EBENSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, - - - APRIL 18, 1890.

THE resolutions declaring Wilber F. Sanders and Tuomas C. Bawer, "entitled upon the merits of the case" to seats in the Senate from Montana, were agreed to on Wednesday by a strict party vota, yeas 32, nays 26. Messrs. Sanders and Bower were immediately escorted to the clerk's desk and the eath of office was administered to them.

An election was held at Butte, Montana, on Monday for the selection of seven Aldermen and a Mayor. Only one Republican was elected, and that by a majority of three. The only issue before the people was whether they should sustain the action of the canvassing board in throwing out Precinct 34 in the late State election. The election was under the Australian law and proved a success.

SENATOR CAMERON on Tuesday in the Senate at Washington, introduced a service pension bill, which has been approved by the Pennsylvania service pension association. It provides that all persons who served in the late war shall receive a service pension of $8 a month, and in addition a per diem pension of one cent for every day's service. The widows of these persons shall be entitled to a pension of $12 a month.

ADVICES from Northern Texas say that 75 per cent. of the whole crop in the counties of Cook, Grayson, Collin, Denton, Wise and Montague has been destroyed by insects. One of these creatureshs very similar to the Northern chinch bug and the other is the common lady bug. The latter is the most destructive and is not only destroying wheat, but is ravaging oats and corn and even attacking cotton.

Some watchful person in Philadelphia has added a new terror to death. He keenly watches the obituary columns of the newspapers, and promptly sends to the bereaved family a black-bordered card containing eulogistic doggerel. Accompanying the same is a proposition to furnish copies in "this style" at 15 cents each. The card is designed to page opposite the photograph of the de-

Sixty Women Ducked.

Between fifty and sixty Slav women were thrown in the Shamokin Creek Wednesday evening by the angry miners at Hickory Ridge and kept there until thoroughly exhausted. Many savage struggles occurred between the men and women, and while none were fatally injured dozens will feel for weeks the effects of the fight. The Savs bave a peculiar custom amounting to a religious duty of throwing water on people for two days after Easter. They think it bad luck for the thrower to fall in an attempt to cover the victim with water, and that, if snecessful, both will be blessed.

No matter who pass along the high way the Slays at Hickory Ridge burled the water at them. As each year passed the American miners would as they emerged from the mines. Of threw the water, but the men were too with branches projecting about four feet on tempt by the women to duck Holden C ester, Jr., and William Ribnehart, two of the bosses. It was decided on quitting work last evening that if any of the men were attacked they would duck all the Siav women in the hamlet. The whistle sounded "all bome" at 6 o'clock, and when the first four men gained the earth's surface they were again. almost drowned with water from the buckets of a score of women. The angry miners were reinforced, and while a dozen of them rushed upon the women and dragged them to the creek another squad went into every house in the hamlet in search of Slav women. The fight that ensued was very exciting and the scene a strange one. In a short time the creek was filled with struggling women, while the banks were lined with hundreds of miners and English-speaking residents. As each woman would climb the banks some workman would rush at her and ou picking up the woman in his arms throw her back in the swift running stream. Great care was taken that none of the women would drown, although quite a number fainted.

The Slav men were not strong enough to show fight and remained maddened spectators from a distance. When the invasion of the hamlet occurred three of the women armed themselves with weapons and rushed from house to house shricking for their sisters to band and drive the men back. The Slavs are enraged over the affair and threaten vengeance.
