandish aid and support in their country. This will be done openly, as the great movements in England in behalf of liberty and progress always have been done. The coming week is to witness the inauguration of this new force in favor of Ireland. A conference of the Radical and Liberal clubs of London is held on Wednesday to devise the best means by which Englishmen can come to the relief of the Irish people during the impending crisis. On the 1st of August the Liberal members of Parliament are to give a banquet to Parnell and the Irish party. These are significant signs which show that the day of British misrule in Ireland is near at hand. The coercive bill of 1887 must prove the last fruitless act of British tyranny in Ireland.—Philadelphia Sunday Times.

A ST. LOUIS Court has decided that playing ball on Sunday is lawful, according to the proprietors of the Sabbath and within the intent of the Christian observance of that day. The decision was made by Judge Newman, Judge St. Louis Court Criminal Correction.

The Blaine Outlook.

The San Francisco Chronicle of July 1st contains the following: "The Chinese residents of this city were somewhat anxiously awaiting the arrival of news relating to the approaching departure of his Imperial Majesty Kwong Sney, 'Son of Heaven' and 'Lord of Ten Thousand Years,' etc. A dispatch received in this city yesterday morning had a very gratifying effect. It selected for the young Emperor, and that $5,000,000 would be expended in the celebration of the most auspicious event. As soon as it became known when the imperial affair will take place the Emperor's wealthy and loyal citizens of this city will prepare for the proper observance of the event. The day will be made a holiday, the dragon flag will be floated, feasting made the order of business, and perhaps a procession and other exercises will be held. But as yet the date of the marriage remains with the fates, which the astrologers of the Empire must divine. The first ceremony of betrothal has now been observed. This is the choice of the bride. A Chinese Empress is not chosen for nobility of family or reputation, although generally she is taken from the nobles. Her beauty and beauty is the almost exclusive requirement. The mother of Hien Fung, a former Emperor, kept a fruit-stall. The Emperor himself had a habit of going to do with the selection of the Empress. The present Empress Dowager, who is a very able woman, and who has reigned twenty-two years, has used an edict through the Peking Gazette that the Emperor should marry, and set a date when a reception should be held at the residence of each noble. On the appointed day the Mongolian pangs and mammas took their fairer daughters to the Emperor's palace. The Empress herself presided over the ceremony, but her ladies-in-waiting, save the Empress, but the Emperor is also legally entitled to eight Queens. Consequently eight other handsome virgins were chosen to fill these positions. The personality of these selections has not reached this city, but the next mail is expected to furnish the particulars. It is reported that the Emperor's ladies-in-waiting, save the Empress, but the Emperor is also legally entitled to eight Queens.
