Some of the business men in the north of the county are said to have some of their money backed up in the suspended banks near Greensburg.

George Hughes, of Nineval, was overpowered by gas in a well on Friday and died before he could be taken out. He leaves a wife and family.

Mr. James Kirkpatrick, of Carroll township, who for some time has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is said to be on a fair road to recovery.

Mr. David Price, of this place, had twenty-one sheep killed by dogs last week at his farm in Cambria township, about three miles east of town.

The mother of ex-Sheriff Joseph A. Gray, of Carrolltown, died at her home in Greensburg township on Saturday last, aged about seventy years.

Father Deacy, pastor of the Catholic congregation in this place, was in Columbus, Ohio, last week being called thither by the illness of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scanlan and sister Mary, of Greensburg, were in Indiana Saturday visiting Mrs. Scanlan's parents—Indiana Messenger.

Messrs. F. Brown, H. A. Shoemaker and J. G. Lloyd, of this place, and Charles Cross, of South Fork, are in the wilds of Blacklick looking for game.

Don't forget the laughing carnival at the opera house, next Friday evening. "Old Farmer Hopkins" has broken the record as a laugh producer. See it.

Philip Brubaker, a prominent citizen of Sinking Valley, Blair county, after returning home from the funeral of a friend died on Tuesday afternoon.

James Clark, Esq., father of Justice S. M. Clark, of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, died at his home in Indiana on Thursday of last week, aged 86 years.

Frank Sutton, of Cresson, was badly shaken up and scratched one day last week trying to jump on a moving train. Frank ought to take warning and quit the practice.

Marshall W. Jones, of Boston, Mass., who lives in this place, a son of the late Judge Hugh Jones, was married on September 2nd, to Miss Annie Merrill, of the same city.

Thomas Taylor and Stephen Smith, who resided in Punxsutawney and taken to the Clearfield jail on Wednesday and charged with the robbery of a tailoring establishment in Coaltown.

A taxpayer coming into town saw four wild turkeys on the Clay place, about three miles from town, on Wednesday. When they were in sight the turkeys took wing and flew into the woods.

The Pittsburgh Banking House, of Pittsburgh, Pa., closed its doors on Monday last. Want of confidence caused by trouble with the banks at Clearfield and Houtzdale was the cause.

Andrew E. McGarvey, son of John McGarvey, of Chester township, Clearfield county, was struck by a train in Pittsburg last week and killed. The young man was on his way home from the West.

The election proclamation, published today, gives notice to the voters that election is not far off. November 2nd, is a little over three weeks, is the day.

Monday afternoon train on its regular trip struck a cow belonging to Dr. Charles Owens at the crossing at the foot of town and threw it from the track, injuring it so badly that it had to be killed.

Mr. Charles B. Seely, a prominent real estate agent of Greensburg, spent a few days last week. Mr. Seely was born in England, his father being one of the early residents, who in 1816 served as treasurer of Cambria county.

The first license granted to a sugar producer under the McKinley bounty law was granted to David B. Ash, of the same county. The license bore the date of August 1st, 1891. In Somerset county 131 licenses were issued.

Some of the annual visitors to Greensburg who about election time, could do well to wait for their party if they hadly thought to work with, or to be with on our streets occasionally. This is their time of the year.

To be hauled in wagons from Greensburg to Carrolltown for use in Farmington township, the supply in that establishment, run short on account of the extraordinary demand made by the farmers on the new railroad for beer.

Mr. Jerome Platt, who twenty odd years ago was a resident of Greensburg and died here last week, in this place, had been an investment in this issue of the Freeman that should be read by those in Greensburg. When you visit Altoona, call, they will be sure to treat you.

—Mr. Frank Davidson will be at the opera house on Saturday evening. Mr. Davidson always was a favorite with Greensburg people and we feel certain his appearance on Saturday will be no exception. Secure your seats in time.

—On Friday last Mr. John Lloyd, president of the Greensburg Agricultural Society, took suddenly sick on the fair grounds. He was taken to his home, where, under skillful medical treatment, he soon recovered and is able to be out again. His illness was caused by the excessive heat.

—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of Messrs. Simon & Co., of Greensburg. This firm has taken a new departure, and besides their large stock of dry goods and clothing, have laid in a complete stock of groceries, and so sell them for cheap and fine goods. A vacant house owned by J. J. Weaver, in Summerhill township, was burned to the ground on Friday night. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary as there was no fire on the premises for some time past. The fire was plainly visible in Greensburg and seemed to reach closer than it was.

—On Tuesday morning a fire started in the residence of Lohr Kost, residing in 10th ward, Johnstown, and made such headway before the arrival of the fire companies on these that the dwelling house and brewery adjoining were entirely consumed. The loss is estimated at about $1,500 in which there was an insurance of $1,500.

—Professor Elmer E. Conrath, principal of the Conemaugh schools, who during the past summer along with Professor Allison taught the Normal school in this place, was arrested on Friday last, charged with cruelty to a child in administering corporal punishment. At the hearing on Saturday Professor Conrath was fined ten dollars and cost of trial.

A colored man's dead body was found in the Juniata river Wednesday afternoon, by Emanuel Zook, a foreman on the Pennsylvania railroad. There were no marks of violence on the body and it is evident he fell from the bridge that crosses the river at Tyrone. He had a hand clasp in his arm and a watch and some money was found on his person.

—Mr. Ed. James, of this place, left on Tuesday on a visit to friends in Ohio. Mr. James is an active Republican worker and his leaving at this time may seem strange, but at a conference held in the "corner drug store" before his leaving, the conclusion was reached that the Republican cause in this county, as well as in the state, was in a bad way, and that it was his duty to go to Ohio. It is a good time to visit Ohio.

—Col. John P. Linton, our candidate for Judge, was a visitor here Thursday of last week taking a look at our fair. The Colorado friends wherever he goes and his majority at the coming election will not be less than 1,500. The "fake stories" of his "being blind" and his "physical weakness" were exploded by the Colonel's presence and instead of injuring him, will make him votes.

—Cornelius Crowley, a resident of Johnstown, while crossing the stone bridge at that place on Saturday evening, was struck by an engine and instantly killed. The unfortunate man was on the bridge when it stepped off one track to avoid a freight train, without noticing the engine on the other track. He was about thirty-five years of age and leaves a wife and four small children.

—The state supreme court on Monday handed down an opinion affirming the decision of Judge Simonton, of Dauphin county, that electric and power companies need not come under the head of manufacturing companies, and are therefore exempt to taxation. A large number of companies will be affected by the decision, and a considerable addition will be made to the revenues of the state.

—Reports from the great potato growing districts in the northern Berks county are decidedly unfavorable. Many hundreds of bushels that were placed in cellars and barns have rotted and are now used for manure. The condition of those in the field is no better, and the immense crop is dwindling away. The past month's excessive high temperature and the excessive moisture of the early part of the month are the causes.

—A dispatch from Clearfield says: Ex-Senator William A. Wallace, who failed about nine months ago, is getting on his feet again. He has paid the widows and orphans who were depositors in his bank dollar for dollar, and says he will pay all his debts, and a branch road is being run to the Senator's lands, all of which are being developed and it is believed the development of the territory will make a rich man of Mr. Wallace.

—Mr. William Murray and wife, of Davonport, Pa., have been visiting friends in Pennsylvania for several weeks past. On Saturday last they spent a few hours with Sheriff Stinson, of this place, who is a cousin of Mr. Murray's. Mr. Murray had Croyle township thirty-six years ago with his father, the late George Murray, a well-known business man of Cambria county, and since that time has been a resident of Iowa.

—James A. Rathman, of Pittsburg, died on Wednesday of last week, aged fifty-two years. The deceased leaves a wife who was a daughter of the late William McConnell, of the Summit, and at the time of her marriage to Mr. Rathman, was the widow of James S. Todd, of Greensburg at one time editor and publisher of the old Democrat and Sentinel, the predecessor of the Freeman. He also leaves an adopted daughter and an aged mother.

—Mr. William D. Jones, of Cambria township, while driving up Julian street from the station on Friday last, when opposite the residence of Mr. H. J. Crouse, was seized with a fit and fell from his wagon. Mrs. Crouse saw him fall and ran and stopped the team in time to prevent the wagon from passing over the unfortunate man. He was carried into Mr. Crouse's yard, and with the aid of Dr. Davidson, who was summoned, soon recovered sufficiently to proceed on his way home.

—James Shanley, a freight brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was struck by the engine of Pacific on Wednesday morning while standing on the track at Sonoma. The deceased was watching Mal train east passing and failed to see the engine coming that crushed out his life. He was killed in a few minutes. He was married twenty-five years ago, and married and was a resident of Derry, where his remains were for interment.

—A correspondent of the Herald says General Hastings will deliver a lecture on the Johnstown flood, in Hastings, in the near future. If the general would vary his lecture with a few remarks on how Chairman Barker and the leaders of the Republican party in this county overthrew him out of the delegates from Cambria last year's Republican state convention, it would prove a drawing card and bring people from far and near to hear him. Some one ought to suggest it to the General.

—A case which shows the necessity of publishing notices of dissolution of partnerships, when such dissolution has been made, was brought into court a few days ago. Prior to August 9th, 1888, Benjamin Milliken and Henry Bettinger were partners in the butchering business in Venango county. After that time Milliken dissolved and went to live in another place. He published a notice in the Freeman that should be read by those in Greensburg. When you visit Altoona, call, they will be sure to treat you.

—A case was tried last week before Judge Krebs, of Clearfield, in which John Gluh brought suit against the road supervisors of Goshen township for damages for injuries to his horse, when he was struck over an embankment. The court, in charging the jury, said that the plea of poverty by the supervisors should not be considered, as they had the privilege of appealing to the county commissioners for assistance in maintaining proper roadways, if they felt ordered by taxation in that direction. The jury awarded the plaintiff $1,000 damages.

—The Republican leaders in this county seem to have spent their force and are not making any very great efforts to elect their county ticket at present, much to the disgust of an odd Democrat here and there who would consider it to go over this time. The Republicans, seeing the hopelessness of their cause, owing to the weakness of their state ticket and the popularity of Linton, Gray and the balance of our county ticket, can rest with confidence of place—but the reasonable Democrats who must make a noise to show that he is of some importance, is sadly out of joint just now. He is like the last rose of summer—left blooming alone.

—The erection of marble is the last work of respect to the memory of departed friends, and is a custom which has been followed from the earliest ages of antiquity. In many years J. Wilkinson & Son have been in the marble business in Greensburg and through their energy and honorable dealings, they have built for themselves a reputation for doing their work in a most artistic manner. Their work is an ornament to the town as well as a credit to themselves. We are giving them no more notice than they wish for, and to their establishment and see for yourself. They take pleasure in showing their work, whether you wish to purchase or not. They have an exhibition at their works two car-loads of monuments and headstones, and in April and May will receive two car-loads more. They will show a large assortment of the latest styles for customers to select from. They have arrangements made with wholesale granite dealers so that they can fill all orders for granite monuments and headstones in a short time and as cheap as can be done anywhere. They buy their stock in such large quantities that they defy competition. They also have the agency for the Linton Iron Company and are prepared to furnish all kinds of fencing or anything in iron. Persons wishing to purchase anything in their line of business would do well to call on them before leaving their order with any other manufacturer, as they have as fine, if not the best stock of marble that ever came to Western Pennsylvania. Give them a trial and you can depend upon getting a good job at a fair price.

—The prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, $20, to Charlie D.; second prize, $20, to Black Nellie; and third prize, $10, to Maud B. On Thursday afternoon the 2:45 race for a purse of $75 came off. In this race E. P. Sipes, of Jenner X Roads, entered Red Warrior; Dr. Prothro, of Greensburg, entered Slim Jim; and G. W. Hefley, of Somerset, entered Mattie. First heat—Red Warrior first, time 2:58; Slim Jim second, and Mattie third. Second heat—Slim Jim first, time 2:43; Mattie second, and Red Warrior third. Third heat—Slim Jim first, time 2:41; Mattie second, and Red Warrior third. Fourth heat—Red Warrior first, time 2:45; Mattie second, and Slim Jim third. The prizes were distributed as follows: First prize, $75, to Slim Jim; second, $25, to Mattie; and third, $25, to Red Warrior. The next race on Thursday afternoon was the three-minute race. In this race were four entries: Rob Roy, McGreger, Farmer Girl, Grant and Black Nellie. First heat—Rob Roy first, time 2:34; Grant second; Farmer Girl third, and Black Nellie fourth. Second heat—Rob Roy first, time 2:46; Grant second; Farmer Girl third, and Black Nellie fourth. Third heat—Rob Roy first, time 2:35; Grant second; Farmer Girl third, and Black Nellie fourth. On Friday, although the attendance was not so large as on the previous day, the race was not the less good, and the many people from all parts of the county were on the ground.

—On Friday about two o'clock a 2:45 race was called, with the following entries: Red Warrior, by E. J. Sipes, of Jenner X Roads; Mattie, by E. G. Hefley, of Somerset; and Harry, by Dr. Prothro, of Greensburg. First heat—Mattie first, time 3:00; Harry second, and Red Warrior third. Second heat—Harry first, time 3:00; Mattie second, and Red Warrior third. Third heat—Mattie first, time 2:59; Harry second, and Red Warrior third. Fourth heat—Harry first, time 3:00; Mattie second, and Red Warrior third. Fifth heat—Harry first, time 2:59; Mattie second, and Red Warrior third.

—In the free-for-all race three entries were made: Nobby, by J. M. Kelly, of Pittsburg; Tricky John, by H. Y. Haws, of Johnstown; and Jim Eriel, by John Pender, of Pittsburg. First heat—Nobby first, time 2:46; Tricky John second, and Jim Eriel third. Second heat—Nobby first, time 2:32; Tricky John second, and Jim Eriel third. Third heat—Nobby first, time 2:30; Tricky John second, and Jim Eriel third. In the running race two entries were made: Ray Jim, by Shaw of Hollidaysburg; and Charlie, by Nagle of Altoona. Ray Jim won in three straight heats, half mile each, making the first in 56 seconds, the second in 57, and the third in 58. Taking the fair all in all it was a grand success, clearing in all about one thousand dollars, which will leave the Society nearly out of debt.

—A Clearfield Bank Closure.—The First National Bank of Clearfield, of which William H. Hill is president, closed its doors on Wednesday last week. This institution was one of the oldest, and for years, considered among the strongest banks of the state. President Hill submitted the following for publication: "An unprecedented run on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday on the First National Bank of Clearfield, Pa., amounting to nearly $400,000, and it is impossible to continue business, and therefore the bank suspends payment." There has been a continuous run on this bank since December last. This was occasioned by the fact of E. H. Johnson, formerly vice-president of the bank, selling $25,000 of stock. As a brother-in-law of the president, this, of course, created distrust and made a run. The bank has helped a number of business men financially during the past two years, and has lost considerable in this way. The Houtzdale bank, a branch of the Clearfield bank, also closed the same day. A narrative has been given out and President Hill is now in jail, charged with embezzling $85,000.

—The following marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court for the week ending Wednesday, October 7th, 1891: John Krasinski and Mary Gibbons, Gallitzin. John Michael and Anna Gonsor, Johnstown. Valentine Fatun and Mary Fox, Johnstown. Joseph M. Noel and Lizzie McIntosh, Lilly. John Frank, Blacklick township, and Catharine Werner, Cambria township. William Houston and Annie Smith, Johnstown. John Malst and Ellen George, Johnstown. Charles E. Horner and Lillie Boyer, Johnstown. John Meyer, Johnstown, and Katie E. Schaefer, Brownstown. Peter Komara and Annie Stof, Johnstown. John Harvey and Barbara Hainley, Frittality. James A. Williams and Maggie Perry, Johnstown. Peter Blachak and Katie Kowalski, Johnstown. Daniel K. Kitchen, Clearfield township, and Annie Eckenrode, Elder township. Harry Parks and Ida Bracken, Johnstown. Albert J. Feighner, Carroll township, and Frances Campbell, Carrolltown. George Barkotch and Mary Halobari, Portage. Edward Langley and Jennie Jones, Johnstown. George Kirchner and Matt Lutz, Johnstown.

—Injured in a Runaway.—Last Wednesday Mrs. E. S. Burgoon and her son, a boy about sixteen years of age, both residing in Ashville Cambria county, where they conduct a store, were in the city to procure some goods for their establishment, such visits being customary with them. They had one horse and a small delivery wagon. When they reached the premises of Mr. James Trexler, on their way toward the holding back straps on the horse broke, and the animal ran away. Mrs. Burgoon thought it best to jump off, and in doing so she broke her right leg just above the ankle. The boy struck the wagon for two miles over very rough roads. When near the Ashville graving yard the horse ran into the heavy spring wagon of Mr. John McCoy, and the runaway's head was upset and the shafts broken. This stopped the flight. The boy was badly frightened and hurt but no bones were broken. Mr. McCoy then turned back to where Mrs. Burgoon had been thrown on the road, helped her into his wagon and took her to his home.—Altoona Times.

—"Old Farmer Hopkins."—Mr. Davidson never disappoints his friends, and those who do not hear him expecting a heavy laugh are sure of it. Tuesday night was no exception, and in the character of "Old Farmer Hopkins" he certainly furnished plenty of merriment. He was well supported by an exceedingly capable company.—Washington (Pa.) Journal.

—Mr. Davidson and his company will appear at the Greensburg opera house on Saturday evening, October 10th.
