-A sad accident occurred at the Penn-Thursday evening. Two little children of the Rev. W. R. Funk, pastor of the United bretheren Church, were crossing the track when a local freight caught them and carried the little ones, the one a girl aged and other a boy of 5 years, a distance of 50 yards. Both were living when picked up, but the pyhiscians says the little girl will die and have slight hopes for the boy. The little ones were going on an errand of charity, having been sent by their mother to an old member of the church who is lying sick, with a basket containing a few dainties.

Ballet Reform. The Pennsylvania Ballot Reform Association has issued the following address covering the proposed changes in the law

To the voters of Pennsulvania: The general scheme of the ballot reform law of 1891 is rooted in public approval, but, as is well known, that law does not yet secure a perfectly fair and secret ballot. To remedy its defects, a bill has been prepared by a committee of this associaion, and introduced in the state senate by Senator Baker, of Delaware county. The three most important objects of this bill

I. To secure more complete secrecy (1) equire both helper and voter to be sworn; and (2) by requiring the upper part of the may shut when he enters the compartment. 2. To secure a better form of ballot, by equiring the names of all candidates for marking separately each name voted for except in the case of presidential electors). This arrangement makes the ballot much of ground in Gallitzin borough, having smaller, more easily read, and fairer to all thereon a two-story plank house and parties and candidates than that now stable, used. The single uniform system of marking each name is the only one by which nistakes can be avoided. It is also, as the California supreme court has decided, the only constitutional system and the only one uitable for American popular govern-

3. To faciliate nominations, by allowing minations to be made by political paries that have polled one per cent, of the total vote or by the endorcement of citizens to a number equal to that percentage, but not requiring more than five hundred signatures nor less than ten.

Besides these cardinal points, a bill providing for making nominations nearer the date of the election, with less time for objections; also for the proper identification of voters, a public count of votes, protection against errors, and many improvements in matters of practical convenience It is in the interest of the whole body of citizens, and deserves the same support which was given to the original bill.

Rattroad Rumblings.

The locomotive was in town on Tuesday for the first time in two weeks a cave in of the deep cut at Lantzy's keeping them above it. The work at that place will require considerable time as the cut will have to be made much wider at the top more. Dame rumor says the Beech creek road will be built up the river from Mahaffey to Cherrytree next summer and coninued on through Indiana county to Pitts there. If so, look out for a boom for Cherrytree as a point of Interest and business the fill at the bridge continues and if the same progress is made in the future we may expect the cars here in town during the coming summer, providing the weather is favorable, -Cherrytree Record,

Canoe Place. History says that when William Pear made a purchase of a portion of Pennsylvania from the Indians it was stipulated that two surveyors were to row a canoe as far up the Susquehanna as the water would premit. It was in the summer, the water was low, and the canoe struck ground at a point in the river where the town of Cherrytree is now located. At the point of landing was a chreetree of large proportions, and from that fact the town afterwards located there was called Cherrytree. From that point one of the surveyors was to walk due west one whole day, from sun to sun, and the distance was to include the purchase. He was accompained by an agent of Penn and a number of Indains chiefs. The sun set before he reached the present location of Kittanning, and when time was called he felt flat on the ground and reached his hands forward, and at the end of his fingers a stake was planted. The line traversed by the surveyor is known as the purchase line, and passes through the northen part of this county. The old wild cherry tree stood for many years after, but some 35 years ago the river encroached on the bank, and the tree was washed out of root and floated down the river. Samuel Sebring, of this place, remembers the tree very well and drove a yoke of oxen around it frequently. The people of Cherrytree and vicinity are now anxious to have the point where the canoe stopped marked by an enduring monument, and we trust they may be succussful, as such a marker will be of use n fixing the eastern end of the purchase, and in the future prevent litigation; besides it is one of the old landmarks of the State and should be preserved as on of the important events in the history o the Commonwealth. They will ask the Legislature to appropriate $5,000 for the sylvania railroad station at Greensburg purpose, if they should get it .- Indiana

Mr. Sills came from Bedford county when quite a young man and was married to Martha Kring, a sister of the late Moses and George Kring, who proceeded him to the grave about 15 years ago. They lived intil about 1866 in Summerhill township, now Croyle), when they removed to the farm in Adams thwnship where Mr. Sills lived up till the present. Mr. Sills was an industrious, honest and upright citizen, and by his industry and economy accumulated considerable of this world's goods. He was a sincere and consciencious Christian, being a life-long member of the U. B. church. In politics he was a sincere and ardent Democrat, believing in the principles of Democracy as taught by Jefferson and Jackson, and never failed to attend an lection until the infirmities of old age prevented it. He was laid to rest in the amily cemetery at Adamsburg on Sunday.

to Gallitzin, died suddenly on Monday morning aged about 35 years. The deceased is survived by her husband and five small children. Last summer two daughters, aged 12 and 14 years, died of diphtheria. She was the daughter of Peter Sharbaugh, of Carroll township and was a most exemplary Christain lady. Her death brings sorrow not only to the family, but also to the community, in which she was, very highly esteemed. Thursday morning funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church, Gallitzin, of which the deceased was a member, after which the remains were enterred in St. Patrick's cemetery.

BALTZELLS

TO-DAY or to-morrow you will be pleased by the exhibition of some spring fabrics in our windows, especially some India silk effects in satines. They are new styles and exact copies of high priced India silks, with a beautiful lustre. Think of goods like that at 15c. a yard, and you will have an exemplification of "goods at low prices," bargains in the highest sense of the word. We do not expect them to stay with us many days, as they have no STAYING qualities. While talking about cheap cotton dress goods, stop at the Gingham counter and look at the display of really handsome patterns in all styles and shades and of fine quality, reduced to 8c. and 10c. a yard, truly wonderful bargains, and of remarkable variety to se lect from. Nothing could be prettier for home gowns, or for children's wear, and their durability is unequaled. Pass on around the end of the booth and look at the lovely spring shades in plaids, checks and bourette effects, 36 inches wide and only 50c a yard. They will make lovely costumes. Further down the aisle are some new arrivals,
