

Cambria Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1891.

DEMA ABBOTT, the famous opera singer, died in Salt Lake City, Monday, of pneumonia. She was a native of Peoria, Ill., of humble parents, aged 39 years, and the widow of Eugene Wetherell. She left an estate valued at nearly $1,000.

Speaking of questions that the Legislature should settle at this session the Western (Pa.) Argus remarks: "After halting reform follows, in importance, tax reform. The tax laws are unequal and unjust. These are the reforms most urgently needed."

During the year 1890 nearly 5,000 miles of railway have been completed in this country, an excess of nearly 700 miles over the operations of the previous year. There are now 167,172 miles of railway in the United States, of which 36,412 miles have been constructed within the last five years.

On Tuesday night the Republican Senators and Representatives at Harrisburg decided that a joint caucus to select a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Cameron be held at 12 o'clock to-day (Thursday). There seems to be no doubt that Senator Cameron will be the choice of the caucus.

The experiment of giving the office of County Superintendent of Schools to a woman has resulted very satisfactorily in Madison county, Ky. Hon. Curtis P. Barman, in a recent speech in the Congressional Convention, spoke of Mrs. Amanda T. Millon as the most faithful and efficient school superintendent Madison county had ever had.

On Monday night, at Harrisburg, the Republican caucus nominated C. C. Thompson, of Warren county, for speaker. His leading competitor was Mr. Brooks of Philadelphia, author of the "Brooks High License Law," but a combination of the country members against the city members and the fact that Senator Quay was supposed to be favorable to Brooks, caused his defeat.

GOVERNOR CLEVELAND, says the Tribune American Citizen proved to be one of the best Presidents the country has ever had. The troubles now afflicting American trade are largely traceable to the departure, under the present administration, from the prudent and conservative policy which President Cleveland had pursued. The course of President Cleveland toward business, the course pursued by the party now in power has resulted, in a large degree, in the destruction of public confidence. The people are now paying a fearful penalty for the defeat of Cleveland in 1888.

WORKMEN in the New Jersey potteries says the N. Y. Star are threatened with a reduction of 33 1/2 per cent. in their wages. Iron workers in South Chicago have been shut out; Fall River mill operators have been struck because of inadequate wages; and more Pennsylvania miners have left work for the same reason. What a splendid thing for wage workers! The McKinley tariff bill is proving to be a working man's curse. Incidents like those noted above show how beautifully that promise is being fulfilled. Increased cost of living and lessened wages—that is all that the workman has got or will ever get out of the McKinley business.

At noon on Monday, at Washington Associate Justice Henry Billings Brown, of Detroit, was sworn in as the successor of the late Samuel Miller, and the Supreme Court bench once more has its full complement of nine members. Justice Brown did not bring his gown with him. No chief justice nor associate justice does that. One was lent him for the special occasion of the inauguration and ancient form. As a matter of fact the Supreme Court has always a gown on hand in the robing room for the new member to don when the occasion requires. The cut and make-up of the justices' gowns have never been changed since the establishment of that august tribunal nearly a century ago. Justice Brown, as the junior member of the court, must sit at the bottom of the chief justice. On his immediate right will sit Justice Brewer, his classmate at Yale.

ALABAMA Census Swindler Porter, says the Harrisburg Patriot, was able to hurry the tabulation of the result of the recent census so as to show the population in each State and enable the present Congress to pass a general appropriation bill. He doesn't propose to give out the result by counties and thus allow a free discussion of the best manner of apportioning the different States into congressional districts. That information will only be placed in the hands of those who will use it for the best interests of the Republican party. To every applicant for information of this kind Porter replies that "the bulletin showing the population of the State by counties has not yet been issued." The people are aware of the fact that it has not been issued, but they would like to know why it has not. This information was hurriedly gotten into shape for partisan purposes, and now that the desired end has been attained, the census officials propose to let the people wait for the information they want until Census Swindler Porter gets ready to give it to them.

There is no complaint made by the Republican papers of Democratic members being elected to the Senate when the vote was taken that shelved the Force bill, on Monday.

The County Auditors met on Monday and are now at work auditing the accounts of the county. The annual meeting of the Auditors, elected by the people for the purpose of inspecting and passing upon the receipts and expenditures made by the County Commissioners and publishing a report of the same, is a wise provision of the law, intended for the purpose of informing the people how the money collected from them in taxes has been expended, and giving them (the people) an exact knowledge of the county's finances.

That the Auditors' report should be correct is a matter of fact that needs no argument. If it cannot be relied upon there is no use in the Auditors meeting and the people might as well let the Commissioners settle with themselves.

That the Commissioners are bound under the law to lay before the Auditors every item of credits and indebtedness for the Auditors to pass upon is also a well-settled truth that will not bear argument. If the Commissioners have the power of laying only such bills as the Auditors desire to audit, and of withholding other bills until next year, then the Auditors' work would be a farce that three men of common sense should be ashamed to idle their time at, let alone accept pay for. In other words if the County Commissioners have the power of withholding a bill for one dollar, they can withhold a bill for four thousand three hundred and fifty dollars, or for ten or twenty thousand dollars, and if they can withhold either and grant orders to pay the bills following year, the people could never tell how the county stood financially and there would be no possible use for County Auditors.

The law intends and common horse sense without any law would teach any thinking man that the Auditors' settlement should contain everything—settle everything for the year. If the Commissioners have contracted any debts that remain unpaid they must lay the indebtedness before the Auditors or pay the debts themselves. There is only one way of getting behind the Auditors' settlement either for a credit or indebtedness and that is to appeal from it within the specified time provided by law; at that time it is the settlement in final and conclusive and stands against the world.

If it is presented to the Auditors for allowance for an indebtedness contracted prior to the last Auditors' report, it is the duty of the Auditors to examine the Auditors' settlement for last year and if it appears that there was an indebtedness, they can then, if the bill is just and correct all right. But if the last Auditors' report shows no such indebtedness, the Auditors can have nothing to do with it. It is not even discretionary with a board of Auditors whether they can allow an old bill or not, it is simply a question of whether they regard the obligations of an oath to perform their duty.

Last year Joseph Higgs and George A. Kinkead were on the board as County Auditors, were re-elected in November, and are serving now. In their report last year they stated the outstanding indebtedness of the county at $23,869.63 none of which was for building bridges. Cambria county, according to the Auditors' report, made under the sanctity of their official oaths had paid every dollar she owed for building bridges. Yet on the very day that Joseph Higgs and George A. Kinkead as Auditors were sending out this report to the people of Cambria county an order was issued and rushed into the treasury for four thousand and three hundred and fifty dollars in payment for building bridges contracted for long before the meeting of the Auditors. Why the County Commissioners refused or declined to lay this bill before the Auditors and the people we will not now discuss; the time and manner of issuing the order has already been told to the readers of the FREEMAN.

One of the first bills to come before the present Auditors will be the payment of this last year's bridge bill. The severity expressed on the benign countenances of the Commissioners as they lay this bill before the Auditor will almost call a halloo. Bridge building with them has become a science, has been so carefully done that although the bill is old it would be an outrage to doubt its virtue.

But there is no use arguing the question of whether the county got value for the amount of this bill or not. The time for paying this bill by the county is past. Nothing but official perjury on the part of the Auditors can ever saddle it on the county now. It may seem hard, but it is the result of the Commissioners' own act in attempting to palm off on the people a report that they knew was not true. If they were willing to risk four thousand three hundred and fifty dollars on the presumed gullibility of County Auditors, and lose, they have none but themselves to blame. Monkeying with the people's money should be classed as extra hazardous. Last year's accounts, unless appealed from are according to every legal ruling closed forever.

If the Auditors doubt the position of the FREEMAN on this question—if they doubt their own common sense—they have the right and are expressly authorized by law to employ counsel of their own; not counsel selected by the Commissioners but counsel selected by themselves for their own guidance whose fees shall be paid out of the County Treasury.

We leave the question with Joseph Higgs, George A. Kinkead and Wm. C. Berry the present Auditors; to square their consciences with their official oaths will be a duty that they cannot shirk and should be performed without fear, favor or affection; without reward or gain or hope thereof.

There is no complaint made by the Republican papers of Democratic members being elected to the Senate when the vote was taken that shelved the Force bill, on Monday.

Fire Near Pine Ridge.
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Dispatches from points in northern Nebraska state that a fire battle was fought to-day between the soldiers under General Miles and the hostile Sioux. It is reported that both sides suffered heavy losses, but that General Miles himself fell early in the fight.

The story of a battle on Sunday in which General Miles was killed seems to have originated in St. Paul, Minn., and is disproved by a telegram which General Miles sent to General Schofield this morning.

Officers at Army Headquarters here are inclined to believe that the announcement of to-day's combat is equally untrue.

Sensational rumors of all kinds have worked the people who live within a hundred miles of the seat of war into a frenzy of terror, and all the militia in Northern Nebraska and Southern South Dakota is under arms.

It is generally believed that the United States troops have a long and arduous campaign before them, and that the redskins will commit many more depredations before they are brought to terms.

Reserveville, Neb., Jan. 5.—A dispatch has just received here from the Pine Ridge Agency, announcing that a great battle is in progress there between the troops and the hostile Indians. The information is that General Miles' cavalry captured several hundred Indians this morning at a short distance from the agency. A desperate battle ensued, and hundreds of savages were killed, while the loss to the troops was also very heavy.

General Miles himself is reported to have been killed early in the fight. The soldiers were driven from the agency, which was then surrounded by the Indians. The troops have been sent to the rescue, and the result is awaited with the most intense anxiety. The greatest excitement prevails, and it is feared that another Custer massacre will go on record.

The apprehension concerning the fate of the soldiers increased as the news without further information concerning the battle, it being feared that all sources of communicating are cut off, and that the Indians are in possession of the agency.

The Indians are reported to have fought like demons, murdering and scalping all the wounded soldiers whom they encountered. It is supposed that the cavalry were induced into an ambush, and that the Indians obtained an advantage in this way.

Commissioner War Ships.
ANNAPOIS, Md., Jan. 5.—Comment is aroused among navy officers over the series of orders emanating from the Navy Department, which in the past few weeks directing the commissioning of war ships at San Francisco and the ordering of various other cruises to Pacific waters.

In view of the present Bohring Sea controversy and the rumored chartering of seven steamers for revenue cutter duty, the above disposition is deemed ominous.

Some Good Indians.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has in response to a telegram sent to Agent Boyer at the Pine Ridge agency, inquiring as to whether any of the Indian scouts or police were available for service, received the following reply from the agency, dated the 3d:

"None of our enlisted scouts have joined hostiles. Captain Seward gave three permits to go to the hostiles' camp after their families, who have not yet returned. Police and scouts are rendering good service, and by their vigorous firing prevented the hostiles from burning agency buildings."

A Legislator Held for Murder.
GETTYSBURG, Pa., January 5.—I. N. Terrill, a representative from Payne county in the Legislature which has just adjourned, and who went through the criminal code, yesterday shot and instantly killed George U. Embree, a member of the United States Land Office a few days ago to make final proof of his quarter section in Payne county, twenty miles northeast of here. Embree, who lived four miles from the claim, introduced evidence which tended to discredit Terrill's right as a homesteader. Embree's evidence was all in yesterday and he had sworn to it. As he was leaving the Land Office, Terrill and his brother met him at the door. Terrill drew a revolver and fired five bullets into Embree's body, while the other Terrill pinioned his arms. Any one of the five wounds would have produced death.

Both Terrills are now at the United States military camp heavily guarded by troops.

The Force Bill Carried.
By a vote of thirty-four to twenty-nine the Force bill was decisively carried out of sight yesterday (Monday). It had been dead for some time. Seven Republican Senators—Jones and Stewart, Nebraska; Teller and Wolcott, of Colorado; Washburn, of Minnesota; Shoup, of Idaho, and Stanford, of California—voted with twenty-seven Democrats to consign it to its grave by taking up the silver bill that was obstructing the remotest chance of its resurrection, the decisive vote by which it was laid aside denoting that a majority of the Senators are tired of it, and want no more of it, either now or hereafter.

As the vote was not directly for or against the bill Quay and Cameron, of this State, who are both opposed to it at heart, preserved their Republican records by voting against the motion to lay it aside, putting the onus of the defeat of the measure in this indirect way upon the Senators from the silver and other Western States, whose constituents will overwhelmingly sustain them in voting with the Democrats to lay aside the bill that was obstructing the remotest chance of its resurrection.

Whatever the motives that actuated the majority of the Senate to be congratulated that the Force bill no longer blocks the legislation that is necessary to carry on the ordinary business of the government, and that the Force bill can now be passed if nothing more without calling an extra session of Congress.—Phila. Times.

Frozen to Death in the Snow.
MEDICINE LODGE, Kan., Jan. 4.—Two brothers named Bell, aged 22 and 9 years, and a sister 19 years old, attended a meeting here on Wednesday night, and a blizzard arose as they started home at 10 o'clock. When 200 yards from their home the elder brother remarked that they could not make the distance against the storm and would have to go with the wind. They drifted south about a quarter of a mile and took refuge in a canyon, where they were covered by snow. On Thursday morning the elder brother crawled out of the snow and attempted to get home. He called to his sister that he was so stiff he could not travel, and in a short time was frozen. The younger brother was also frozen to death under the drift. The parents started out on Thursday morning to find their children, and in a short time search parties were organized. Friday morning the body of the young man was found, and then the searchers found the girl, who was concealed beneath the drift. They had been out thirty-six hours. The girl did not know her brothers were dead. She is in a fair way to recover.

Sixty Miners Killed.
VIENNA, Jan. 5.—A terrible explosion occurred last Saturday in the coal mine at Ostrau. Up to to-day 60 bodies of victims have been recovered, and are believed to be more in the pit.

In addition, the rumors characterizing and arming of steamers for revenue cutter duty in the Behring Sea prove correct. The U. S. navy force will number twenty ships against the five British gunboats and one German vessel at present protecting Great Britain's interests in the North Pacific. This will increase the above force by still another vessel. It is expected that the war ships are now in position for mobilization at San Francisco inside of forty days. Six war ships are ready for immediate work.

Know Two Miles Deep.
"Yes I have been in a country where the snow is two miles deep," said N. B. Lazard, a mining expert from Tombstone, Ariz., at the Palmer House yesterday.

Lazard was in the East during the recent snow-storm, and was talking about what the people in Pennsylvania called a blizzard. "They thought the snow was coming down from the sky to talk about," continued the visitor. "But if they would visit Alaska about two hundred miles up the Yukon river they would find that snow for miles is so thick that the banks almost reach the skies. If it keeps on accumulating as fast as it has during the past ten years the snow will not be able to stay on the ground for a week or so recently. Alaska in 1885, and that year the snowfall was quite heavy. Snow that falls there remains, for it never melts."—Chicago Tribune.

To Prevent Being Buried Alive.
BALTIMORE, Md., January 5.—The will of Harry Moss, who was an eccentric man and died in Elkton. In it he directs:

"I desire that my body be dressed in reasonable apparel and placed on its two-foot fall of snow, something like a sapling pen sufficiently close to keep out a mink, and with a good roof, slanting but one way, with a bottle on each side, tightly corked, a door on the pen fastened on the inside with a latch, without any string to it. There I wish to be left forty days and nights. If after that any one chooses to bury me, they can do so, but I am certain I am good dead, by side my father out in the graveyard at Bermuda, but I don't enjoy it upon any one to bury me at all."

FATHER CRAFT, Catholic missionary, in a letter, says the Indians who are now on the Pine Ridge Agency, were driven to desperation by the unprincipled government agents who deceived and starved them.
