JESE PIRATES.

New Methods Adopted by the Mongolian Marauders.

The Introduction of Steam Has Compelled Them to Resort to Trickery in Order to Carry on Their Nefarious Business.

The last year in China has been one of many piratical depredations. In former years Chinese pirates were the scourge of the eastern seas, and no merchant vessel ever sailed for this section of the globe unless carrying a supply of firearms and cutlasses for defense against such attacks. In the days of sailing vessels, says a Japan letter to the New York Times, piracy was at its height, but since the introduction of steam the chances of a piratical junk overtaking a vessel have been reduced to almost nothing, and hence the decline. Much must also be attributed to the many captures and severe punishments meted out by the various foreign gunboats cruising in search of them. But the last year has shown a decided increase over recent years in the number of depredations committed by pirates, and this species of outhivery seems to be again reviving. The recent attacks on the British steamer Namoa and on many smaller vessels warrant this belief.

The junk being no longer able to overhaal a steamer, the pirates have taken a new method of getting possession of a vessel. They now go on board in large numbers as passengers, and when well out from port make a sudden attack upon the officers and crew and thus get possession of the vessel, often only after putting the entire ship's company to death. This, has been the enso with several vessels heaving Hong Kong for other ports, and was of frequent occurrence on the various river steamers plying between the Yang-tse-Kinng and its tributaries

So great did this style of piracy become on the Yang-tse-Kiang during the last summer that special vessels of war were detailed to keep an espionage over the passenters (Chinese) going on board the steamers, and the various consuls of the owners concerned advised and urged that a guard of soldiers be taken on board each vessel for protection against the acts of these des peradoes. Several steamers were run aground and some set on fire through the efforts of these men, and so boli and frequent became their attacks that extraordinary measures were taken to check them. Now at the customs landings at each port on the Yang-tse-Kinng every Chinese passenger is examine thoroughly and his name taken befor being allowed to go on bourd a steam r The effect of this precaution has been to greatly check all recent piratical attacks upon these vessels and to burn the field of action to another part of China-the southern const.

I had three passengers, all men, and for freight carried a barrel of gin strapped on behind the stage. There was gin for "Red Mike," who ran a free-and-easy at the mining camp of Rabbit Creek. Suddenly my attention was called by one of the passengers to a novel race which was going on down the side of the mountain between a miner and a grisply bear, with the man about a hundred feet ahead running like a deer. But the bear was gaining rapidly and it seemed that he had him sure, when suddenly the miner turned and darted off in another direction. The grizzly was slow in stopping, but when he did get straightened the way he annihilated distance was a caution to catamounts. Several times the miner played thi trick, and on each occasion gained con siderable ground in one direction, but it could be seen he was rapidly tiring and unless something happened the bear was dead sure to get him. We were woddering what we could do to help he poor fellow when suddenly the leades smelled the grizzly. They snorted and praneed and started off on a dea run. I put on the brake and it was all i could do to stop them, and wouldn'

have succeeded only the trail was up

Well, when the horses made their ump the barrel of gin broke locse from ts fastenings and went tearing down the mountain side toward the man and bear, who were coming along on a dead run. The man saw the barrel coming and avoided it, but, not so the grizzly He stood up on his hind legs and reach ng out his paws grabled it. The way that barrel rolled him down the mounain would make a coyote hugh. The impromptu journey was brought to a sudden ending by an immers owlder, against which the bear and barrel rolled. The shock separate hem, and strange to say, the barre tood right up with the head broken and only a small portion of the conents was spiiled. To say the bear was

ITALY AWAKENED. The Larger Cities Will Have Charge the Exhibit

Le America, the representative un paper of the Italian colony in Chinas and throughout the west generally, 10 special telegraphic messages from 12 m concerning the exhibit at the world's fair to be made from Italy. It states that the central committee in charge of the world's fair Italian exhibit, acting with the concurrence of the chamber of commerce at Rome, has completed the organization of the committees ap pointed by the chambers of commerce in the principal Italian cities. Milan, Genoa, Turin, Florence Naples and Palermo will, with Rome, lead in the great Italian display. The feeling and interest now thoroughly awakened in Italy are such that it i evident that the artists and merchants fully understand that their exhibits to be made in Chicago will probably open up to them new avenues of patronage and commercial exchange. They are evidently determined to work cooperatively and make the very best of the opportunity.

In Rome Deputy Ferrari, the celebrated sculptor, is especially active in the art circles. He was the projector of the monument to Giovanno Bruno, and it is stated that he will send an original statue of great beauty. Basile, the noted architect, will forward the designs of the Palermo exposition. The leading features of the commercial exhibit will be fruits, samples of preserved fruits, wines, collections of medicinal plants, marble, bronze, and metal work. Collections of antiquities will form a part of the art exhibit. The Italian government has thoroughly promulgated through the country its proclamation in reference to the world's fair through the agency o the minister of commerce and agricu ture. While the government will sena ship of war to transport the exhibit and give full official sanction to the un dertaking, yet it prefers that the details of creating, collecting and takin sharge of the exhibit should be under taken by the chamber of commerce. It is thought that this is much the better plan rather than that the governmen hould have to organize the d-stalls of he world's fair bureau. Nevertheles it is expressly stipulated that the direion and installation of the exhibit shall be under government control. The central committee has been in ested with full power to pass upon all proposals and to decide upon the value arity, and appropriateness of collectiv er individual exhibits to be mude, either of the commercial or artistic character and it will also prepare a special catague for the Italian section. The com fittee will also nominate two-or-morersons who with the approval of the overnment will net as com dissioners and who will be sen Chicago as the representative the government to personally super tend the transportation, dispositio and return of the exhibits from Italy.

In one of the captured stronghold was found a paper containing thirtysix articles for the ruling of the band which are all under one main leader and giving the names of each member belonging to the various bands. The discovery was unite a surprise to the general government, which has always heretofore been prone to believe that the Koloi Hui (insurrectionary society was the only one in China which had a completely thorough organization. It will prove to China that with an estab lished organization there will be very quickly as strong a nest of pirates again infesting these coasts as those which she has only just rooted out, and that the sending of expeditions spasmodical ly to attack them will have only temporary and never permanent checking effects. That such a state of things should exist is a disgrace to the empire which from many points of view has claims to a very creditable degree of civilization, and whose statesmen are ever ready to speak of China as on an equality with or even superior to the civilization of western nations.

COINED BY BRIGHAM YOUNG.

Five-Dollar Gold Pieces Which Are Now Rarities-Too Soft for Use.

County Commissioner Ballard, of San Francisco, is the possessor of a rare and curious gold coin which fell into his hands in California in 1840. It is : Mormon five-dollar piece, and for many years has been employed as a charm o bangle on Mr. Ballard's fob chain. The owner bimself was a '49er, and tool part in the early gold excitement i California. He told a New York Es corder man that the Mormons, wh were among the earliest in the gold fields, returned to Salt Lake with great quantities of the precious vellow dus-Much gold also found its way to Utah through other avenues. Brigham Young. who was at that time running a little government on his own account, established a mint and coined probably one million dollars in five-dollar gold pieces. These coins very soon found their way to California and passed current. At that early date. Mr. Ballard says, the coins were welcomed as a great convenience in matters of exchange The metal in the coins was unallow so soft and pure, in fact, that it wor away very rapidly. On this account they soon disappeared from circulation almost as rapidly as they had appeared.

On one side of Mr. Ballard's relic are two clasped hands, probably symboliof brotherly love, while around the margin are the letters, "G. S. L. C. P. G.," standing for "Great Salt Lake Ca ifornia Pure Gold." Below the clasped hands are the words, "five dollars," at the date "1849." On the other side, in the center of the coin is the all-seeing cye, and below that a bechive, while around the margin are these words "Holiness to the Lord." Mr. Ballard has had some trouble in keeping his coin-Once he accidentally lost the keepsake but was lucky enough to find it again. Another time a thief got into his house and took all the money from his pocket-

CALIFORNIA'S QUEER CAVERN Wonder of the Pacific Coast Which Ha Never Been Explored.

On the north side of Table mountai and near its top is an opening in the lava that has since its early days been known as "the lion's den." It was s named from the fact that for years i vas the lair of a band of ferocious Cal ifornia lions that, when the country was largely devoted to sheep raising unde mighty depredations upon the locks and caused the owners much anoyance and loss. When pursued the nimals would seek refuge in this der nd no hunter would dare to enter it. The ground about the entrance was overed with the bones and remnants d sheep and other animals. With the acrease of population the lions have radually disappeared, although as late s last spring two of the animals were een to enter the cave. Oroville Merury says no known man has ever penstrated this cave to its fullest depth. The month is about four or five feet high and three feet wide and the openig descends with a sharp decline for bout two hundred feet. Further than his it has never been explored. Now, owever, a party of young men have ade arrangements to explore it, and, possible, penetrate to its bottom. That it is of great depth is certain. for ne can stand at the opening and heave reat stones down the declivity and the and will gradually die away in the listance. The young men have proured several hundred feet of ropes, orches and ladders and will thoroughly xplore the cavern. What adds a peculiar interest to the xpedition and gives zest to the exploris is the well-known fact that in the evdey of his career as a bandit Joaquin Murietta and his band of faithful folowers made the recesses of Table
