

Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1892.

The limit of time in which states and territories and foreign countries must accept the sites allotted them on the Exposition grounds at Chicago has been fixed at June 1, 1892.

SENATOR GALLAGHER, of New Hampshire, has accepted an invitation to deliver the dedicatory address at the Child-Drexel Home for Union printers at Colorado Springs, on the 12th of May next.

The point in using the free-will bill as an opening wedge in splitting up the McKinley tariff is, that free-will will directly benefit ninety-nine per cent of a hundred in this country and will not hurt the hundredth person.

The Board of Paroles at Harrisburg on Tuesday recommended the extension of Executive clemency to John A. Mollen and William H. Porter, sentenced February 1st, at Beaver Pa., to six months imprisonment for filling Senator Quay.

HON. WILLIAM C. WHITNEY, Secretary of the Navy, speaking of the Presidential situation, said: "In my judgment Mr. Cleveland will be re-nominated by our party. The Republican nominee has been settled upon for some time. It will be President Harrison."

It is the present expectation that every species of fish and other aquatic animal large enough to be seen, which is native to inland waters and to the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, except perhaps a live whale, will be exhibited in the Fisheries Department at the Chicago Exposition.

Box Butler admits in his autobiography that he played the sneak in 1854 and that he did not expect to be elected when he ran for President, but hoped thus to defeat Cleveland and elect Blaine. This must be an interesting confession to the New York Sun which supported him.

On Tuesday Congressman Roder Q. Mills, of Texas, was elected United States Senator from that state. Mr. Mills was one of the ablest members in the Lower House and in his election to the Senate the Democracy of the Lone Star state have shown their wisdom and are to be congratulated in having for a Senator a man of his ability.

A census recently completed shows that in Chicago there are 135,450 men and 75,212 women of the age of 21 years, out of employment. It will thus be observed that there are over 200,000 idle persons in this one city alone, and that unable to get work to earn their bread. Credit for this condition of things is due to the McKinley monopoly tariff, which is making the rich richer and the poor poorer.

The Elections Committee of the House at Washington on Friday, by a vote of 7 to 1, decided to unseat Hosca H. Rice, of the Democratic sitting member from the Twenty-eighth New York District, and seat Henry T. Hayes, the Republican contestant. This is in striking contrast with the acts of the previous Congress which was Republican, when every contested seat was decided in favor of the Republican whosoever he was elected or not.

The mystery which the Hill Farm mine, in Fayette county, has held within its cavernous depths since that fated June morning in 1859, when 20 miners were entombed there by a gas explosion and a rising fire cut off every means of hope, has at last been solved. On Wednesday afternoon Superintendent Hill and his band of searchers penetrated that No. 9, found 23 of the 29 entombed bodies, and thus completed the remarkable search begun about two years ago. The remains were unrecognizable and were lying close together. A coroner's inquest will be held on the remains before they are moved. They undoubtedly died from suffocation, as there are no marks of fire having reached them.

A DISPATCH from Likan, Russia, on Friday of last week says: The enthusiastic occasion here by the receipt of the gift to the Russian famine sufferers sent by Americans shows no sign of abatement, though the Indiana was discharged yesterday and much of its cargo is on its way to the famine-stricken provinces. The employees in the arsenal here, to the number of 2,000, chartered seven steamers and to-day they went out to where the Indiana is lying at anchor for the purpose of greeting Captain Sargent. The steamers were decorated with flags and hunting, and when they reached the Indiana it seemed as though ordinary expressions would not suffice to give vent to the enthusiasm. Steam whistles shrieked and people yelled and shouted and cheered for the captain, America and everything American.

In pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania at a meeting held on the 20th day of January, A. D. 1891 in the city of Harrisburg, the Democratic State convention of Pennsylvania will be held in the city of Harrisburg, Wednesday, April 13, 1892, at twelve o'clock noon, in the Opera House of that city.

At the State convention the following candidates are to be nominated: One person for Judge of the Supreme Court. Two persons for Congressmen at large. Thirty-two persons for presidential electors. Sixty-four persons as delegates to the Democratic National convention to be held at Chicago, June 21, 1892, eight of whom will be chosen by the State at large and fifty-six of whom will be chosen by congressional district being entitled to name two delegates.

CONGRESS. POWER. Clayton, a member of the Republican national committee, and one of the foremost leaders of his party, has astonished his associates in Washington by declaring that no matter who the Republican nominee is, he is almost certain of defeat next November. Clayton was one of General Alger's most powerful allies at the last National convention. Clayton says: "There are only two names being seriously discussed, those of Blaine and Harrison, and they are the only names which will come before the national convention. Blaine has the popular strength, but in the South as a rule the Republican leaders are holding office under the administration, and I think that possibly, with the exception of Louisiana, most of those states would be controlled for the administration."

"If the president is re-nominated can he be re-elected?" "I don't think it is very much, in fact, I think there is serious doubt about the election of any Republican in 1892. The Democrats have decidedly the advantage. They control the South absolutely. There is not the least doubt about their getting every electoral vote from that section. That is over half the total already won. Then they have New Jersey just as solid as any Southern state, and I think it extremely doubtful whether the Republicans even with the ticket headed by Mr. Blaine, can carry Indiana. That state is far more Democratic than Republicans. More than this, by the machinations of Senator Hill the Democrats have been enabled to get their greedy clutches on both branches of the New York legislature and the state is made much safer for the Democrats than it has ever been. In Michigan, by a miserable gerrymander, we have been denied a great part of so many votes that even that state may be set down in the doubtful column."

"Unless all signs are false," said his Honor, "the publicly advertised solicitation of boys upon the streets to buy tickets for the Exposition, is a public exhibition of the other vice to which I have referred, the law, in the eyes of the community, is being managed to extirpate it and in our midst."

The judge denounces the practice of men prominent in churches and Sunday schools, who are seen to be gambling and other immoral things simply to secure dividends on their investments.

SAVED FROM THE SLAKE. PUGH, O., March 21.—What might have proved a fearful murder was narrowly averted last night. The affair occurred several days ago, but strenuous endeavor has been made to keep it quiet. But for the interference of a farmer, Frank Boley would have suffered the awful fate of being burned at the stake. Recently Louis Hyde was married, and to celebrate the event he gave a party to his friends at the house of the bride. The party took the beer to a spot where the city boys were to be seen. Hyde, though drunk, whipped all comers, and for revenge he was caught by the crowd, headed by Frank Boley, agent of the slake. Hyde was bound and tied to a tree. Wood was piled about him and lighted, and his companions fled.

The wood was green and burned slowly. Hyde's feet and legs had been terribly lacerated by the burning of his shoes. Hyde was bound and tied to a tree. Wood was piled about him and lighted, and his companions fled.

NEW YORK'S MEMORIAL. NEW YORK, March 22.—The chamber of commerce this evening forwarded to the Mayor a memorial on the silver question. In it the chamber expresses the interests of the country, demanding that all existing legislation which requires the secretary of the treasury to judge between the silver and gold, and to the free coinage of silver would, by degrading the standard of value, effect a depreciation of the money supply, and parallel in the history of civilized nations, and produce an amount of distress for which not the slightest justification is to be found in any policy or principle. Third.—That the only practical mode of dealing with silver question is by an international conference and negotiation with the other great industrial nations of the world, looking to the restoration of silver to its place as international money upon a fair basis of reciprocity, and to meet an export and import trade of the world, and the judgment of financial authorities will justify.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT. PHILA., Pa., March 21.—Engineer Henry Milligan, of this city, met with an unusual accident on the Delaware, York and Western railroad this morning. He was engaged in drawing the train from Birmingham, due here at 7:55 a. m. His engine, a powerful one, was running at a high speed, and he was about to take a hooked turn when the engine struck a log lying across the track. The engine was derailed and the rear end and his head was driven through the glass window. His feet struck one of the wheels in front and he was slightly wounded in that respect. He had to be hoisted from the cab to get him out. He was unconscious for some time afterwards, recovering after reaching the depot at 10:30 a. m. The log, a shoulder blade, his head was severely cut by the broken glass and one leg burned by being jammed against the steam pipe of the engine. It is not thought his injuries are serious.

TOOK HIS ANNUAL SNOW WALK. BRIDGEPORT, March 22.—Capt. Charles W. Hoyt, of this city, while standing in the rotunda of the Atlantic Hotel yesterday removed his shoes and stockings, and, rolling up his trousers nearly to his knees, surprised the on-lookers by starting out of the doorway toward the street. When asked where he was going, he replied that he was about to take his yearly snow walk for his health. With a cane he stepped quickly into the snow-covered street, walked rapidly out the Old Stratford, and returned to the hotel. He is the greatest cure for chilblains and corns known.

AN UNNATURAL MOTHER. PITTSBURGH, March 21.—Mrs. McClain, wife of a South Side iron-worker, became insane yesterday afternoon, and, when her little three-year-old child began to cry, she threw her upon a red-hot stove. The little one rolled off, but the maternal mother picked her up with a hot knife in each hand, he defied her and she threw her upon the stove. The screams of the child brought the father, who rushed her and then knocked her down, and then he and the neighbors clubbed the mother and she was taken to the hospital. She was found in a state of unconsciousness and was discharged from the asylum as cured, but will be returned.

VICTORIA'S PLANS. NEW YORK, March 22.—Edmund Yates, London cable to the Tribune says: The Queen is anxious for a marriage to take place between Prince George of Wales and Princess Alix of Hesse. This alliance would give much satisfaction to the Prince and Princess of Wales. Princess Alix is coming to England early in May on a long visit to the Queen. Princess Alix was born in 1872. It is practically settled that Mr. Stanley is to go out to the Congo in the interest of the independent state before the close of the year, and will remain there a long period.

CHASED STATE OFFICIALS. JACKSON, Miss., March 23.—Yesterday the legislature was assembling when a morning a crazy man named Bryant took possession of the state house for an hour and ran things to suit himself. Several officers came to arrest him, but with a hot knife in each hand he defied them and furiously cursed the legislature. He finally ran down the steps and into the street, hundreds of people, including legislators and state officials, following before him. After getting out of the crowd three policemen knocked him down and landed him in jail. He was recently discharged from the asylum as cured, but will be returned.

ALL GAMES LIKE LOTTERIES. DEVERHOUS, Pa., March 21.—Judge Herman Verkes made a sweeping charge to the Grand Jury to-day at the opening session of the March Criminal Court. He has set the tongue wagging. He called attention to the fact that there are, as well as the constables, to make practitioners of all the kinds of lotteries, whether public or private, for the purpose of raising money for public improvement or for the profit of organizations, and all games of chance, including the wheel of fortune, card dice, billiards, these being denominated as gambling, an offense subject to the penalty of imprisonment.

REPRESENTATIVE EDHIAN'S BILL FOR THE FREE EXTENSION TO AMERICAN REGISTRY OF SHIPS BUILT IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES AFTER JAN. 1883, will be favorably reported to the House.

THE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE WORLD'S FAIR EXPEDITURE has decided to go to Chicago instead of bringing the witnesses to Washington, and they will start on their way to the fair on Friday next.
