A FULL vote means 1000 Democratic majority. Get the whole vote out.

SECRETARY BLAISE is back at his post in Washington, in apparent good health and Harrison's followers will again be uneasy for fear the presidential bid will be buzzing in his bonnet.

DEMOCRATS beware of spurious tickets. The Republicans in this county have conducted this campaign on the "fake" plan and they will be using all sorts of "fakes" up until the last moment.

If anything was straight about the State Treasurer's office why is the cashier Livsey, away. The Senate may whitewash the principal but they cannot get the cashier within the limits of the state to testify.

NEVER was the finances of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so rotten as to-day; never were the people so loud in their demand for an Auditor General and a State Treasurer who will get at the truth and let no guilty man escape.

It was had enough to rob the state, but it was a good deal worse to steal $420,000.00 of the monies the state had set aside for the education of her children in the common schools. That fund at least should have been held sacred.

In the country districts teams should be provided to get the aged and infirm to the polls. Those having teams should give one day's work for the good of the country in getting out the vote. A man with a team is worth a dozen talking politicians.

WHAT a fine set of triplets are the names on the draft, a fac-simile of which is published on this page. Honest John Barsley in the penitentiary, G. W. Marsh fled to escape and M. S. Quay. The g. o. p. has a fine category of patriotic statesmen.

LAST week President Harrison received as a gift, a cask of Scotch whiskey from Andrew Carnegie, who is at present at Cluny Castle, Scotland. It will take several "jiggers" of the stuff to brace Benjamin up after hearing the news from the elections next week.

THE Senate is still in session and there is no probability of its doing anything until after the election when it will make a report whitewashing Boyer and McCannant. Should they do anything else Boyer and McCannant would kick and there would be no telling who would land in the "soup." There is nothing like "protection" to Republican masculinity.

THE Republicans in the north of the county are asking Democrats to vote for Judge Barker, as a compliment and are even offering to trade votes on Sheriff for votes on Judge. Let Democrats beware of all trades and vote the straight ticket. It is an old dodge of the Republicans in this county to have a candidate on their ticket for trading purposes.

THE New York Court of Appeals on Wednesday, at Albany, rendered a decision affirming the judgment of the lower court, which invalidates the will of the late Samuel J. Tilden. Mr. Tilden was one of the best lawyers in the United States but he was not able to make a will that would stand the pickings of a lot of lawyers when there was millions in it.

THE prevailing impression among the people seems to be that the Constitutional convention, if held, would be a costly affair while its capacity for doing good would be extremely doubtful. The present constitution is good enough if our legislators would pass laws to compel its observance, but as long as Boss Quay rules the roost there is not much likelihood of their doing so.

Is the Bedford-Somerset Judicial District the Republican conferees have, up to this time, failed to agree on a candidate for judge, the Bedford county delegates voting for Senator Longenecker, while the Somerset conferees remain steadfast for their candidate, Francis J. Koozier. It looks very much as if the Democratic candidate, John M. Reynolds, of Bedford, would be elected.

WHEN the Governor, says the Philadelphia Herald issued his proclamation calling an extra session of the Senate to investigate the charges against the State Treasurer and the Auditor General the Republican papers at once proclaimed an effort to make political capital. A strong and untiring effort was made to decri the extra session as uncalled for and to arrange for a policy of obstruction. But when it was found that public sentiment was strongly with the Governor the policy of obstruction was abandoned, and for it was substituted a united effort to make it appear that the charges preferred by the Governor had not been substantiated.

The case against State Treasurer Boyer has been closed. All the evidence is in, and despite the Republican efforts to belittle it, the testimony has disclosed that Mr. Boyer's recklessness and desire to favor Barsley by direct violation of the laws is responsible for the loss of $420,000. It has also been disclosed that the law which compels County Treasurers to make quarterly returns is not enforced, and that Livsey and not Boyer was the practical boss of the State Treasury.

The Governor did not charge Mr. Boyer with personal dishonesty. All the charges advanced have been substantiated by Mr. Boyer's own testimony. The latter has admitted that he knowingly and purposely violated the law. Even his warm supporters will not dare to claim that he has not been in different and careless. Instead of trying to live up to the law he has shown a studied effort to disregard it. All that the Governor has advanced against the State Treasurer he has confessed to. This alone justifies the extra session, and although both the State Treasurer and the Auditor General may be whitewashed by a Republican Senate, the people will heartily support the Governor in his effort to break up the reckless and pernicious system which has so long prevailed in both departments.

MR. TILDEN, the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, believes in investing the state's money in bonds that would pay interest to the state, while Mr. Morrison, the Republican candidate, believes in loaning it out to irresponsible banks that pay no interest to the state but to the Treasury Ring. That is how the state's money is being used in certain banks to make money for a lot of prominent Republican leaders. If you like Republican methods vote for Morrison for Treasurer. The people of this outraged commonwealth should as one man march to the polls and deposit their ballots for honest candidates, such as Wright and Tilden, so that thievery and corruption around the State Treasury, and the sources of supply, be stamped out.

THE voters of this state should cut this out and post it in a conspicuous place. It is from the Philadelphia Ledger, that old conservative Republican journal: It is indispensably necessary that the "spoils" system should be struck by a crushing defeat in Pennsylvania. It is for the voters of the state now to judge—now that the issue is joined as to the deliverance in the resolutions of both conventions—which party and which nominees are most likely to strike the blow that will defeat and stamp out the system. Is it the organization that shows a disposition to confuse and belittle the vital issues in the state canvass—or is it that opposing party which goes at the important work in the clearest, most direct, earnest and energetic way?

SOME people pity while others despise the misfortunes of the poor dupe who, with an overwhelming confidence in his own smartness undertakes to outwit a third car monte man at his own game. His credulity however, can only be equaled by the landlord, who at an election for judge marches to the polls and votes for a Prohibition candidate, with the idea that he is making fair weather for himself in the future. When Prohibition gets license by the throat there will be no exceptions, it will be "die dog or eat the hatchet" with all of them.

A CIRCULAR purporting to come from the headquarters of the Dealers' Protective Association, but really from the Republican State committee, has been sent to merchants throughout the State. It calls on them to support the Republican candidates because they represent the party that favors the repeal of the mercantile tax laws. The fact of the matter is Governor Pattison in two messages to the Republican legislature of 1885 and 1887 declared for the repeal of these laws, but his suggestions were entirely ignored.

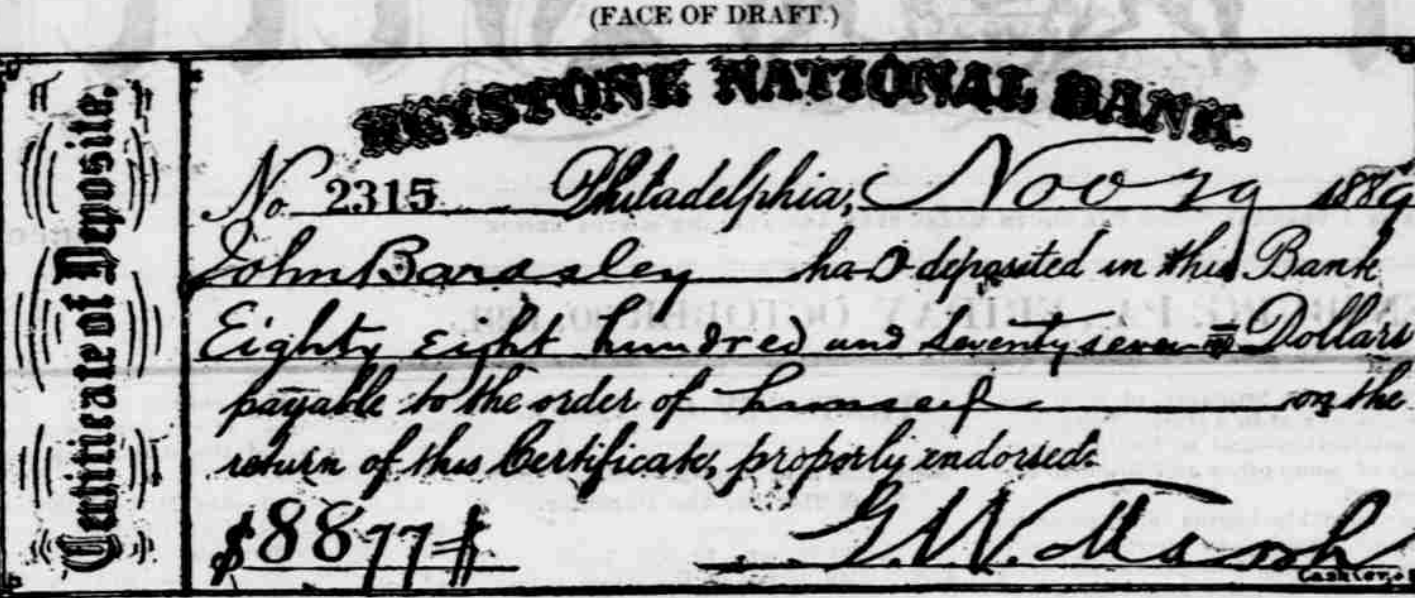

NEXT Tuesday elections will be held in eleven states, the most interesting ones being in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Iowa and Massachusetts. With the exception of New York, they are all Republican states but such is the decay in the Republican party that it requires a Herculean effort this year to hold its own. The loss of any of these states will be a severe setback on the Republicans in entering the canvass for 1892 and will correspondingly increase Democratic hopes.

THERE is no doubt about the money being stolen from the state treasury, but Boyer and McCannant expect to get off their responsibility on the plea of "custom," to disobey the law, that their predecessors had done the same thing. When it becomes a "custom" to hold public officers to a strict accountability and a "custom" to give faithful officials a term in the penitentiary it will be all the better for the people.

LAST week $23,000 was raised by the tariff protected manufacturers of Pittsburgh to help elect McKinley, in Ohio. Nothing but money can save McKinley, the apostle of protection, and the leaders of the g. o. p. are trying all the fat out of the manufacturers that they can.

AND QUAY, TOO, WAS "IN IT"

Fac-simile of a Due Bill found among the papers of the broken Keystone National Bank, and now in the possession of Robert M. Yardley, Receiver.

When JOHN BARDSELY went to JAIL he had collected the following monies for the COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, which he had not paid over:

Personal property tax, (1890).....	$ 622,013.11
Personal property tax, (1891).....	367,504.18
License tax, (1891).....	1,473.00
Municipal loans tax, (1890).....	86,050.80
Total.....	$1,066,977.50

About $1,000,000.00 of this had been in his hand since August 1st, 1890, and the AUDITOR GENERAL and STATE TREASURER had taken no legal steps to collect it, though it was their duty to do so on October 1, 1890. Most of the above money JOHN BARDSELY had in the Keystone Bank. The city of Philadelphia has also lost about $600,000.00 in the same institution.

None of the experts have yet been able to discover and report where this money went. The due bill above, shows that BARDSELY got $8,877.00 from the Bank on NOVEMBER 29TH, 1890, and sent to QUAY. QUAY collected the money through his bank at Beaver; and when the certificate was sent to the KEYSTONE BANK paid it. WHERE DID THIS MONEY COME FROM? WHY DID BARDSELY SEND IT TO QUAY?

On the 2nd November, 1889, AUDITOR GENERAL MCCAMANT sent the money for the MAGISTRATE'S costs in Philadelphia to Barsley—over $30,000.00. BARDSELY deposited it in the KEYSTONE BANK, and on the 29th of November, 1889, he (Barsley) paid $1,575 to H. N. GRAFFEN, a clerk to Auditor General McCamant. ON THE SAME DAY he sent this $8,877 to QUAY !!! Of the persons whose names appear on the above certificate as drawer, payee and endorser, G. W. MASH is a FUGITIVE. JOHN BARDSELY is in JAIL.

M. S. QUAY is in charge of the REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE trying to elect Gregg and Morrison to succeed McCamant and Boyer, and to displace William Redwood Wright with George D. McCreary.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 24th, 1891. Senator Faulkner, who was one of the Democratic missionary party which recently travelled through the north-west, is now in Washington. He is a man who allows his enthusiasm to run away with his judgment; therefore his impressions of the political situation in that section are worthy of the most careful consideration. He says: "One of the most encouraging things for the Democracy in the west is that the young, active, go-headed men, many of whom have been raised as Republicans and whose family associations have all been with that party, are becoming Democrats on the tariff issue. Heretofore they have been too busy developing money and attending to their business enterprises to devote much time to politics. Now they are taking hold of politics and it is the principle of tariff reform that is the cause of their conversion. The McKinley law was constructed against the interests of the great northwest, and the active men, with little regard to what their former political opinions are, are now turning their backs on the burdens imposed by the Republican tariff policy. On the silver question the people of the west are divided into two camps, the protectionists and the free traders. If all who are opposed to a convention should take care to record their votes in the negative it would be defeated by an overwhelming majority."

Vote for or Against.

The Philadelphia Record speaks thus of the proposed Constitutional Convention: It is evident that the vote in favor of a Constitutional Convention will be very small. The people of Pennsylvania do not desire a Constitutional Convention at this time. This has been seen by their indifference to the choice of delegates to the convention, and in many other significant ways. No considerable body of citizens have expressed themselves in favor of the convention since the subject was first suggested to this day.

Yet, while the vote in favor of the convention will be small, there are sneaking hopes of carrying it through in the future of the convention. If all who are opposed to a convention should take care to record their votes in the negative it would be defeated by an overwhelming majority."

Through a Burning Trestle.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., October 25.—A train of thirteen cars loaded with coal was wrecked on the Columbus and Western railroad near Goodwater yesterday morning. The train was crossing a trestle within a few yards of Hatchett creek when the engineer saw the trestle approach to the bridge on fire. It was too late to stop and he pulled the throttle open to attempt to cross by sheer force of speed. The engine and two cars got across safely but the third went down nearly fifty feet and the others followed. The rear car was the caboose with Conductor Rice and Flagman Crawford on Board. Both were killed and their bodies burned with the car. Rice leaves a wife and two children in Columbus, Ga. Crawford was single and also lived in Columbus. In his efforts to save the men who went down, engineer Hendrix was severely burned. The coal is on fire and still burning.

The Floods in England.

The floods in England, as a result of the recent two weeks of successive heavy rains, continue to do a great amount of damage. The river Thames, for instance, in some places extends for a mile or so beyond its banks. The town of Eton and many of the streets of Windsor are impassable, and punts are being used to convey people from house to house. A telegram from Milford Haven says that a small row boat, containing three soldiers who had been upon a pleasure trip, capsized there to-day. All three of the boat's occupants were drowned.

Great Falls, Mo., Oct. 27.

Word has reached here of the killing of some laboring men on the Pacific extension of the Great Northern Railway. They were in the employ of a contractor named O'Brien, whose work is about twenty miles west of the summit of the Rockies. The foreman had ordered them to clean up a blast hole containing some powder which exploded, killing some instantly and wounded several others. Two of them have died. The next day a civil engineer named Jarrett was killed by flying rock near the scene of the accident.

News and Other Notes.

—There are 40,000 oil wells in the United States which produce about 100,000 barrels of oil per day.
—Connell, Ohio, has been swept by a cyclone. Thirty houses were demolished, entailing a loss of $100,000. No lives were lost.

—Ralph Cunningham, son of a wealthy Fostoria O. man, crawled into one of his father's furnaces to commit suicide. He was pulled out, but will die.

—The life of the seventeen-year-old daughter of Emil Schmidt, of Bethlehem, Pa., has been assessed by a fever as having been worth $1,792.50. She was killed on the Reading railroad and the father sued for damages.

—The human heart is six inches in length, four inches in diameter and beats an average of seventy times per minute, 4,200 times an hour, 100,800 times per day, and 3,651,720 times per year. So in a life of eighty years the heart beats 300,000,000 times.

—A terrible collision occurred near Lake City, Ia., between two heavy freight trains on a branch of the Chicago & North-western railroad. Two brakemen were instantly killed and the two engines were probably fatally injured.

—Wandering up and down the river near Williamsport, Pa., looking for the remains of one his three children drowned in the flood of 1888, Jacob Schmitz, who resides on Locomotive creek, disappeared a week ago. It is believed he went insane and jumped into the river to be with his children.

—Mrs. W. W. Smith, of Philadelphia, caught her foot and fell down a long flight of stairs at the Cooper House, Lancaster, with a helpless babe in her arms. A toilet as she fell entangled the mother to strike on her back and shield the babe not only from instant death but from all harm. She will recover.

—Mechanical Engineer M. V. Smith, of Pittsburgh, says that city need never return to coal even if all the natural gas fields fail. He says the gas now escaping from the Frick coke oven is more than sufficient to supply all the wants of Pittsburgh, and claims to have discovered a method by which it can be utilized.

—It has just transpired that General Boulanger, who lately startled the world with his dramatic suicide, was terribly addicted to the morphia habit. The most dramatic incident of his life was passed while under the influence of morphia injections. It is also ascertained that the General's mistress, Madam Bonnemain, was as well a victim of the dangerous drug.

—The largest steam shovel in the world is digging out phosphates in the mines at John's Island, near Charleston, S. C. Its weight is 56 tons. It can dig to a depth of 10 feet by its track and to a distance of 45 feet on either side. The dipper, which can swing through two-thirds of a circle, has a capacity of 1 1/2 cubic yards, and about two dippers can be handled in a minute.

—While Katie Cole, colored, aged eighteen years, was on her way to the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, Pottsville, Pa., on Sunday, in company with Clarence Cooper, she was attacked with a coughing fit and suddenly fell over dead. A physician who made a hasty examination gave his opinion that the extraordinary tight lacing of her corset prevented her respiratory organs from performing their proper functions and causing the coughing spell which resulted in her death.

—While Governor Pattison and members of his staff were qualifying as marksmen at the Governor's trap range at Harrisburg on Saturday afternoon, some of the members of the Harrisburg Gun Club, whose grounds cross the range, began firing at some clay pigeons. The shot whizzed toward the Governor's party, all of whom hunted cover but the Governor himself, until at last a stray shot struck him on the back of the head. The shot did not pierce the skin, but it was stinging and painful, and the members were requested to shoot in another direction. None of the others in the Governor's party were hurt.

should read a good newspaper. It is the source of a newspaper's many considerations should be given. First, it should be one that stands up for the people without prejudice, although it may be printed on an unsteady ground. It should be independent—free of all bias, and speak plain. Such a newspaper is printed in Harrisburg. It is the most complete enlarged, hands-on, and in the opinion of the Pennsylvania people, it is the best newspaper in the state capital. It is a specialty of Department news. It is the only paper in central Pennsylvania that receives private mail associated Press reports on a daily basis. It is the only newspaper in the state that is over its own wires. It presents each day special correspondence from all points within the Harrisburg territory. It contains news, notes, household hints, domestic recipes, news, scientific, political and humorous articles, short stories and sketches. Its columns are complete, both as to business and economy. Its live stock market are prepared specially for the farmer. It is a newspaper in the truest sense of the word. It is a Saturday edition of Mr. H. S. Spangler's London, a great feature.

It is the only newspaper in the state that is printed on its own presses. It is the only newspaper in the state that is printed on its own presses. It is the only newspaper in the state that is printed on its own presses.
