John Sherman in his opening speech in the Ohio campaign almost entirely ignored the tariff question by dwelling particularly on the silver issue. Can it be that they fear the results of a tariff issue at the home of its chief exponent.

It appears, says the Altoona Tribune, (Rep.) that William Livesy, ex-State pulsory assistance Treasurer, is in Milwankee, and that he is afraid to face the legislative investigating committee. It is a dreadful misfortune that Pennsylvania should be cursed with such officials.

John Bardsley, ex-City Treasurer of Philadelphia, was taken from the penitentiary on Tuesday into court in Philadelphia, for the purpose of testifying against the bank presidents who had ed elsewhere. The province of Toledo paid him interest on deposits of State funds. Bardsley however, astonished everybody by refusing to be sworn.
