POLITICAL meetings at all points in the State of Indiana both Democratic and Republican, are being more largely attended than in any previous campaign.

LONDON is now stirred from the starting to the circumference with a terrible sensation. Six abandoned women have been brutally murdered during the past two weeks, in the neighborhood of Whitechapel, in that city.

The Republican papers are laying the sweet unction to their readers souls that Cleveland and Hill are fighting each other in New York. They may pretend to believe it in order to induce their readers to think that the g. o. p. has some show in the Empire State but when Governor Hill takes the stump in Indiana for Cleveland and Thurman it will require considerable explanation to induce a well-balanced mind to believe that while Hill is dealing his sledge hammer blows to the Democrats in Indiana, he is engaged in knocking him in his own State.

The pensioners of the United States on account of the war for the Union number 413,783. The amount paid out in pensions since 1861 is about $1,000,000,000, and the cost of disbursing the fund exceeds $3,000,000 per year.

THE Lumberman, the principal organ of the lumber and timber trade in this country, and strictly non-partisan, in a letter from the Pacific coast tells the story of one of the tariff trusts—the "sawmill trust," a combination formed by the lumber lords of the Pacific to gobble up all the fine timber land, squeeze the consumers and import cheap labor to supplant American workmen.

In the Pacific Sound region, under the protection of the existing trust and monopoly tariff, a few large capitalists have formed a combination, which is gobbling up all the choice timber lands in Washington Territory. This "sawmill trust," as it is called, ships lumber to Australia, South America, China and Japan, and sells it to the people of those countries at $2.50 per 1,000 feet less than it charges the people of the United States.

The saw-mill trust of Washington Territory pays pauper prices for labor. It charges war prices for its product, which enters into the consumption of every human being on the Pacific slope, and is the raw material of nearly all the important industries in that country.

What is said here of the lumber trust on the Pacific coast is equally true of a combination of a similar character in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

ON next Monday, something new and novel in the way of a campaign tour will start from Buffalo, New York. A huge canal boat, with comfortable accommodations for passengers will leave that city accompanied by a band and glee club and a number of prominent speakers.

BLAINE'S speeches do more harm than good to the g. o. p., and Chairman Quay and his committee are using their best endeavors to keep him quiet. Blaine was billed for five speeches in Indiana but the committee have cut him down to two and detailed other speakers to fill his remaining three appointments in that State.

THE Indianapolis Evening News the leading Republican paper of that city, and a staunch supporter of General Harrison gave vent to its feelings in a very emphatic way when the news that Blaine's engagements to speak in that State had to be cut short. It says: "The announcement that all Mr. Blaine's appointments in Indiana except two have been canceled, will be more surprising than disappointing to many Indiana Republicans."

FROM 25,000 to 30,000 women have registered in Boston and will vote for school controllers at the coming election. The execution of Professor Swinton's general history from the public schools and the discussion following led to this action on the part of the women.

A MAN out in Nebraska has waged his wife against a cow that Harrison will be elected. It looks like a very cheap way for getting a divorce, don't it?

A Dip Into the Probabilities.

Five weeks remain of the Presidential canvass, and it will be five weeks of the most untiring political effort that has ever been put forth in the States. New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut—these are the pivotal States that determined the election of 1884 and accepted as the battle ground of this year.

The whole number of the electorate is 401,000,000 necessary to a choice. Of these 153,000,000 are in the States of New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut.

THE Maine election favors the view that Cleveland will carry all the States named. It discourages the prediction that the present tariff will be repealed.

OUR dispatches from many of the counties show that the Democrats (Thursday) put into practical operation their method of contesting the present political battle.

THIS is a campaign of education; of sober consideration of the merits of thousands of voters in Pennsylvania, and it is a campaign of dollars and cents. It is not a campaign of cash for votes, but it is a campaign to bring up for study the wages of labor and the cost of necessities of life.

THE New York Telegram says: Out in Pittsburg an oil broker known as "Barney" Frost offers to put up $100,000 on Cleveland's re-election.

THIS remedy is becoming so well known and so popular that it is being used by all who have used Electric Bitters since its introduction.

Historian Blaine.

Mr. Blaine made a historical speech in New York on Saturday night. His theme was the tariff. He began with a review of the tariff history of the country, and following, down the line to Cleveland, ascribed all the industrial vicissitudes that have conspicuously affected the country since the year 1815.

Every man who troubles himself to think, or observe what is going on about him, knows perfectly well that while the tax rate is an important matter, there are other considerations affecting the continuous growth of the country which are much more influential in pushing it forward or pulling it back.

Mr. Blaine is as earnest in his explanations as he is crafty in his insinuations of recent history. While falsely attributing the panic of 1857 to the tariff, he is equally crafty in neglecting to state that the Republican majority in Congress voted to further reduce the tariff in that year.

THE announcement is officially made, as we print elsewhere, that the Republican party will not discuss the tariff bill in the House of Representatives.

Since swindling and falsehood have become the approved forms of human ingenuity these days, it is not surprising that the Republican course on the tariff, almost a year has elapsed since the President called the attention of Congress to the serious condition threatening the nation's credit.

THE flag is hauled down. Mr. Blaine's orders have been obeyed. The President has been obliged to issue a proclamation that the tariff would be a fraud.

THE remedy is becoming so well known and so popular that it is being used by all who have used Electric Bitters since its introduction.
