HAGAN -- Died at his residence in Allegheny township on April 28, 1890, Mr. John Hagan, aged 86 years. Mr. Hagan was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, and emigrated to this country about forty-six years ago, settling in Allegheny township where he purchased a piece of land on which he resided up to the time of his death. He, like many more of the old settlers, had to endure many hardships and privations in struggling to make a living for himself and quite a large family, but by nonesty and industry he succeeded, and at the time of his death owned a pleasant homestead. He was a devoted husband, a kind parent, a devout Catholic, and a good citizen whose heart overflowed with charity for all. no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Eiv's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising.
