

On Monday last, Mr. Thomas McCrean, of Ebensburg, who has been a tipstave at the Court House for the past twelve or fifteen years, resigned his position as such, owing to ill health. Thomas McCrean, Jr., was appointed to fill the vacancy. John Shambaugh, formerly a resident of Carrolltown, died in Altoona on Saturday last where he had been living for several years. His remains were taken to Carrolltown and interred in the Catholic cemetery in that place on Monday last. Mr. Shambaugh was about 80 years of age. The entire civil list on the Court calendar for next week has been continued owing to the fact that the greater part of the week will be taken up with the trial of criminal cases. Suits and witnesses on civil cases need not attend. The inmates summoned for next week must be in attendance to testify in criminal cases. Mrs. President Harrison's daughter Mrs. McKee, and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Russell Harrison, accompanied by Mr. George W. Root, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, drove up the Allegheny on Sunday afternoon and returned by way of Loretto. Very few people in town knew of the presence of the ladies, and they were not recognized. A telegram from Bellefonte, Pa., on Wednesday says: A man whose name cannot be learned, in an altercation here today with Harry Waterhouse, an Englishman, was shot in the chest, and his condition, when he crawled to a neighboring house unable to speak, was pitiable in the extreme. He may recover. On Saturday last, Amos Kepple, of Bonquet, Westmoreland county, was threatening to shoot a man named G. Kepple, in the cutting shaves fell on the large belt and was carried along at a very rapid rate and thrown clear over the engine, a distance of twenty-five feet, when he struck a bank, fracturing his back. It is remarkable that he was not instantly killed. An eye witness says he was thrown through the air as if fired from a cannon. Rev. W. T. Braden, of Parnassus, Westmoreland county, a brother of John P. Braden who killed his wife in Johnstown on Thursday last, was here on Tuesday on a visit to his brother, and for the purpose of employing counsel for the unfortunate man. Rev. Braden is a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church and is connected with the Pittsburgh Conference. He will take charge of his brother's children, and see that they are properly cared for. On Monday evening Mr. William A. Stewart was down at the foot of the Westmoreland canal, in conversation with Mr. Sparks, when a stone being dislodged near the top of the hill reached the bottom with lightning-like speed, and striking Mr. Stewart on the right arm, broke both bones between the wrist and elbow, and bounding from Mr. Stewart's arm struck Mr. Sparks without breaking any bones. -Johnstown Democrat. Some inventive genius has discovered a process by which iron can be made rustless. This invention is calculated to work a decided change in iron implements of all kinds. It will be especially valuable in kitchen furniture, where rust often causes much inconvenience, and perhaps danger. Pittsburgh is the place where the new process has been introduced and already more than two millions of kettles and other kitchen implements have been manufactured under the patent. -Thomas A. Brown, tax collector of Lilly, whose conviction for forgery is noted in this place, will be confined in the jail on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to which all are fully advised. The Blair County Agricultural Society has a premium of $500 for the largest pig in the county, exhibited on grounds on Wednesday afternoon, at 10 o'clock, on September 10, 1890. The Commissioners on Monday last let the stone work for the new county bridge at Mineral Point, to J. A. Shoemaker, for the sum of $1,495. Thomas Anderson of Chest Springs, John Boyle of Dysart, William McCintock, of South Fork and Thomas Long, of Johnstown, who each had lower bids than Mr. Shoemaker, having failed to appear with their bonds for the proper performance of the work. The recent sale by the Sheriff of the Rex, or more properly, the Cambria Land Company's real estate in the Blacklick region, this county, consisting of several thousand acres of valuable coal and timber lands, sold at the suit of John H. Krause and bid off by A. V. Barker, Esq., at the price of $5,000, was not confirmed at the present session of Court. The confirmation was deferred under a rule to show cause why said sale should not be set aside until Argument Court, upon the petition of creditors of said Company, backed by a largely increased bid. Court Proceedings. On Monday at 10 o'clock Court was called. After calling the list of Grand Jurors the Court excused John A. Smith and Henry Swank, both of Johnstown.
