

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The city of Johnston collected $300 in fines the day after the Fourth. Blairsville's glass works have shut down for their summer vacation. The new store-room of Evans & Son on High street, is nearly ready for occupancy. It is a handsome building, and an ornament to the town.

Mrs. Christy Erisman, of Johnston, who was taken to Dixmont to be confined over a year ago, died in that institution on Tuesday last week. She was 32 years of age. James Gibson, a brewer, of Blairsville, was last put on top of a car, on Tuesday evening of last week, and both legs cut off, from the effects of which he died the same day. He was 38 years of age.

The contest to catch the ground pig on the fair grounds on the 4th of July was won by Master Oiling. The half-mile foot-race the same day was won Master Amundus Wentzel, of Munster township. Mrs. Abbott, of Dunasville, Blair county, on Sunday, July 6, died at 8:00 in an old tin box, and when he next looked for it it was gone with some thief. He traced the money to the hands of the guilty party.

The Wicks barbers shop in South Fork was purchased by Messrs. James Gant and Alex. Corbin, of this place, and in the future will be in charge of the latter gentleman. Mr. Corbin is an excellent barber and a deservingly successful one.

Robbers in Carrolltown

Mr. I. M. Fleck, a blacksmith, of Altoona, paid a visit to his father-in-law, Mr. Fleck, of Carrolltown, on the Fourth of July. Mr. Fleck is proprietor of a hotel at Carrolltown. About 10 o'clock on Monday night Mr. Fleck, Mr. Stoltz and two members of their respective families retired. Mr. Fleck, wife and child occupied the second floor, at the head of a winding staircase. Mr. Stoltz occupied a room adjoining. Kerosene lamps which were in the rooms were turned down so that simply a dim light shown through the rooms.

At just what time it was that the robbers effected an entrance through a side window of the hotel is not known. The window was partially raised and the burglars succeeded in getting inside without raising an alarm. At the break of day Mr. Stoltz's trousers were found at the foot of the staircase, the pockets having been rifled of $140. In the same room from which the trousers had been taken, one of the robbers was seen to be covered by an old hat, was a pocket-book containing over $400, which the thief walked over and missed.

Mr. Fleck's trousers and vest were also taken and afterward found in the street in front of the house. They had been rifled of between $50 and $60 in cash. Three watches were also missing. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's Twelve Day Excursion to the Shore

The success of the first Pennsylvania railroad seashore tour indicates a large party on those leaving July 21st, August 4th and 18th. The tickets include the cheapest points on the coast and are available for Cape May, Atlantic City, Sea Isle City or Ocean City at the same rate. The excursion tickets, good for twelve days, are to be sold at a rate of $10.00 from Pittsburg, and at correspondingly low rates from other stations.

A special train of parlor cars and day coaches will leave Pittsburg at 8:20 a. m., for Philadelphia, stopping at all important junction points, where connections will be made with trains from branch lines. Passengers will spend the night in Philadelphia and proceed to the seashore by regular trains of the next day.

Tickets will be sold from stations named below, train schedules being as follows: Johnston, 11:30 A. M.; Altoona, 12:50 P. M.; Philadelphia, 3:00 P. M.; Atlantic City, 5:00 P. M.; Sea Isle City, 6:00 P. M.; Ocean City, 7:00 P. M.; Philadelphia, 9:00 P. M.

There was an error in the statement recently printed that District Attorney O'Connor had recommended the pardon of Elmer Bremer. The truth of the matter is that Mr. O'Connor absolutely refused to make a recommendation for his pardon. When Mr. Marshall, counsel for Bremer, notified that he was going to make application for a pardon, District Attorney O'Connor accepted the notice without putting Mr. Marshall to the trouble of going through a legal process, and there is where the misunderstanding probably arose.

The Altoona Times of Saturday contains the following: "A party, who was a salaried merchant of Hastings, came to the city yesterday to purchase supplies for a picnic to be held there on Monday.

Having procured the supplies, he sent them on in a horse-drawn wagon, and with the remainder. Shortly after two o'clock, while going down Thirtieth street, he encountered a street car coming along the avenue. Seeing his position, he checked the horses on the north side, but they became unmanageable and turning up Thirtieth street, made a circle, spilling driver and watermelons out of the wagon, finally becoming mixed up with a telegraph pole on the west side of the street. The driver still clung to the animals, which probably saved them from injury. When the excitement abated Mr. Lantz found his wagon overturned and his horse blind wheel broken, and other parts of the wagon damaged. The supplies were forwarded by express and the wagon sent to shops for repairs. Mr. Lantz was compelled to remain overnight in the city and spent the night in a hotel.

John W. Henderson, of Johnston, was fatally injured about nine o'clock on Friday night, June 13, on the Johnston and Stonycreek railroad by being run over by a locomotive and one truck, which were carrying material for the street railway. The engine failed to see the man, but when it was too late that the truck had encountered something on the track, and immediately stopped the train. An investigation was made and the man found alongside the track with one leg horribly mangled, his lower jaw broken, and his head cut. The injured man was fixed up as well as possible and then taken to the Memorial hospital. There Dr. Lowman, assisted by Dr. Charles Hannan, amputated his left leg and dressed his wounds. He survived the operation but a short time, however, and at 11:30 expired. The deceased was aged about fifty-five years, and was a steady man by trade, though he had been laboring on the Johnston streets recently.

BRUNER ESCAPES HANGING. Sam. Reese's Murderer Will Get Off With Life Imprisonment.

On Monday morning the editor of this paper, accompanied by his better half, left on the 10:30 train to join the 20th annual tour of the Pennsylvania State Editorial Association which meets this year at Scranton. The trip was uneventful and with the exception of waiting two hours and twenty minutes at Cresson Day Express, was a pleasant one. We were accompanied as far as Huntington by Rev. Father Deary, of Ebensburg, who was on his way to that place to assist the pastor of the Catholic congregation of Huntington in holding the Forty Hours' Devotion.

Our intention at the start was to go by way of Lewistown and Sunbury, but the delay of two hours and twenty minutes to catch Day Express caused us to miss connections at Lewistown, and we went by way of Harrisburg. All along the route the people were busy harvesting their grain, which looked to be a fair crop, the shocks of wheat standing pretty thick in the fields. The corn crop, which is backward in Cambria, looks better as we travel eastward, but people acquainted with the country say it is a poor one. At Lewistown we saw a train load of soldiers that had just arrived and were ticketed for Homestead to act as police-men in guarding one of our highly protected industries and convince the workmen that high tariff enables capitalists to pay high wages. There is no doubt about the enabling part, but the share of the workmen in the blessings of the tariff is getting smaller every year, and it will require some unknown power greater than yet discovered to get employers in the protected industries to give up their share in the blessings plundered from the people by the way of taxes.

We reached Harrisburg in time for supper and going to the hotel, which part of the day's work took a stroll through the city, which in the last few years, has greatly improved and is making rapid strides in becoming a manufacturing city of some importance. This (Tuesday) morning at half past eight we took the excursion train and in company with nearly three hundred others, editors, editors' wives and sweethearts were whirled long through Dauphin, Northumberland, Cumberland, Columbia and Luzerne counties to Scranton the county seat of Lackawanna county. As the mail closes in a few minutes we must get our rambling letter to a close and tell something of our trip in our next letter. J. A. H. GILL, Secretary.
