A distressing gunning accident occurred last Tuesday near Greensburg, by which Nick, the fourteen-year-old son of Peter Clemens, will surely lose his eye. He and John, a son of John R. Hayden, who resides south of the town, went hunting, and when crossing a fence, Hayden fell from the fence and the gun was discharged, the contents entering young Clemens' bowels, and inflicting injuries which are likely to prove fatal.

A man is blind to his own interest if he opposes the adoption of any intelligent and practical system that will lead to the making and maintaining of good roads. It costs more in time and money to travel over a poor road than it does over a good one. Poor roads are the greatest drawback that any country district can have, and their improvement should always be the first sight that the people desire to be considered progressive.

Jonathan Clayfarth, residing in Warlington township, York county, who sells newspapers, read a newspaper. He now wishes he had. Saturday afternoon two strangers called upon him, and by rosy words soon gained his confidence. They then introduced a game whose story has been told in this paper. The result is that Father Clayfarth is kidding himself all over his farm for not having read the papers more. If he had he would now be $1000 richer.

On Friday last week the Altoona daily Times changed hands. The proprietors, Messrs. H. A. McPike and Geo. Fresh, selling the plant to D. L. Potter, J. H. Stahl, Joseph J. Sanson and Charles A. Greer. On Monday the mangled body of a man was found along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Sang Hollow. His head had been broken and his legs cut off, while nearly all of the clothing was torn from his body. The presumption is that he was riding on a freight and fell off. Some letters and a book were found in his pockets, all of which have been forwarded to the following address: "Martin Eichelberger, Lancaster county." It is supposed that this is his name. He was about 24 years of age, and that he was taken to Johnstown.

Since our last issue work on the grading for the new railroad has not been progressing very fast on account of the bad weather, although preparations still continue for a vigorous prosecution of the work. Many more horses, carts and men have been brought in the force of men now numbering over two hundred. The work of slaughtering the timber through the three-mile tract of Mr. Kinper's above town is now in progress. A gang of Cherrytree's stalwart young lumbermen under H. C. Cooper are doing the work. It is to be hoped that the weather will become favorable to put in full time. -Grand Review.

On Thanksgiving evening St. Michael's new and spacious parochial hall at Loroto was formally opened with a festival and supper. There were also music, singing and dancing. The hall was furnished by St. Michael's Temperance Band and by a splendid orchestra. Alphonsus O'Shea, a student of St. Francis college, was the speaker of the occasion. Dancing was indulged in by the young folks until midnight, when all went home. There were more than four hundred people present. The large number of visitors was indicative of the popularity of Father Kittell with his congregation. It is also evidence of Father Kittell's energy and deep interest in his congregation and friends take all his noble enterprises.

The humorist, Bill Nye, who has had newspaper experience, puts it thus more forcibly than the plainest man may warrant on the back of his neck for a collar button, ride on the back coach to save the interest on his money until the conductor gets "round," stop his watch at night to save the wear and tear, leave his l and t with a dot and a cross to save ink, pasture his mother's grave to save corn—but a man of this sort is a gentleman and a scholar compared with the fellow that takes a newspaper for two or three years and when asked to pay for it puts it back in the office and has it marked "refused."

When a man wants his paper stopped, he ought to have the address to pay up and inform the editor that his paper is no longer wanted.

Alexander Moorhead, son of Dr. W. W. Moorhead, of Greensburg, committed suicide at Homer City, Indiana county, by shooting himself in the left breast, in the region of the heart, on Friday morning. The ball, a 38-calibre, passed entirely through, missing the heart, and was taken out by the physician at the back. He and his brother Paul, who was married on Wednesday evening to Miss Mary C. St. Clair, of that place, and who left for Colorado, where his father is, for the benefit of his health, to make their future home, have always been together, never having been separated for any length of time, and it is said that he gave as his reason for the rash act, that as they had always been together, he could not bear separation from him. The cruel separation from his brother weighed heavily on his mind, and rather than live alone he concluded to end his life. He died on Saturday morning.

The borough fathers have decided on locating the gas lights at the following named points: One at the forks of the road in the east end of town; one opposite the Congregational church; one near the residence of Samuel Ludwig on Craney street; one near the residence of John Lloyd on Center street; one on the diamond; one on Center street near the residence of James Snyder; one on Julian street near the residence of H. A. Whipple; one near the Catholic church; one near the residence of C. H. Barker; one at the intersection of Julian and High streets; one in front of the council room on Sample street; one near the residence of H. A. Whipple; one near the residence of H. A. Whipple; one near the residence of John L. Stough on High street; one near the residence of Capt. Thomas Davis at the west end of the town; and one on Homer street near Belmont, making in all fifteen lights. In addition to the above the county commissioners will place a lamp in front of the court house.

Old Deeds and Coins Found.

On Wednesday morning some workmen, who had torn down an old house in Lawrenceville, had commenced digging on the site a cellar for a new one, uncovered a tin box containing papers which are said to be of considerable value, and which may lead to awarding to the rightful owners a vast tract of valuable lands in Westmoreland and Cambria counties.

The box was securely sealed and locked. The workmen opened it. In the tray of the box there were numerous old coins, a knife, and several receipts for small bills. In the bottom of the box was found a deed addressed to Thomas Penn and John Penn, Esqs., whom it styles as the Free and Absolute Proprietors and Governors in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania, and the counties of New Castle, Kent, and Sussex upon Delaware. The deed was executed in the City of Pittsburg on February 13, 1775. The deed calls for the conveyance of certain property situated on the east side of the Kiskimutius river in Armstrong county, of which Andrew Hamilton C. Curtin was the owner, but for the sum of fifteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence were conveyed to one Lambert Cadwalder.

The deed further says that the said Lambert Cadwalder shall pay to the said owner of the property, during his natural life, the sum of one penny per acre, in good faith. The deed is signed by John Penn, at that time the Provisional Governor. The deed is written upon sheepskin, and is in an excellent state of preservation. The box, together with the deed, was taken to the office of Alderman Leslie in Pittsburg. After reading the deeds the 'Squire gave as his opinion that it was a valuable document. In an interview, he said:

"I believe this discovery will ultimately end in a law suit which has been occupying the attention of the courts of Westmoreland and Cambria counties for many years. The tract of land upon which a Cornish furnace was erected by the Cambria Iron works has for many years been in dispute. Being very familiar with that neighborhood, I firmly believe that this deed, which has been buried so long, will reveal the proper owner of the disputed land."

In the meantime the box, together with the contents, will be kept by Judge Lewis, who will investigate the matter and endeavor to find the owner. The coins in the box date back as far as 1774, and are considered rare relics.

Communication.

CHEST SPRINGS, Pa., Dec. 1, 1891. Editor Cambria Freeman: Since after the failure of the officers from the county sent to arrest the young women in Clearfield township last week, a new warrant was issued and placed in the hands of the constable of Ashville borough, who, along with a constable from that place and four more from Chest Springs, all being well equipped with revolvers, handcuffs, nippers, etc., started out on the perilous undertaking of capturing the two sexy young girls, or alive. When they arrived at their home they found the doors all locked and the blinds down, except to watch the action of the officials. They pounded on the door, but getting no response, gave up the task, and wended their way back to Chest Springs. When the assistant from Ashville was asked why he didn't break the door in, he replied that he "considered it was the better part of valor, and never run his nose into danger."

In the meanwhile excitement ran high in Ashville and Chest Springs, betting being two to one in favor of the girls, and considerable money changed hands among the local sports. To-day the girls gave ball before 'Squire Perry for a hearing in Ebensburg on Saturday, December 3d.

A GREAT AND GROWING ESTABLISHMENT.

It is now a little more than a year since the firm of Baltzell & Rouss was dissolved, the Messrs. Baltzell retaining possession of the business.

Since that day steady progress has been made, until now they are in possession of the largest retail and wholesale business between Pittsburg and Philadelphia, and which is constantly branching out and increasing.

Leaving all competitors behind, this fall another story was added and filled to overflowing with a full line of China in all makes, Queensware, Japanese ware, Glassware, Hardware, Wooden and Willow ware, Iron Stove ware and a general line of Household Goods, Dolls and Toys, and beautifully arranged and lighted.

The store is as wide as three ordinary buildings, five stories high and runs back to the alley, and wide as it is, is literally packed with every conceivable kind of goods from the best manufacturers and all at the lowest prices. There is nothing to wear, or to use in a house except furniture and stoves that cannot be found there, even Drugs, Perfumes, Shoes, Jewelry, Stationery, and myriads of other things, not forgetting the most elegant and complete Millinery Parlors the country affords. The advantages of such a store, to any one going there from the country, cannot be expressed. NEXT WEEK we shall have something to say about holiday and other goods and price lists.
