sider this matter he does it in deference to the ALLEOHENY TWP., Feb. 14, 1890. Editor of the Cambria Freeman: DEAR SIR .- With regard to our methods of making nominations in this county I am sur- whatever is done will meet with the approbation prised to see any intelligent Democrat advocating the retention of the system now in vogue. A glance at the history of the system is all that is necessary to convince any one that it should be promptly consigned to the grave of had methods. The system originated in Crawford county, which was good always for a Democretic majority of at least 1,600. For a number of years that county has given a Republican majority of about 2,000. In Westmoreland, where we formerly had a majority of 5,000, we can no longer hold our ground, having, under this system, been repeatedly defeated within the recent past. The system has been tried in this county during the last ten years with disastrous results. In theory it looks all right, but it is fraught with inherent defects which are without remedy. In thickly populated places a full vote is polled, this result experience shows cannot be obtained in country places, hence a fair expression of the popular will is unattainable. The concentration of the votes in towns and cities gives designing men full sway in their attempts to trustrate the wishes of the rank and file of the party. But I really do not think argument necessary-a glance at our recent political history should be all that is necessary. What then is to be done? As our political leaders (or those who are most frequently asking political favors) prefer comfortable, safe and easy illence, I will suggest an increased delegate system. Let each election district send one delegste; each district polling one hundred Democratic votes to be entitled to two delegates, and for every additional fifty votes an additional delegate. Adopt this plan and it will be safe to predict that any convention that will ever assemble will contain a sufficient number of sensible and sagacious men to prevent the nomination of candidates whose election is known to be impossible. As to financial features I leave their discussion to others , and will close with the expression of my earnest hope that the present system will be discarded, as its perpetuation means the end of Democratic ascendency in this county within the very near future. J. J. K.

ST. BONIFACE, PA., Feb. 17, 1890. Editor Freeman .- As the Chairman of the Democratic County Committee has called that body to meet for the purpose of considering the propriety of changing our system of nominating candidates for office it behooves Democrats to ty, has adopted an original and novel meth- give the subject careful and unblased consideration. a candidate for Congress. With all his acknowledged merits and popularity he was forced to make the humiliating declaration that he was "too poor a man to run for Congress in his district." This acknowledgment coming from such a man struck the whole country as a sad commentary on our boasted republican institutions. It was even copied in the papers of monarchical countries as a proof that a government by the people must be a failure after all. Now how is it under the present system in this county ? Just

If you ship, and Annie Blough, Conemaugh townwant proof of this ask candidates what it cost Daniel H. Weyandt and Margaret M. Now what was the condition of things under the old system. One illustration is sufficient. Every one at all conversant with the old times will recall numerous cases similar as they oc Program forteachers' local institute to be curred in every convention. The one I will men held at Summerhill, March 1, 1890, comtion was the case of a very plain tarmer withou nencing at 9:30 A. M. This man had not one friend among the politicians as the term is politically Kauffman; For what do we teach? Muss understood. They did not know him politically Knepper: Health in the school, J. W. Leech; but nevertheless they advised his nomination in order to solidify the party and make it harmo the to the perpetrators of this the parent and director visit the school ous and I can say that every name placed upon room ? Why ? T. J. Itell; Our common the ticket that day in that convention was for the same purpose, to harmonize the party, and it was well, for that ticket triumphantly withstood one of the fiercest political assaults known in the history of the party. Now the expenditure of the wall-known farmer, a life long two interesting and instructive meetings in that tieket up to the time of the nomination was time and money of this and other candidates on but trilling. Certainly there were expenses afterward and the successful candidates paid the bills, but they could afford it, they had the bird in hand. Your correspondent from Clearfield justly objects to the high tee required of candidates. The only remedy is the delegate sy stem, with all its old regulations. You can always find men to serve on the board, and if they and the delogates are to be paid expenses, let the sacsessful candidates foot the bill. It is claimed that the delegate system takes the nomination of candidates out of the hands of the people. Now this is surely an absurdity. If we select one or
